BONDS HAVE THEIR DAY.

From Present Indications They Seem to Have Carried.

Some Opposition in First and Seventh Wards---Vote Is Light.

From present indications throughout the city the park bond proposition has carried by more than a two-thirds vote. In fact in several precincts at this writing the vote is unanimous. Though the evening train vote may possibly somewhat alter the complexion of affairs, still it is almost a safe prediction that Oakland will secure its needed parks through the vote of today.

About the only opposition of any consequence seems to be in the First ward, where some citizens desire the West Oakland marsh improved to the exclusion of other portions of the city. However, as the plan is to devote $10,000 to the betterment of the marsh, much of the opposition has been overcome, and from appearance up to 3 o'clock the vote was about even each way, if anything, inclining toward bonds.

The Seventh ward is satisfied and showed itself to be in with the march of improvement by rolling up a fair-sized vote early in favor of the bonds. At Twenty-third avenue parks were not so greatly in favor and some opposition was manifest.

A general poll of the wards up to 3 o'clock showed the sentiment to be about as follows:

First ward, even; Second ward, from ten to twenty to one in favor of bonds; Third ward, approximately four to one in favor; Fourth ward, estimated at three to one in favor; Fifth ward, eight to one in favor; Sixth ward, four to one in favor; Seventh ward, five to one in favor. This readily shows that the proposition has carried so far and unless the evening vote materially changes matters, the lead cannot be overcome.

The vote today is a light one, though in some portions of the city considerable interest is taken.

All the saloons are closed and on the whole the election is a very quiet one.

An idea of the voting can better be determined by the results at the various polling places.

FIRST WARD.

In the first precinct of the First ward the voting was light but in favor of the bonds. About seventy votes were cast up to 1 o'clock. Among the workers for the bonds were Emil Nusbaumer, H. W. Thomas, J. F. Holderer and Frank Mott. There were no opposition workers.

In the seventh precinct of the First ward the polling was to two to one for the bonds without the aid of workers. At 1 o'clock about seventy-five votes had been cast.

In the third and fourth precincts of the First ward there were seventy-five votes cast. It was the general opinion that the bonds were running even. There were no workers either way.

SECOND WARD.

In the eighth precinct of the Second ward the voting was better at 1 o'clock. About 200 votes had been cast. There is practically no opposition to the bonds. It is estimated that they will carry by twenty to one. Those working for the bonds are R. F. Marshall, W. L. Elliott, R. M. Prial, W. E. Hoogs, B. F. Marston, W. H. H. Hussey, P. M. Fisher, F. Roberts, W. W. Cameron, A. M. Drinkwater. There were no workers against the bonds.

In the third and fourth precincts the voting was light. About ninety votes were cast at 1 o'clock. The general opinion is that the bonds will carry handsomely. There were no opposition workers. Those working for the bonds were M. J. Hallahan, G. B. Ingersol, E. J. Parker, Al Williams, Wm. Feeney, John Breen, Al Duncan, P. Bawley, Wm. Sullivan, T. Callahan, J. W. McNeil, M. De Pass, Fred Cook, Chas. Tower, Mat Tracy, J. Summers and Wm. Black.

THIRD WARD.

In the Third Ward, Fifth, Sixth, and part of the Seventh precincts, about 140 votes were cast at 1 o'clock. The prevailing opinion is that the bonds will carry by 4 to 1. Those working for the bonds were: F. C. Johns, A. P. Leach, H. W. Pulcifer, E. C. Vincent. F. A. Holton, Colonel J. L. Lyon was working against the bonds.

FOURTH WARD.

In the first precinct of the Fourth Ward, there were no workers on either side. About 110 votes had been cast at 1 o'clock. The bonds were then slightly ahead.

In the Sixth Precinct about fifty votes were cast. The voting was very quiet. There were no workers for or against the bonds. The general opinion was that the bonds would carry.

In the Fifth and Seventh precincts, the voting was 3 to 1 in favor of the bonds. At 1 o'clock about 120 votes had been cast. Those working for the bonds were J. H. Clay, W. D. Heitman, C. H. Brosnahan, and Henry Bartells. L. G. Harvey and C. R. Potts were working against them.

In the Second precinct the general opinion was that the bonds would hold their own and probably have a small majority. At 1 o'clock about 110 votes had been cast. D. W. Standeford, S. F. Gemmell, John Moore, and F. Hoffman were working for the bonds and Frank Silva and F. L. King against them.

FIFTH WARD.

The Fifth Ward will give a big majority for bonds. The precinct polling place at the City Hall had 142 votes recorded at 10 o'clock, of which number fully 100 were said to be favorable. Clarence Crowell, Abe Leach and several others took an active interest in the support of the measure.

The second precinct, Fourteenth and Webster streets, had 135 votes recorded at the same hour. According to careful observers, they were unanimous for bonds. Montell Taylor was an active worker there.

The third precinct, polling place at Shellhaas' store, had tallied 79 ballots by 10 o'clock, of which number fully three-fourths were for bonds.

SIXTH WARD.

The Sixth Ward was on the progressive side of the tally sheet at 2 o'clock, and there is no reason to doubt its remaining there when the polls close. A very light vote was cast here in each of the four precincts, located at 512 Seventh street, 750 Webster street, 407 Eighth street, and Eighth and Alice streets. An example of the light vote was noticeable at the polling place under the Galindo Hotel, where at 2 o'clock only seventy-five votes had been cast. These were, in the main, favorable.

SEVENTH WARD.

The Seventh Ward will be one of the doubtful ones until the ballots are counted, as the evening vote is a heavy and uncertain one. However, at 10 o'clock, the entire ward was going favorably to the issue, though at Twenty-third avenue there was not so much of a majority.

The first precinct, 303 East Twelfth street, had 150 votes polled by 10 o'clock, of which number it was asserted that not more than twenty were unfavorable.

In the second precinct, 580 Twelfth street, 135 votes were recorded at the same time. The majority here was largely in favor.

The third precinct, 1128 Thirteenth avenue, had tallied 133, also with a big percentage for bonds.

The fourth precinct, at Twenty-third avenue, was very much closer, and the vote was light.

W. B. Pringle and M. J. Laymance were in charge of the work for the parks in this ward.

PROMINENT WORKERS.

The polls close at 5 o'clock to-night, and the result, from all over the city, will probably be known definitely by 7:30 o'clock.

Among the citizens who were actively aiding the bond issue were the following, who spent their time at the polls during the afternoon: E. A. Heron, G. B. M. Gray, W. G. Hawkett, J. H. Aydelotte, Al Williams, Cary Howard, H. E. Robbins, Geo. Schammel, Bill Nye, E. Collins, H. F. Gordon, Gates Vogt, R. Jones, A. G. Chew, Chas. Bock, Geo. F. Neece, W. H. High, Geo. W. Reed, S. D. Bassett, J. G. Chestnut, F. Senram, F. M. Umphred, P. W. Anderson, E. J. Cotton, W. D. Hamilton, Lyman W. Condon, E. E. Bunce, Jno. P. Wright, Arthur R. Wilson, Jno. Rohan, C. P. Kern, E. W. Woodward, J. L. Ransom, Fred Sandelin, G. W. Fisher, E. A. Pasbe, Ward L. Pelton, W. D. Huntington, C. D. Bates, A. M. Drinkwater, B. McDermott Jr., H. Schellhaas, W. Adams, W. F. Kroll, Geo. S. Meredith, F. Barnett, Charles G. Reed, J. J. Hanifin, J. E. Johnston, J. M. English, Fred Becker, E. C. Thurber, J. Johnson, W. B. Greenbaum, E. S. Finch, W. B. English, Jas. Moffitt, Jas. C. McKee, A. H. Ackerman, F. W. Stromberg, W. D. Frost, W. W. Crane, A. A. Williams, Dr. Woolsey, G. Beckert, John Lyons, P. H. Felly, A. Koenig, W. G. Manuel, D. F. Oliver, Geo. C. Edwards, D. W. Standeford, L. G. Burpee, F. S. Osgood, W. H. Quinn, R. A. Jackson, J. A. Johnston, B. Noyes, Chas. C. Fisher, J. F. W. Soast, A. L. McPherson, A. M. Benham, E. J. Boyes, M. D., C. Bruce, Harrison Clay, W. J. Wilcox, M. D., W. B. Harrub, R. S. Knight, J. C. Lane.

TEMESCAL.

In Temescal the voting is light. About eighty votes were cast at 2:30 o'clock. The bonds are said to be carrying easily. Those working for the bonds are Howard Wright, Jeff Green and W. S. Roberts. There are no workers against the bonds.

RETURNS OF THE BOND ELECTION.

The returns of the bond election will be received at the Tribune office just as soon as the votes are counted.

THE HEBREW FAIR WAS A SUCCESS.

The Hebrew Fair closed Thursday night with a social dance. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the First Hebrew Congregation, under whose auspices the affair was held, are highly pleased with the success which has attended their efforts. All the goods which were displayed have been disposed of, and the whole proceeding has been an unqualified success both financially and socially.

The vote for the most popular young lady resulted in favor of Miss Cecila Abrahamson.

The dance was largely attended and the guests made merry till a late hour. Among those noticed in the large gathering were Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Samuels, Mr. and Mrs. E. Schwartzbaum, Mr. and Mrs. M. Levy, Mr. and Mrs. A. Alexander, Miss G. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bernstein, Mr. and Mrs. Block, Mr. and Miss Haas, Mr. and Mrs. L. Cohn, H. ### An Aged Inmate Turns on the Man Who Helped Him.

Did Not Like the Idea of Being Sent Away From the Hospital.

The investigation just ended by the Grand Jury has not been without expense to the county of Alameda. In fact, it has proven the most costly inquiry of the kind ever known. Last year the total cost of Grand Juries in this county was $2,324. The cost of this Grand Jury alone will be little less than double that sum.

The bills of the Grand Jurors as presented this far are as follows:

M. W. Dickson, $322.10; Albert Weymouth, $346.50; Joseph Harris, $125.65; J. E. Crooks, $208.60; C. S. Long, $130.90; M. W. Wood, $143.80; D. L. Randolph, $36.60; J. C. Estey, $130.45; P. Bartlett, $123.80; A. S. MacDonald, $119.20; W. F. Crowell, $127.65; Jacob Hoesk, $143.50; G. B. Daniels, $130.80; J. F. Storer, $132.10, and J. Tyrrell, $156.55.

Expert Dunshee's work will cost $1,250. The stenographer's fees will amount to $50 more.

Besides these items there are one or two not yet presented, including the bill of the late F. K. Shattuck, who served upon the jury. Then there are many bills for witnesses not yet audited. These will aggregate a large amount.

DAMAGES FOR THE LOSS OF A YOUNG WIFE.

Martial Davoust has brought suit in the Superior Court to recover $50,000 damages from the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Company and the City of Alameda for the awful electrocution of his young wife on the 28th of last September. Gross carelessness of the agents of the defendant corporations is alleged.

The particulars of this tragedy are yet fresh in the public mind. On the evening mentioned, Mrs. Davoust strolled from her Alameda home to greet her husband at the local station. As is her custom she crossed a vacant lot just off Pearl street, little dreaming of the presence of a stray wire. Suddenly she stepped on the unseen coil and was so severely shocked that she could not free herself from the tangled wire. The woman's screams attracted a crowd, among them her husband, but they were powerless to release her. Before the gaze of all, Mrs. Davoust was literally roasted alive.

Rich In Resorces.

Oakland's State Exposition will be opened on the 11th of November and it will exceed in interest any of the industrial fairs yet held in that city. Alameda county is rich in natural resources, manufactural industries and the enterprise of her citizens.—San Jose Mercury.

What it Cost to Make an Investigation of Affairs.

Merlin Flora, an aged inmate of the County Infirmary is pacing the floors of the County Jail with a charge of assault against him. Yesterday afternoon he stabbed George Cook, his nurse, inflicting a wound over the heart that is considered very serious. The weapon used was an old table knife sharpened at the end.

Flora's attack on the nurse was due to anger aroused by orders to leave the institution of which he had been an inmate for two years. He had a special grievance against Cook, but only assaulted him because he was at hand. The chance was offered when Cook stopped the old fellow at the gate to search his baggage. Flora objected to this indignity and without a word of warning plunged a knife into Cook's breast.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Naval Constructor Hobson arrived in this city today from Philadelphia, where he took part in the Peace Jubilee. This afternoon he appeared before the Board of Naval Bureau Chiefs for the purpose of explaining the condition of the Spanish ships wrecked off the coast of Santiago. It is said that over a million dollars will be needed to continue the operations, and the Secretary of the Navy desires to know what chance there is of success before making the expenditure of such a large amount. The action of the Government will be based on the bureau chiefs' examination of Naval Constructor Hobson.

PHILIPPINES OUR PROPERTY.

McKinley at Last Resolves to Keep the Entire Archipelago.

Convinced by His Western Trip That Public Sentiment Is All That Way.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A special to the Herald from Washington says:

President McKinley is convinced that there is no way to escape the responsibility of taking all of the Philippines. He has arrived at this conclusion after mature deliberation. He at first favored keeping nothing more than a naval base, and thought that the United States should in no event retain more than the island of Luzon.

When the American Peace Commissioners left for Paris it was understood that they should demand from the Spanish government more than the absolute cession of this one island to the United States and a reversionary interest in the other islands of the group.

It has been found, however, that there were many practical difficulties in the way of such a solution, not the least of them being the evident impossibility of the Spanish re-establishing authority over the remaining islands without a prolonged and bloody struggle with the Insurgents.

The President has been deluged with letters from all part of the United States, urging that he should keep the islands. In the same line the President's recent trip was a revelation to him and the members of the Cabinet who accompanied him. The further he went West, the stronger he found the sentiment in favor of holding all the Philippines and establishing an American protectorate over them. Secretary Gage, who went West before the President, and who went as far as Denver, found the sentiment there even stronger than in Omaha.

In all the meetings of the Cabinet before the Peace Commissioners left for Paris, Secretary Gage was the most conservative of the Cabinet. He doubted the wisdom of taking even as much as the island of Luzon, and would have been glad if a way had been found of relinquishing all the Philippines. Since his return from the West however, he is an advocate of holding all the islands.

Although it has been finally determined that the Philippines shall be retained and the Peace Commissioners should be given considerable latitude as to the terms on which they are to be retained, the Philippines are regarded as standing on a different basis from Cuba and Porto Rico, and some of the members of the Commission believe that if all the islands are taken Spain should be given some measure of compensation for them, especially as the Philippines have been by far the most valuable of all her colonies, and it can be said that it is quite probable that the American commissioners will go so far as to offer to pledge the United States to assume the Philippine debt or at least such portion of it as had been expended on public improvements in the islands.

The exact amount of the debt that is to be properly charged to the United States could not be accurately stated without a fuller analysis of this debt than has been made, but it is believed that it is less than $40,000,000.

AT TABERNACLE TONIGHT.

Tonight Henry T. Gage, the Republican standard bearer, will visit Oakland. He will be accompanied by Jacob Neff, his running mate, and both will speak at the Tabernacle. This will be the last visit to Oakland prior to election day of the heads of the ticket, and a fitting demonstration has been arranged in their honor. George C. Pardee will be chairman of the meeting.

All loyal Republicans should be on hand to rally around their leaders and make the mass meeting one of the largest ever held in this county, the banner one of the whole State.

That the event will be of great benefit to the party every one appreciates, and in consequence more than the usual elaborate plans have been made. First, there is to be the big torchlight parade, in which all the marching clubs of this city and county will participate. This in itself will be a feature well worthy of seeing. Fireworks, booming cannon and martial music from brass bands will add to the effectiveness. Marston Campbell will be the grand marshal and J. N. Mitchell chief aide. The line of march will be on Twelfth to Franklin, to Fourteenth, to Athenian Club, where Hon. Henry T. Gage will be received; thence down Washington to Sixth, to Broadway, to Fourteenth, to Harrison to Twelfth, to Tabernacle.

The order of the parade will be as follows:

Grand Marshal and Aides.
Band.
Union League Drill Corps.
Carriages with Guests.
Republican Alliance.
Oakland, Dewey and Alameda Camps, Army and Navy Republican Leagues.

SECOND DIVISION.

Captain William Downey, Chief of Division.
Young Men's Republican League.
Visiting Organizations.
Artillery.
Ward Clubs in Their Numerical Order.
Fire Wagons.

At the Tabernacle seats will be reserved for ladies and the clubs, while on the stage will be seated the vice presidents behind the speakers of the evening and the chairman.

The meeting is sure to be one of great interest and a credit to Oakland.

A WORD TO VOTERS.

County Clerk Frank C. Jordan is now addressing envelopes, containing the Constitutional amendments and sample ballots, to the voters of the county. With these the Clerk is sending out at his own expense a statement to each voter, showing the ward and precinct in which he lives and his polling place as well as voting number. In speaking of the matter, County Clerk Jordan said:

"This is my last official communication with the individual electors of the county before they go to the polls to vote on November 8th. I hope that they will do me the justice to admit that in furnishing this information gratuitously I have put myself to a great deal of extra expense and trouble for their benefit."

THE STATE VOTE.

The State vote at previous elections is a matter of interest just at present. Following are the figures for 1894 and 1896:

In 1894 the vote of California was: Republican, 110,738; Democrats, 111,944; Populist, 49,734; Prohibition, 8,262.

In 1896 it was: Republican, 146,170; Fusion, 143,373; Gold Democrats, 2,006; Prohibition, 2,573. Total vote in 1896 was 294,122.

NARROW GAUGE TRAIN MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT

There was another accident on the narrow gauge local in this city this morning between Eleventh and Twelfth streets on Webster. The engine and some of the trucks of two of the cars went off the track and ran for a distance of about 200 feet when the train finally was brought to a standstill with the tender and engine extending across Twelfth street.

The train consisted of engine 23, Lorenzen in charge, which was running toward the Fourteenth street depot on the 9:45 o'clock trip. There were five coaches in the train. Every thing went well until a temporary frog over which the train passes from the east to the west track, preparatory to rounding the curve into the depot ground, was reached.

The tender was in the lead and its wheels made the crossing in safety. The hind trucks on the east side of the engine, however, struck the east side of the point of the frog and ran thence along the outside of the connecting rail. This, of course, had a tendency to jerk the west trucks off the rail on which they were running. Inside the west rail was a guard rail fifteen feet in length intended to prevent the wheels on the west side from leaving the track. This guard rail, however, was forced out of place by the power exerted against it, and as a consequence, the west wheels bumped over the ties, as did those on the other side of the engine.

The first car, however, notwithstanding the pressure exerted by the sideward movement of the engine, remained on the track, as did the fourth and fifth cars. The rear trucks of the second and the forward trucks of the third car jumped the track and those trucks, too, bumped over the rails.

The train had considerable headway at the time. Steam was shut off immediately but the momentum of the train carried it along. At one time the engine sank deep in the earth and was almost overturned, but it finally reached the solid roadway of Twelfth street and there stood erect.

The passengers were not frightened, because only a few realized that anything had gone wrong before the train was brought to a standstill. They immediately walked away from the scene.

Engine 19 was ordered from the mole. It pulled the care to the depot, and then, with the aid of wrecking appliances, pulled engine 23 and the derailed cars on to the track again.

The cars were not injured and the engine was not damaged.

The accident was caused by a defect in the frog which was replaced by another frog later.

Republican County Candidates Given a Fine Reception.

The Work of J. R. Talcott Appreciated by Electors in the Country Districts.

The Republican candidates visited Elmhurst last night. The citizens turned out in force and gave them a royal welcome. The Oakland Junior Band was on hand and enlivened the evening with several patriotic airs. After witnessing a fine display of fireworks the crowd gathered in Odd Fellows' Hall to listen to the speeches. The candidates were roundly cheered as they appeared on the platform.

The meeting was called to order by Frank Storer, who made a few opening remarks. He said: "This is the first time this organization has assembled since the convention at San Leandro. Before that time we had our own various favorites whom we wished to see in office. But now I hope we all stand united in the support of the ticket which the Republicans have nominated." (Applause.)

S. D. WATERMAN.

S. D. Waterman was the first speaker. He spoke of loyalty to party and said that now, if ever, was the time that the voters should be loyal to the Republican ticket. He then referred to his qualifications for the office of Superintendent of Schools, saying he is a Republican, had always been one, and had twenty-eight years' experience in the schools of this State. In concluding, Mr. Waterman said: "I think I am entitled to the Republican vote, and if you stand by the party I have no fear of the result."

The Young Men's Republican League Quartette was then called upon, and was enthusiastically received.

H. P. DALTON.

H. P. Dalton then made a few remarks. He said in part: "Four years ago, when I was running for the office of Assessor, I was told that there were several abuses connected with the office. When I took the office I found this to be true. I have, during the past four years, been trying to rectify these abuses as far as in my power. If you approve of my record, I ask for your support."

JUDGE J. J. ALLEN.

Judge J. J. Allen spoke in part as follows: "The time is now approaching when you will be called upon to select the men who will fill the offices during the next four years. This is the reason we come before you this evening. We come as representatives of the Republican party. When you consider the record of this party and look upon what the party has done for the betterment of the country, I think that you will see that you will best subserve your own interests by voting for the nominees of that party. The Republican party has put a ticket in the field this year which has never been surpassed in the history of the county. You will not go far wrong in giving them your support."

L. D. INSKEEP.

Lorenzo D. Inskeep then said in part: "We are here as responsible nominees, and represent an organized party to which you can appeal if we do not properly conduct our offices. What reliance can you place upon a nominee of several parties, who has no fixed principles behind him? I ask you to support me for Justice of the Peace."

CHARLES H. SPEAR.

Charles H. Spear was then introduced. He said in part: "The complaint against the Supervisor has always been that he has not got all the money in the county funds. The complaint against the Supervisor from your district seems to be that he has got too much for you. I hardly see how you can object to a man using your money for your own benefit. I should think you would be glad to re-elect your Supervisor who has served you so faithfully. I refer to John P. Talcott. For myself, I am a candidate for the office of County Recorder. I submit my stewardship to you. If you believe that I have properly conducted the office, I then ask you for your suffrage."

FRANK C. JORDAN.

Frank C. Jordan was received with applause. "As you know," he said, "I am a candidate for Clerk. I have filled the office during the past four years. It was my first political office. Facts are facts, and the people will realize afterward if they do not now, that I have performed the duties of the office of Clerk faithfully and conscientiously. I have tried to arrange my office so that everyone could have the best of accommodation. If you believe that I have done well, then I ask you to return me to the office.

"I wish now to speak a few words as a citizen. I know how it is myself to be unjustly criticised. I know how it feels to work hard and not have any reward. I wish to speak of a man whom you should honor and respect at all hazards, because I know that there never was a more honorable or faithful servant of the people than J. R. Talcott." (Applause.)

"You should endorse the work of your Supervisor by re-electing him. I tell you he has done his work most conscientiously. It will be shameful and disgraceful if you fail to return him. If you do not send him back you do not deserve a good Supervisor. I tell you he is the best Supervisor the county has ever had and I doubt if you can find his equal in the State. (Applause.)

"He has been careful in detail and accurate in his work. I hope the voters in this district will bear this in mind when you go to the polls. I feel toward J. R. Talcott as a son does toward a father. I love and respect him. I want you to elect him even though you trade me off in doing so. I cannot act more fairly toward a man who has done his duty and ought to be re-elected." (Applause.)

J. R. KNOWLAND.

J. R. Knowland said: "I was born in this district and believe that I have the interests of this district at heart. I will, if elected, try as far as it is in my power to economize the expenses of government."

J. R. TALCOTT.

J. R. Talcott then made a few remarks. He said in part: "Four years ago I promised to try to conduct the affairs of the county the same as I would my own business. I have tried to do so and whether I have or not is for you to judge.

"I would like to make a statement in regard to the county roads outside the city. The opposition candidate for Supervisor has been making the statement and repeating it that there has been during the last three years $18,000 of the city's funds used for improving the roads outside the city. I tell you that not one cent of that money has been used on the county roads outside the city limits. The law provides against it and if such were the case the Grand Jury would have found the matter out for their inspection of all records was very close. In levying a tax on $85,000,000, over $65,000,000 was inside the corporate limits of cities, leaving less than $20,000,000 levied in the country. On that amount the road tax levy this year has been thirty-three cents on the $100 worth of property. That is all that the Supervisors can use. Now there is a great deal of territory to cover and if this amount is spread over all of it evenly there would be very little to show. The Board decided that out of the reserve fund that permanent improvements should be made. You can find some of this work in every district. There is a mile of this in Fruitvale, nearly a mile in Brooklyn, and in Haywards another piece has been started. When we began this work we hoped to get one line finished but the funds gave out. The amount of tax raised in the Haywards district was small and did not go very far. Of the city tax on $65,000,000 the Supervisors can set aside as much as thirty-five per cent for a general road fund. Our amount this year will be about fifteen per cent, which will be about $10,000 which goes to that fund. Right here I wish to explain the difference between the county road fund and the general road fund as there seems to be some misunderstanding about those terms. The county road fund is for the county alone, while the general fund may be used for roads anywhere if the Supervisors so decide by a vote of three out of the five. The general fund should be called the emergency fund so as not to be misleading to the people. The Supervisor of a district can use the balance of the county fund for the roads of his district only but he can also use the general fund for the building of bridges and for sprinkling purposes. Our board has probably done more in the latter line than other boards, but we have done only what we deemed necessary for the good of the county. I had another matter which I wished to speak about, but as the hour is growing late and there are other candidates who wish to be heard I will retire in their favor." (Applause.)

E. K. TAYLOR.

E. K. Taylor said: "Until the day of election the duty of self government rests upon you. After election I hope you will shift the burden upon the candidates who are here. From the way you have received the candidates I see that you also realize that it is a Republican year. I hope you will support the entire ticket on November 8th."

JAMES B. BARBER.

James B. Barber said: "During the past four years I have endeavored to perform the duties of Tax Collector. If re-elected I will do the same in the future."

B. C. Hawes spoke as follows: "I have no record in a political way. I can only refer you to my record as a citizen. If that is satisfactory I shall be grateful for your support.

"In regard to your Supervisor I will say that I know him to be perfectly honest and he has done more work for the county than any other man who has held that office."

J. CAL. EWING.

J. Cal Ewing said: "I am here to present myself to you as a candidate for Auditor standing on the Republican platform alone, without the endorsement of Fusion or any other party. As such I ask your support. Every true Republican in Alameda county should stand by the straight ticket. This independent movement is a result of a number of soreheads and should not be tolerated."

A. W. FEIDLER.

Arthur W. Feidler said in part: "I am before you as the Republican nominee for Treasurer. If you Republicans stand by the party I feel that I will fill that office during the next four years."

DR. MEHRMANN.

Dr. H. B. Mehrmann referred to the success which had attended all the Republican meetings throughout the country towns. He gave as the reason that the Republican party had put an exceptionally good ticket in the field and would seem strange to him if one of them failed to be elected.

GEORGE L. NUSBAUMER.

George L. Nusbaumer said he had been Surveyor for eighteen years and was a candidate for re-election once more. He then spoke of the work of Supervisor Talcott in the highest terms. "Some of the roads he has put in this county will last one thousand years," he said. "If I were a tax-payer in this district I would want no better man to spend my money than J. R. Talcott."

OSCAR ROGERS.

Oscar L. Rogers said if elected Sheriff he would endeavor to the best of his ability to give the people a just and efficient administration of that office.

After a few remarks by Paul W. Wuthe and Harry Cramer, candidates for Constables, the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the nominees.

DREYFUS IS TO BE GIVEN A NEW TRIAL.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The Court of Cassation has decided to grant a revision of the Dreyfus case, and will institute a supplementary inquiry. The court, however, has declined to order the release of Dreyfus.

M. Yvos Guyot, in the Siecle, to-day asserts that secret documents in the Dreyfus case were burned some days ago.

ARGUMENT CONTINUED.

PARIS, Oct. 29.—At the opening of the Court of Cassation to-day, M. Mornau resumed his argument in behalf of the Dreyfus family, insisting that the bordereau was not in the handwriting of Dreyfus nor an imitation by him of the writing of Major Esterhazy. The latter hypothesis, counsel continued, was absolutely improbable. If it was an imitation, the author of it must be a third party. If it was no imitation, the author of the bordereau, he added, can only be Major Esterhazy himself. Continuing, Mornaux pointed out that the honor of the army was not involved in the doings of the court-martial, as, like other courts, it can err without their honor suffering. After Monaux had closed his argument, the court adjourned.

THE EXPOSITION BOUND TO BE A GRAND SUCCESS

Many Novel Features Will Make It Attractive.

The Model Kitchen and Pure Food Exhibit Attracts Attention.

ART EXHIBIT TO BE A FEATURE.

Carnival Parade Will Be Made a Memorable Event in the City's History.

The Board of Directors of the Oakland Exposition held an adjourned meeting in the office of the manager last evening. The reports of the various officers and committees show a decided interest in the affair, and everything now points to a most successful season.

The manager's report shows that barely a quarter of the space is left for exhibits, with prospects that it will all be taken before another week passes. This report stated further that wherever the representatives of the Exposition had called upon the business people they had been received kindly and in a spirit which showed the people are interested.

The model kitchen is to be a great feature of the Exposition. It will be under the auspices of the State Board of Health and the Oakland Board of Health. The manager stated that a Miss Davis, a teacher in cookery, could be secured for the evenings. The matter was left in the hands of the manager to report at the next meeting.

The contracts for the conduct of the art exhibit were submitted by Manager Gray and the same adopted.

In speaking of the art exhibit M. J. Keller said there had been an impression abroad that the regular artists were not going to exhibit, and that all the exhibits made would come from the Sketch Club. This he said was a mistake, as he had the assurance of an artist that the regulars were taking a decided interest in the show and would make exhibits.

A communication was received from T. H. Goodwin, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific Company, in regard to reduced rates. He suggested that the exhibition send solicitors out into the county towns and get up carload excursions. In that way they could secure a reduced rate, which could not be granted otherwise.

C. D. Sewell was selected as a ticket agent.

John A. Britton of the Buildings Committee, reported that a sounding board could be put in for from $50 to $60. The matter was left in his hands with authority to purchase.

The contract for wiring the buildings for electric lights was awarded to C. J. King.

The decorations committee was authorized to have the bunting in the Tabernacle replaced with fire proof material.

The matter of the trades parade was then taken up and discussed by John T. Bell, who said the parade could be made a great feature by making it a sort of peace jubilee. He suggested that invitations be sent to the City Council and city officials, county officials, all trade and fraternal organizations, etc.

The manager has filed the following report:

"The following business houses will take part in the trade parade:

"Tesla Coal Co., ten employees, ten wagons.

"People's Express, twenty employees, ten wagons.

Theo Gier Co., ten employees, five wagons.

"Goldberg, Bowen & Co., eighteen employees, six wagons.

"Sherman, Clay & Co., ten employees, three wagons.

"Davis & Williams, twelve employees, ten wagons.

"Standard Biscuit Co., four employees, two four-horse wagons.

"Oakland Parcel Delivery, ten employees, ten two, four and eight horse wagons.

"Grand Rule Bazaar, four employees, two wagons.

"Geo. A. J. Davis, six employees, three wagons.

"Fred Becker, considering.

"James A. Joyce, dry goods, considering float.

"Taft & Pennoyer will take up matter of reproducing their house on a float.

"Lace House, considering float reproduction of their house in lace.

"Olson Bros. will have special float.

"Lehnhardt, float representing candy manufacture.

"Oakland Bottling Company, considering.

"F. H. Bruning, considering.

"Cushing, considering.

"Contra Costa Laundry, considering.

"Cascade Laundry, considering.

"Fire Department will take part.

"Captain Fletcher with sixteen police officers.

"Jones' Bazaar, two wagons.

"Telephone Co., ten men, two wagons.

"Abrahamson, too busy.

"Kahn Bros., too busy.

"Enquirer, float.

"Tribune, float.

"Mayor, City Council, and officials.

"San Francisco papers, considering.

"Breweries in hands of Mr. Gier.

"Walter Morosco, forty-horse team."

G. D. White was appointed assistant secretary.

Among the special features will be a butchers' contest, wherein the prize will be given to the best meat cutter. The meat so used is to be distributed among the poor. There will also be a contest for home-made bread, as well as professional bakers; also a millinery contest.

The following letter has been sent to all organizations throughout the State:

"Dear Sir:—The arrangements for the approaching Exposition are being rapidly developed, and the ten committees are all hard at work completing the numerous details of the many and diverse attractions, which promise to make this one the most thorough and enjoyable Exposition ever held in the State.

"To that end we desire, at this early date, to inaugurate the movement looking toward the arrangements of one of the most prominent features of the past years, to-wit, "special days." These assemblages of the citizens and neighbors of the different cities, towns, or townships in pleasant reunion have always been very enjoyable occasions, and we intend to make those of this year still more so.

"We therefore hope that you, as one of the prominent residents, will consult with other public-spirited and wide-awake citizens and join in making the day set aside for your organization one of the greatest days in the history of the Exposition. Kindly make up a bright and condensed programme of entertainment for the day, from among your own local talent in the musical and literary line, as soon as possible, so that ample time may be given for thorough advertising, etc. The following prizes will be awarded to the committee of the association or organization having the largest attendance on a "special day" during the Exposition: First prize, $100; second prize, $75; third prize, $50; fourth prize, $25.

"When your programme has been made up, please send a copy at once to E. W. Morrison, Assistant Manager, care of the Exposition."

The following notice will prove of interest to ladies:

"Three booths in the main building, each 10 by 16 feet are to be handsomely decorated, and the free use thereof given to the various charitable institutions, churches, etc., of the city for the sale of different articles, the only restriction being that such sale shall not conflict with the rights of concessionairs. Those interested in the matter will confer a favor upon the Directors by calling on the Manager at the Exposition building as soon as possible.

"The 'Model Kitchen,' which will occupy considerable space in 'Manufacturers' Hall,' will be one of the chief attractions of the Exposition. It will be supplied with the latest appliances in the culinary line, and there will be lectures every afternoon and evening with practical illustrations. The cooking department of last year's Exposition attracted much attention and was productive of great good; this year this feature will be enlarged upon and improved."

The following Directors were present at the meeting last evening: J. W. Nelson, E. G. Buswell, M. J. Keller, John A. Britton, H. O. Trowbridge, John T. Bell, Theo. Gier, Craigie Sharp, George Roeth.

COL. GEO. E. WARING DIES OF YELLOW FEVER.

He Expires Early This Morning at His New York Home.

Caught the Disease While on Official Duty at Honolulu.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Colonel George E. Waring, Jr., died of Yellow fever today at his home in this city.

He was 67 years of age.

Dr. Blauvelt, who has been attending Colonel Waring during his illness, was summoned to the house at 1 o'clock this morning. He found that the Colonel had been attacked with vomiting, which he kept up all the morning. Everything possible was done without avail.

He had been sent to Havana for the Government to ascertain the exact sanitary conditions of that dirty and formidable city and the best methods of putting it in first-class sanitary shape. He was to report to the President, and on the day he returned he said he expected to go to Washington next day. He said he felt unwell, but it was not thought he had an unordinary illness. He said he had a great deal of information which he thought would be of great service to the President.

Colonel Waring was apparently in good health when he left Havana. When he reached here he was obliged to take to his bed. It was then discovered that he was suffering from yellow fever.

Three hours after the death of Colonel Waring his body, enclosed in a metallic casket, was taken from the apartment to the dock at the foot of Fifteenth street, on the quarantine boat which was in waiting. The body was placed on board and taken to Swinburne island. It was there placed in a retort, and Dr. Doty started a fire which cremated the remains.

As soon as the body had been removed from the house the apartments of the Warings were fumigated.

The doctors at first did not think that the case was a malignant one. When Colonel Waring's temperature rose to 105½, however, the physicians became alarmed. It was plain that the patient was getting worse. The black vomit, the most serious symptom, was fought off until 1 o'clock.

(Colonel Waring was installed as Street Commissioner of New York city as a result of the Tammany Waterloo of 1894 that swept Mayor Strong into office. He proved the most efficient official that ever held the position, and New York's streets are today models of cleanliness instead of the public shame they were when Colonel Waring took office. On the return of Croker to power Colonel Waring was forced out to make room for a Tammany man.)

MOTHER AND BABY FALL DOWN STAIRS.

Mrs. Joe Enos of Mt. Eden, with her 18-months-old baby in her arms, fell down the cellar stairs in Davis' grocery, corner Ninth and Washington streets, shortly after noon to-day. Mrs. Enos was slightly bruised about the face, and arms, but the baby's skull is fractured and it will probably die.

In speaking of the accident, Mrs. Enos said:

"I went out the back door of the store, and as it is quite dark I did not notice the cellar way. When I was coming in I had my baby on my left arm in such a way that I could not see the stairs, and walked off the side, falling to the bottom of the flight with the baby under me. I hardly know what happened after that, but I do not feel very sore except on my left arm."

Both mother and child were taken to Dr. Church's office, 518 Tenth street, by Patrolman Hynes. It was found that the child's skull was fractured.

Dr. Sharp and Dr. Church performed the operation of trepanning in hopes of saving the little one's life.

The husband of Mrs. Enos was telephoned for at once.

EXECUTION OF MORE MUSSULMANS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

CANDIA, Isle of Crete, Oct. 29.—Five more of the Mussulmans convicted of taking part in the massacre of British soldiers on September 6th were executed today. In addition four Bashi-Bazouks have been sentenced to a year's imprisonment at hard labor.

Since the departure of the Turkish troops a number of guilty Mussulmans have been discovered in Italy. It appears that the Turkish officers appropriated the valuables looted by their soldiers.

Dispatches from Candia on October 18th announced that seven Mussulmans were hanged there for participation in the assassination of September 6th.

VIRDEN TROUBLE MAY BE ARBITRATED.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Oct. 29.—The injunction cases against Edward A. Hill and twenty-five other miners of Virden, brought by the Chicago Virden Coal Company, enjoining the miners from interfering with the operation of the mine, were today dismissed in the Circuit Court by the complainant. It is believed this is preliminary to an effort to again arbitrate the differences between the company and employes.

STUDENTS TO RALLY FOR THE REPUBLICANS.

Preparations For the Gage and Neff Ovation.

The Campaign Song of Miss Muriel Eastman Wins First Prize.

SAM SCOFIELD'S STURDY FISTS.

Alameda Man Puts Three Footpads to Flight by Knocking One Down.

BERKELEY, Oct. 29.—The plans of the Gage Clubs of the University and Stanford for the great joint rally to be held in Woodward's Pavilion this evening received their finishing touches yesterday, and an elaborate program, printed at the expense of the State Central Committee, appeared in the college town announcing the event to the public. The speakers of the evening will be Professor C. A. Duninay of Stanford, C. E. Reith and R. C. Daniels of the University, C. S. Chandler and S. G. Bailie of Stanford, Herbert Dam of the Hastings Law School, and General W. H. L. Barnes. The candidates, Hon. Henry T. Gage and Jacob Neff, will be on the platform, as well as many prominent members of the State Central Committee.

College spirit, as well as party feeling, will not be lacking, for the meeting will follow the U. C.-Stanford freshman game, which took place this afternoon, and much of the overflowing effervescence of the students will be reserved for the evening.

The prizes offered some time ago by the students' clubs for the best written campaign songs have drawn forth many meritorious productions. The first prize of $12.50 has been awarded to Miss Muriel Eastman, a sophomore of the University of California, whose song shows a great deal of cleverness. A verse of the same is given below:

(Air: "The Jolly Sophomore.")
"In hefting", Phelan trusted, but oh, his trusts were vain.
The sacks were very heavy; he used his might and main.
Oh, Jimmy, gentle Jimmy, dear, why did you try that game?
Was it to beat the city, lad, or were your wrists just lame?
The best laid plans of mice and men do often fall apart,
The best laid plans of mice and men do often fall apart,
And that is just the reason that your colonizing failed—
Because one Supervisor just, your deep laid scheme unveiled.

"After the fusion nominee from Sacramento came,
His head was full of single tax to the summit of his brain.
He groaned to think of silver bright that he would have to give
To be of this great Golden State the Chief Executive.
A Popocratic Fusionist, a Fusion Popocrat,
A Popocratic Fusionist, a Fusion Popocrat,
I'd either be Republican or else a Democrat,
But not a measly mix-up and a Fusion Popocrat.

"They call you 'Little Giant,' but that's a misfit name,
But you can't help that, can you? Your friends must take the blame.
They try to keep you thinking that you are strong enough
To drive straight home your 'single tax,' but that is just a bluff.
A broad Gage line shall span this State from Del Norte to the South,
A broad Gage line shall span this State from Del Norte to the South,
Shall sweep away the free trade talk far from our glorious age,
And rear a lasting monument to upright Henry Gage!"

The Catholic ladies' fair is proving a great success. It is held in St. Joseph's Hall, on Addison street, each Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Special features in the way of music, recitations and specialties are given on Wednesdays and Fridays. M. J. Powell and J. M. Doyle are the hall managers. The committee on entertainment are Mrs. Henry Seekamp, Miss Kate Bryne and Mr. Centner.

Yesterday morning the portrait of Mrs. Phebe Hearst arrived in Berkeley. The picture, which is three feet square, is to be at once placed in position in the young ladies' room in East Hall.

Miss Agnes Essan of Eureka was married to John W. Simpson, an officer of the steamer Santa Rosa, at the home of Miss Ollie Koenig, 2035 Hearst avenue. Rev. Thomas P. Boyd officiated.

Lieutenant C. F. Pond, lately stationed at the navy yard in Brooklyn, N. Y., has returned with his family to Berkeley, where the latter will reside during his service in command of the Iroquois, which is to be used as a quick dispatch boat between Honolulu and San Francisco.

In case G. E. Bruns, recently appointed Postmaster at West Berkeley in place of Miss Catherine Teague, shall attempt to remove the office to his place of business, a protest will be made. A petition to that end is now in circulation.

The Hallowe'en number of the Berkeley High school publication, "Olla Podrida," is just issued. Among its contents is a half-tone portrait of Charles Volz, one of the foremost of the High school athletes.

At the Westminster League meeting in the First Presbyterian Church of Berkeley, Harry Hilliard presided in the absence of J. H. Richards. C. K. Clark made the address. It was decided to secure addresses from Irving M. Scott and Professor Keeler of the Lick Observatory.

ALAMEDA NEWS.

Sam Scofield, son of the vice president of the Pacific Coast Oil Works, had an encounter with a trio of footpads the other night that resulted more disagreeably to the would-be robbers than to their intended victim. Mr. Scofield was on his way home about midnight, and at the corner of Encinal avenue and Walnut street three men confronted him and ordered him to throw up his hands. Mr. Scofield promptly did so. He threw them up in a vicious upper-cut that landed one of the thugs on his back in the street, and his companions took to their heels.

The Alameda woman suffragists have reorganized for a fight on different lines from the campaign of two years ago. Then they demanded the ballot without qualification. Now they will be satisfied if only women property holders are allowed to vote, and they ask the right of suffrage at school elections only. The Alameda Equality Club held a reunion yesterday at the residence of ex-Assemblyman J. A. Waymire, at which a plan of action was outlined.

The Alameda Camera Club will celebrate its first anniversary next month. The occasion will be commemorated by an entertainment. A feature of the program will be an exhibition of lantern slides reproduced from pictures taken by the club members. The organization will soon occupy its new quarters in Lafayette Hall.

Rev. Alfred J. Case of Stockton and Miss Catherine Norton of this city were married Thursday evening at the home of the bride's cousin, Mrs. J. Jamieson, 2242 San Jose avenue. Rev. J. N. Beard of San Francisco officiated.

John R. Glascock, J. J. Tobin, O. M. Sanford, A. T. McDonough, O. A. Lane and E. A. Holman will address a political meeting to be held this evening at Holtz Hall, West End.

The touble over the Boys' Brigade competitive drill will not down. Although the high officers of the regiment have ordered a new drill, the officials of Company E, who have possession of the trophy, state they will hold on to it and will refuse to take part in another contest.

Nothing has yet been heard from Adolphe Goetz, the missing Stanford student. Mrs. A. H. Clark received a message from the university yesterday that he had not returned to his classes.

HART NORTH ON POLITICAL SITUATION.

Eastern People Very Much Interested in Our Elections.

Some Points About the Work of the Immigration Bureaus.

Hart N. North, Immigration Commissioner for the port of San Francisco, returned this morning from an extended trip through the Eastern States. In an interview with a Tribune reporter, he said:

"I was summoned East on business connected with my office. After a tour of inspection through the Immigration Bureaus at Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston, I reported to the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington.

"There is no comparison between the immigration at Eastern ports and that which arrives in San Francisco. They have no Asiatic immigrants, but the hordes of Russian Jews, Slavonians, Armenians, Bohemians and Italians, all recruited from the lowest dregs of their respective countries. They are far worse than anything that we have here, and they are coming into the Atlantic ports in vast numbers.

"The Treasury Department is much interested in the Chinese and Japanese question on this coast, and contemplates enforcing the law to the utmost to exclude Asiatics from the country.

"The entire Atlantic slope is tremendously interested in the political outcome, and a great deal of interest is taken in California, especially in the anticipation of an increased Congressional delegation from this State. All seemed immensely pleased at the prospects of electing a Republican Senator to succeed Stephen M. White.

"The outlook in the East is very much mixed. In New York a tremendous fight is being put up against Roosevelt, but those best informed seemed to think there is no great danger. The situation in Pennsylvania is more uncertain, as many of the people seem most ambitious to down Senator Quay, who has long been the leader of their party, even to the extent of electing a Democrat.

"Personally I had a delightful time and was royally entertained, but I was more than eager to return home. California suits me best after all. I was especially eager to get back in time to vote for the park bonds today."

OLD SOLDIERS ENDORSE WILL CHURCH.

At Becker's Hall last evening, the Army and Navy Republican League held an interesting meeting. A resolution was adopted endorsing W. H. Church for Supervisor. Addresses were made by A. A. McVeen, candidate for the Assembly from the Forty-ninth District; Judge McElroy, candidate for Township Justice of the Peace; A. W. Bishop, candidate for City Justice; J. G. Quinn, candidate for Township Justice, and others. The League voted to turn out in a body for the Tabernacle meeting to-night.

UNION FORCES AT THE TABERNACLE.

The union forces held a meeting in the Tabernacle last night.

R. M. Fitzgerald called the meeting to order. He said he believed there a great interest in the dmand for clean, honest and decent government. He introduced N. J. Manson as chairman of the evening.

Mr. Manson made a few remarks and then introduced John Aubrey Jones, candidate for Congress. Mr. Jones discussed the issues of the campaign.

Thomas Scott candidate for the State Board of Equalization, made a few remarks.

Thomas A. Stoddard, candidate for County Clerk, also made a short speech.

Addresses were made by R. M. Fitzgerald, John R. Glascock, O. M. Sanford, O. A. Lane, B. F. Calhoun and C. W. Logan.

Volunteers of America.

Mrs. Captain Rogers of the Volunteers of America, who has just returned from a trip to England, will preach the sermon Sunday evening at the tent on Broadway. Mrs. Rogers is an eloquent and forcible speaker, and her address will be of unusual interest.

"IT IS A BLESSING."

A Physician's Frank Endorsement of Warner's Safe Cure.

"All we could do was to sit and wait. I had never imagined that the hands of the clock could move so slowly."

So says a young man who tells how he watched at the bedside of his only brother. The doctor had frankly acknowledged that he could do nothing more, and, with nerves stretched to a cruel tension, the friends of the invalid counted the swings of the pendulum, wondering what the end would be. Few of us reach middle life without some such experience as this, and that is why a letter like the following will awaken a wide sympathetic interest:

KANSAS CITY, Mo., January 20th, 1898.

For nearly five years my sister, Mrs. T. H. Davis, was afflicted with cystitis and failed to find relief from physicians or their remedies. One bottle of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure afforded great benefit, and the second bottle effected complete recovery. My sister's suffering was so intense that it seemed unbearable, it being necessary at times to give hypodermic injections of morphine to afford temporary relief.

I recommended it to sufferers from liver and kidney troubles as a blessing.

JOHN R. LEWIS, M. D., 1920 E. 10th Street.

The profession and standing of the writer give much force to this letter. Dr. Lewis was born in Albermarle County, Virginia, in 1831, and has lived in Missouri since he was five years old. He has practiced medicine in St. Joseph and Kansas City. He is descended from the first Governor of Missouri.

Cystitis, from which Mrs. Davis suffered so terribly for years, is inflammation of the bladder. A peculiarity of the bladder is that it is rarely affected by a disease originating in itself. Most so-called bladder troubles are really kidney troubles.

Kidney diseases are the most mysterious of all known troubles. The fact is that the kidneys have few symptoms of their own, but possess nearly all the symptoms known to suffering humanity.

When physicians of the highest standing so unhesitatingly endorse a modern discovery which will certainly cure the most terrible diseases, does it not stand to reason that those of us who realize that we are slowly drifting into a state of decline; that our kidneys, liver or urinary organs are not what they should be, should avail ourselves of the benefits of so great a scientific discovery, which are placed so easily within our reach?

SATURDAY.....OCTOBER 29, 1898.

For the French President to ask Dupuy to form a Cabinet is not exactly a "pudding"—things cannot be cooked up over there any longer.

The woman who fed her husband glass is finding now what a sad mistake she made when she thought no one would see through her scheme.

Still another tobacco trust. The thoughts of the effect on their business when cigars start coming in free from Havana and Manila is getting the manufacturers together.

Spirits are easily materialized sometimes, as the San Francisco man who called for his wife while she was attending a seance quickly discovered. The "spirits" of departed sisters, cousins and aunts came down out of the cabinet and thumped the life almost out of him.

The report of Chairman Babcock of the Republican Congressional Committee to the effect that the Republicans will have a working majority of twenty-seven in the Fifty-sixth Congress will be more generally accepted as truthful than the one recently given out by the Democrats in which they claimed the Republicans would be seventeen short. The country is too patriotic to do anything of that kind at this particular time.

The United States Government has received an invitation from Australia to place an exhibit in the big fair that is to be held in the southern continent next year. Congress would by conferring a boon on the nation, and especially on the Pacific Coast, if arrangements were made to have a representative display there, for the United States is the country with which Australia should naturally transact the bulk of her business, all of which would, of course, come to this coast.

The ax is to fall at last, for President McKinley will belie Thanksgiving Day for some people by putting into execution about that time the long-threatened civil service amendment. Just how far-reaching it will be is impossible yet to say, but it will certainly result in sweeping changes in a large number of departments. Many people think this is but the entering of the wedge, anyhow, and that ere long all offices will be declared out of civil service except those where the incumbents, by dint of special knowledge and training, are better qualified than outsiders would be.

A damper has been put on the hopes of those soldiers who have been anticipating being ordered to Honolulu for duty. General Merriam has reported to the War Department adversely on the proposition of sending more troops there, for in his opinion, the islands are badly adapted for garrison purposes. The residents will probably be only too glad to hear of the decision, for in view of the disgraceful rowdyism of some of the soldiers already sent there, they doubtless feel that they will be much better off without any more boys in blue.

One by one the outdoor resorts across the bay are being crowded out as a result of the growth of the city. First the Bay District track was gobbled up and converted into home sites, and now the far-famed Harbor View is about to meet a similar fate. The day is not far distant when the population of Oakland will be doubled from the overflow of San Francisco alone, to say nothing of our own natural growth. The improved ferry systems will be an important factor in bringing this about, for it will be cheaper and quicker to reach Oakland than to take a long journey towards San Mateo, the only direction in which the metropolis can grow.

MAGUIRE AND THE RAILROAD

The cry of "railroad" with which Maguire hoped to swing the State into line behind his banner is echoing in a way that is disastrous to his cause. He started out the campaign with the intention and hope of proving that Henry Gage is a creature of railroad influence, and now, with the end in sight, he finds that his tactics have only resulted in the people becoming thoroughly convinced that not only is Gage not an ally of the corporation, but that he is, and always has been, the people's champion as against aggressive corporation influences.

Gage's record was enough to answer the assertions that Maguire foolishly made before he had investigated what he was talking about. The Los Angeles man not only met his opponent point for point on every issue raised, but it was shown that he had won for the people one of the greatest victories over the railroad corporation that the residents of the South had ever enjoyed. Furthermore, when the people of the State saw Gage as he went about in the course of his campaign they realized that he was not what is known as a "railroad man." He is too independent, too sincere and too frank to ever pose as one thing and be another, and the manliness of his demeanor and the ring of truth to his denials speedily convinced the people that all the talk about his being dominated by the railroad was so much bosh.

Then, again, in considering railroad issues in connection with the campaign, another point comes up that makes matters extremely interesting for Maguire. The Valley Road was started and has been operated as the people's railroad. It represents the antithesis of Southern Pacific sentiment, and, therefore, if Maguire was really recognized as the champion of the people as against the railroad the Valley line should be for him.

The Valley Road is just as bitterly opposed to him as is the Southern Pacific, and every man connected with it appears to be working against him. Why this is so is easy enough to see. Maguire's hand is demagogically turned against everything in the line of capital, unmindful of the fact that it is only by a unity of financial forces that railroad construction is possible. When he fights a railroad, too, he is practically working against the interests of every employe connected with it, so in accordance with the law of self-preservation they are compelled to attack him in return.

Maguire has, therefore, wrought nothing but harm for himself with his shibboleth of railroad. His tirades against Gage in that regard have simply brought about the proof that the Republican standard-bearer is, in matters outside of his party, absolutely independent, and if he is elected Governor will owe no allegiance to any one but the people who voted for him. As railroad issues have, therefore, no standing in this campaign, Maguire's attempt to drag them in has proved one more factor in his own undoing, and will result in his being buried deeper than ever beneath the snow of Republican ballots that will fall thick and fast a week from next Tuesday.

Even if the United States Government will not construct the Nicaragua canal, it is certain that American enterprise will accomplish it privately, as witness the contract to that effect just closed between some Chicago men and the President of Nicaragua. Our Government, though, cannot afford to have an affair of this kind go into the hands of private capital, and Congress should hit the nail on the head at the next session by making all the necessary arrangements for starting up the venture.

Mrs. Botkin is not yet out of the woods, but to try her in this State on a charge of murder is more or less farcical under the conditions. If in a case like that of Meadors, conviction cannot be obtained, what earthly chance is there when the combination for the defense consists of a woman prisoner and the fact that the crime went into effect thousands of miles away?

General Kitchener is the lion of the hour in England, and the greatest moment of his glory must have been when on alighting from the train in London he was met by a multitude of his fellow countrymen and accorded a victor's reception. That part of the reward that a hero gets outshines the more substantial ones of dollars and cents as the sun does the stars.

The threatened war between England and France has ended—not in smoke, for not a shot was fired. The object lesson conveyed by the war between the United States and Spain had a salutary effect, for France could appreciably realize the fate of an outclassed nation.

If you have not already voted on the park bond issue, it is not too late to do so. The matter has been so thoroughly discussed that everybody understands both sides of the subject, and it is now merely a question of the people returning the verdict.

KELLEY FOR ASSEMBLYMAN.

The Forty-eighth Assembly District is one that can always be relied upon to send a Republican to the Legislature. Two years ago it had its greatest test, for then it was that fusion was being essayed for the first time here, and upon paper it looked like a certainty that a Democratic and Populist combination would overshadow the Republican vote. Yet despite the fact that an Independent Republican also went into the field and took 219 votes away from the party, Frank Leavitt, the straight Republican nominee, polled 1,141 votes as against 992 for his fusion competitor.

History can be relied on to repeat itself in the district this year, for J. M. Kelley, the Republican nominee, will not only get his full party vote, but will have a strong following outside of it. He is a steady, upright young man who has been in business life here for many years, thereby earning a reputation for ability and integrity that will be of good stead now that he is before the people as a candidate for office. There seems no question of his election, for his popularity is very widespread, and furthermore, the people of his district appreciate the necessity of sending a solid Republican delegation to Sacramento this session.

A THANKSGIVING CALL.

President McKinley's Thanksgiving proclamation is one of the most gracefully woven sentiments that has issued from the White House for many a day, and reflects in a most charming manner the kindly, Christian spirit that prompted it. It is a call to every one who loves the Stars and Stripes to return thanks for our victories and the prosperity we have enjoyed during the past year, and the situation could not be better reviewed than McKinley has done it in the following paragraph:

"We have been blessed by abundant harvests, our trade and commerce have been wonderfully increased, our public credits have been improved and strengthened, and all sections of our common country have been brought together and knitted into closer bonds of national purpose and unity."

There is indeed occasion for thanksgiving.

The Alameda justice who some time ago complained that he had not taken in any fees in seven months will probably not object to the recommendation by the Grand Jury that the services of Justices and Constables be paid for by salary. However, as he doesn't do anything, it would be hard to figure out a salary schedule that would be fair to both sides.

If Dreyfus wins his case before the Court of Cassation and is set at liberty, he can make all the money he wants if he will head straight for America. He would be the biggest drawing card in the world on the lecture platform or in a dime museum, and then later on he could write a book and put the finishing touches on his bank account.

Democrats as well as Republicans should attend the rally at the Exposition building this evening. All the issues of the campaign will be reviewed in a fair way by fair-minded men, and there will be an opportunity for all to satisfy themselves as to whether or not they want Henry Gage for Governor.

One of the triumphs of the Good Roads' movement is to be celebrated across the bay this evening, where a big parade will be given in honor of the paving of Market street. There is nothing like keeping up a fight; it is the old story that constant dropping wears away stones—even cobblestones.

Keep the pool rooms closed now that the racing season has started up again. The police should keep a vigilant eye on the places that in former years have dangled golden bait before weak boys and foolish men.

The next Governor and Lieutenant-Governor of California will be in Oakland this evening. Give them a rousing welcome.

Doctor Gave Hood's

Reduced in Weight by Serious Illness—Gaining Fast by Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"The grip left my system in a very weak state. I had fallen off in weight from 140 to 119 pounds. I called on my doctor to give me something to build me up. He advised me to try a change of climate and also gave me Hood's Sarsaparilla, with the remark, 'that is the best,' and that I would not need any other medicine. After I had taken the first bottle I found myself greatly improved. I procured another bottle and also a box of Hood's Pills and I was soon perfectly well. I have since taken Hood's Sarsaparilla as a tonic and blood medicine and have always found it good. My husband and little daughter have also taken it with benefit. I have found Hood's Pills an excellent cathartic." MRS. C. F. ROTH, Vernon, Sutter Co., via Nicolaus, California.

WINNER IN THE RACE!

WE'RE not talking horse races or politics—simply thinking of the political situation—of the happy winners and the disappointed losers. The people are the judges, and it is well that they are. They've judged us in a business way for the past twenty years—favoring us at first in a small way, watching our growth and our OUTDISTANCING all competitors, until finally they find us votes and votes ahead in the race for COMMERCIAL SUPREMACY. To remain at the top is a worthy ambition, and if modern merchandising can accomplish anything—if our up-to-date methods of offering seasonable bargains count for anything—and if the people, our judges, are not averse to having us put money in their purses by our "lowpricedness"—then easily shall we continue to be their favorites.

SATURDAY and MONDAY

BICYCLE THIEF IS BEHIND PRISON BARS.

Frank Thompson, who is confined in the city jail under suspicion of being the person who is ressponsible for the stealing of many of the bikes which have lately disappeared from their owners, is the object of considerable solicitation on the part of the detectives of this city. During the past month there is no member of the detective force who has not been called upon to try and discover a stolen wheel by some person who was unfortunare enough to leave his bike at some doorway without being properly chained to a rock.

It was, therefore, wath a great deal of satisfaction that Thompson was brought in yesterday afternoon. There was also a great deal of satisfaction when Thompson was recognized by W. T. Hamilton as the man who had taken his bike away last Thursday afternoon.

Thompson was arrested by Detectives Shorey and Hodgkins after he had been under the surveillance of the officers for some time. Thompson was seen to take a bike from a rack in front of a business place on Washington street. He took the wheel around on Thirteenth street, and when overtaken by the detectives he declared that he was taking the wheel to a friend of his who was its owner. The story was disbelieved, however, and with good results, because about five minutes after the arrest the owner of the wheel, A. J. Bertholet, appeared and recognized the bike. He declared at the same time that he did not know Thompson and that he had not authorized him to take charge of his wheel.

Thompson said he was a resident of Alameda, but was unable to tell where he lived over there. When he made this admission, he said that he could not give the name of the street because he had resided in the place only a couple of months.

There are now on the books of the city jail complaints of eighteen persons who have had wheels stolen during the past month, not one of which has been recovered. These complaints are to be found in every class, comprising boys, girls and professional and business men. Two of the latter are Maxwell, the hardware man, and Schlueter, the notion dealer, who have stores adjoining on Washington street. Each of these within a few days lost a new wheel from in front of his store.

When Thompson was searched his pockets contained a large number of odds and ends, as also a roll of greenbacks. These he flashed when he was overhauled a few days ago by W. T. Hamilton when the latter was claiming his wheel. Thompson produced the money for the purpose, as he explained it, of showing that he was a responsible person. It was this fact more than anything else which prompted Hamilton to allow the thief to go without being placed under arrest.

Detectives Shorey and Hodgkins are still working on the case. They are endeavoring to discover the identity of the thief so that they may be able to ascertain what he did with other wheels which are still missing and which it is supposed he has made away with.

FOR CONSTABLE OF BROOKLYN TOWNSHIP.

Why C. F. Weldon Should Receive the Support of the Voters.

The office of Township Constable is of material importance to the residents in the outside districts, for to this official citizens look for the protection of their homes and property against vandals and criminals. In Brooklyn Township for the past four years has served a Constable who justly merits the commendation of the community for honest, faithful work in this direction. He is C. F. Weldon, and his numerous friends desire to see him returned, not only as a reward for faithful service, but because they know their interests are safe in his hands.

Mr. Weldon is the nominee of the People's Party, Silver Republicans and Democrats. As well, he enjoys the support of many Republicans, who realize he has made one of, if not the most efficient Constable ever elected from the Township.

An injustice has been done him by the recent report of the Grand Jury, which, while it had little to say concerning Weldon, yet that little might be misconstrued by some. The report said that Weldon had twenty-five deputies all out looking for fees, and the number was considered to be too large. As a matter of fact, of Mr. Weldon's deputies, eighteen have never made an arrest, while the majority of this number were employed solely as watchmen about the lumber yards, Salvation Army barracks at Trestle Glen, and other resorts for the protection of property and to maintain order. The fact that Mr. Weldon's fees have averaged but $87.22 per month, as the record shows, absolutely refutes the Grand Jury expert's report. Then, too, it is said that, with the other Constables, Mr Weldon really owes the county a sum for fees collected. This is in connection with the conveying of prisoners to and from the East Oakland court and the County Jail. As a matter of fact, the fee bill passed by the Legislature expressly provides for this. However, the Constable now declares that if there is any question of the legality of the amount collected, and it is declared illegal, he will be the first to refund whatever the amount may be. However, he has acted strictly within the letter of the law.

The confidence in Mr. Weldon expressed by his constituents is shown at his first election four years ago, when he received a plurality of 365 votes, being 200 higher than the next highest candidate. At that time there were eleven candidates. During his term he has done his duty as an officer, thoroughly. He arrested the notorious highwayman Greenbanks, after some clever work, and had him sentenced to 25 years in San Quentin. This is the longest sentence secured by any county officer during the past four years, the Sheriff not excepted. On another occasion he captured a desperate colored burglar, who also is now spending his time in State's Prison.

Mr. Weldon is 40 years of age, a native of Minnesota, and has a wife and two children. For twelve years he has been a resident of East Oakland, where for a time he was a contractor and builder, employing a number of men. To them he paid the best wages and worked them the least hours.

This official, who has been tried and found true, is a candidate for re-election on the Union ticket. His faithfulness and past record entitles him to the support of the people of Brooklyn Township.

NO FEE FOR LAWYER ARAM

Judge Clift decided yesterday that Attorney Aram was not entitled to any fee for defending John Tyson.

Over a year ago Tyson was tried for an assault upon two girls, daughters of a man who had befriended him. He engaged Attorney Aram to defend him, stipulating that he would pay $100 if he was acquitted. The court decided that there was not evidence enough to convict Tyson of a felony charge, but gave him six months in jail for assault. When Tyson was set at liberty Aram tried to collect his fee, contending that he had cleared his client of the charges originally made against him. Tyson did not see it that way and refused to pay. Then Aram brought suit to recover. The court held that Aram had not secured acquittal according to the sense of the agreement and gave judgment for the defendant. He also gave Tyson judgment for costs of the suit.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free.

SOCIETY WILL BE AT THE FETE THIS EVENING.

This evening the fete by the ladies of St. Paul's Church, which is to be given in the residence of Mrs. L. L. Bromwell, otherwise known as the Kirkham mansion, on Eighth street, near the bridge, will be the most demonstrative affair of the kind which has taken place in this city for several years. In its way, too, it will be most unique. There will be something there to satisfy all tastes and to entertain during the hours of the evening.

In the first place, the residence is particularly well adapted to such an undertaking. It is ample in size, lordly in porportions and there is a suggestion of other times prevailing in its majestic halls and symmetrical apartments which cannot but be appreciated by the older people.

These halls and rooms are decorated with flowers and festooned with holly, ivy, smilax, cypress and ferns, and the mingled odors of the parterre and forest pervade every place which may be visited by the guests. This floral work is done by willing hands rather than by those of the professional decorator, and it need not, for that reason, be imagined that it has been the less artistically or successfully performed. This feature has been attended to in a manner which will unquestionably attract attention by Mrs. Victor Metcalf, who has been assisted by Mrs. Will Henshaw, Mrs. Frank Adams and Miss Allie Grimes.

In one of the large parlors there will be a varied programme carried out under the direction of Mrs. Babcock and Robert Newell. There will be the "Peak Sisters" dialogues, monologues, sketches, and a variety of other features, which will be worthy the attention of the guests and doubtless call for many an encore. There will also be a male chorus and a quartette.

Mementoes of the Alhambra will be found in the Moorish room, as well as reminders of the days of the grandeur of Spain, now so wretched, not in her decline, but in her fall. In this antique apartment Mrs. Henshaw will preside, assisted by Miss Grimes and Miss Williams, to whom the decorative work is to be credited.

The conservatory adjoins, and there, amid floriated specimens of nature's handiwork, palatable and delicious ices will be served with winsome grace by Mrs. Shelby Martin, who will number among her assistants Mrs. Fred Stolp, Mrs. Percy, Mrs. Byron Crowley, Mrs. Ernest Folger, Mrs. Will Ralston, Mrs. Duke Baxter, Misses Jane Rawlings, Eva Lukens, Luella Williams, Margaret Knight and Gail and Claire Converse.

Lemonade will be served in a fancy booth in which the goblets will be filled by Mrs. Andrew Mosley, Mrs. Sam Breck, Mrs. Frederick Merrett and Mrs. Allardt.

In another apartment art will preside, personified by E. R. Jackson, who, with marvelous facility and accuracy, will carve silhouettes of the pretty faces of the ladies. Here Mrs. Sharon will hold sway, attended by her pretty daughters, Florence and Blanche, and a number of their friends.

Apropos of the season, which is trending toward the night of mystic ceremonies, uncanny sights and eerie devinations, there will be a Hallowe'en hall which will go under the name of the "haunted chamber." Here the love-lorn swain will be enabled to read the features of his future bride in a mirror held in unusual angles. Hopeful inamoratas will be afforded an opportunity of distinguishing in curly apple parings the initial of a future spouse. Mrs. Mark Requa will be the presiding genius of this revival of the superstitions of the past, and her assistants will be Misses Alice Moffitt, Luita Booth, Bertha McElrath, Gertrude Gould, Ida Bell Palmer, Marietta Havens and Silas Palmer.

Then there will be an Oriental booth where fortunes will be told, while the seeker to rend the veil of the future is smiled upon by the presiding seeress, Mrs. George W. Baker and her attendants, Misses Irene Baker, Margaret Collier, Della Malls and Jean and Florence Hush.

Oranges will be found pendant from trees in an adjoining apartment, even if they do not grow there, and are not of nature's production. By purchasing one of these symbols of California's golden harvest one may find a prize of wonderful richness. This argument will be used by the ladies in charge, Mrs. Will Meek, Mrs. George Whitney, Anita Whitney, Bernice Landers, Georgia and Lillie Strong and Florence Starr.

But what would be such a varied class of attractions without the old-fashioned kitchen, the kitchen which was known to every one some time or other in his or her early life? Here edibles will be prepared and served after the style of long ago, and it may well be doubted whether that style has been improved upon by chefs of the modern home. In this department will be Mrs. J. E. McElrath, Mrs. N. Koser, Mrs. Vernon Waldron, Misses Laura and Mona Crellin, Grace Gorrill, Harriet Kittredge, Bessie Palmer, Gertrude Allen, Edith Selby, Abbie Clift, Mary Barker and Ione Fore.

Then there will be a sweetmeats booth, where the choicest confections will be disposed of by Miss Florence Dunham, Bell Mhoon, Florence and Coralie Selby and Jessie Glascock.

There will be an orchestra, too, which will cause music to rise and swell upon the air during the evening at intervals, and to this inspiration, toward the close, the young people will be allowed to dance the fete of St. Paul's into a memory of the past as among the most enjoyable of the social functions of Oakland.

Literary Notes.

With the first chill breath of November the mincemeat must be made and stored away to mellow. If our housewife follows her grandmother's receipe she will take a fresh beef tongue and simmer it slowly and gently until very tender, adding, when half done, a tablespoonful of salt; she will skin it, remove all fat and gristle, and put it through the meat-chopper, through which she has previously passed three pounds of beef suet freed from membrane. Four pounds of tart apples, weighed after paring and coring, and one pound of citron, one-quarter of a pound each of candied orange and lemon peel, and one pound of shelled and blanched almonds are in turn put through the chopper, and then she mixes all together, adding four pounds of seeded raisins, two pounds of cleaned currants, the grated rind and juice of four oranges and four lemons, four pounds of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of salt; one level tablespoonful each of pepper, ground cloves, allspice, cinnamon, mace and nutmeg, one quart of Madeira, one-half of a pint of good brandy and sufficient sweet cider to moisten. She lets this stand for a day, then adds more sugar or flavoring if the mixture seems to need it, then puts it away in stone jars. If, however, she wears the white ribbon she will omit the liquor and will add in its place a pint each of syrup taken from canned and sweet pickled fruit, and enough and simmer for fifteen minutes, and can the mixture in quart jars.—From "Our Thanksgiving Dinner," by Cornelia C. Bedford, in the Gentlewoman for November.

Dew is so heavy that the stock is never watered, and the walk to every house is paved with heavy slabs cut from the trunk of pulu fern trees, forming a soft and fine-wearing pavement; the wound in the tree heals at once. Bananas, wool and hides are also exported, while tropical fruits grow in abundance, among them bread fruit, pineapples often weighing twelve pounds, avocado pears, peaches, tamarinds, limes, lemons, citrons, guavas, strawberries, raspberries, oleo-berries, grapes, mountain apples, etc. I would not advise any one without capital to come to the Islands; even skilled labor is a drug on the market, as many of the Chinese and Portuguese are skilled laborers, with whom you would have to compete in wages. Professional and mercantile careers are overdone here, the stores carrying large modern stocks, and the total white population only numbering a few thousand; the bulk of the population includes Portuguese, Chinese, Japs, and natives, all of whom trade at Chinese stores, with which a white man could not compete. Capitalists can still find safe investments with large returns in stocks of plantations, railways, etc.—J. L. Wheeler, Jr., in Leslie's Weekly.

Books "on approval" is the latest device for reaching the book buyers who are at a distance from the great publishing centers. The Doubleday & McClure Co. has inaugurated a system by which any of its publications is mailed, free of charge, to any address upon application, to be paid for if satisfactory, or returned if for any reason it is not wanted. This ingenious idea brings the world of new books literally to the doors of the most remote and isolated homes, enabling people living in the country or the smaller towns to examine the firm's new books for the mere expenditure of a postal. It is an addition to the evidence often adduced as proving the average man's honesty that the percentage of losses from this universal confidence has been found to be very small, and the plan has proved most satisfactory on both sides.

The article on "The Navy in the War," by Captain F. E. Chadwick of the flagship "New York" in the November Scribner's, is the first complete and authoritative account of the many problems that had to be met in the formation of an adequate fleet, and the conclusions to be drawn from the victory before Santiago as to questions of type, construction, etc., of the navy of the future.

Richard Harding Davis' war article in the November Scribner's deals with the Porto Rican campaign, for which he has nothing but praise. He says: "The campaign was nipped by peace almost before it could show its strength; but from the start, it was one with which any of the great military powers would have been pleased and satisfied. And this in spite of the fact that the regiments engaged, with but three exceptions, were composed of volunteers."

The late Empress of Austria, as every one knows, was a great traveler and often caused her friends much anxiety by wilfully pushing her journeys, incognito, in dangerous and out-of-the-way places. Only two days before her death she had determined, to her attendants' dismay, to visit Sicily. The Empress read and spoke English fluently, and as an attempt to frighten her away from her project, her lady in waiting placed in her hands a copy of Marion Crawford's "Corleone." She was much horrified at the details of the Sicilian vendetta murders which occur in the novel and hesitated in her preparations for her prospected journey. The incident is not without interest in the light of her assassination, two days afterwards, by a political vendetta beside whose world-wide ramifications the vendetta of the little island of Sicily is trivial. Had her attendant hastened her royal mistress into danger she would probably have saved her life.

The portrait of the Hon. John Hay, at the conclusion of the article on "Author-Diplomats" in the October Critic, faces the page on which appears a translation from "Faust," over the signature of the Hon. A. A. Adee. Mr. Adee, as it happens, was Secretary of State ad interim during the period between the acceptance of Judge Day's resignation and the assumption of the office by Mr. Hay. Few men have ever had so good a training for this high post as Mr. Hay, and no one in the diplomatic service has been better fitted for the position of Assistant Secretary than Mr. Adee, who more than once has been offered the First Assistant Secretaryship, but has preferred the next lower rank, which he has held for many years, as a position more permanent. There are no better exemplars of the scholar in politics than these two Secretaries—poets and linguists both, and writers of the most finished prose. Each, it is interesting to note, acquired much of his early experience in connection with the State Department as an attache at Madrid.

GAL TWO LIT NOTES.

The recent threats of a new outburst of Vesuvius give timeliness to an article by H. J. W. Dam on "The Mystery of Vesuvius," to appear in the November number of McClure's Magazine. Mr. Dam and the artist C. K. Linson made a recent exploration of the volcano, for McClure's; and the article embraces much new information thus gained. It will be illustrated from special drawings made by Mr. Linson on the spot.

A charming Thanksgiving story by Clara Louise Burnham and the last of the series of "Unsent Letters," by Rita, are features of the Thanksgiving issue of the American Queen. "Advice for Beginners in the Literary Life," by the successful and famous author, Annie S. Swan, and "Suggestions for Beginners in Journalism," by Kate Upson Clark, are the subjects of two excellent papers. Marguerite Merington's second article on the drama treats of the plays of today and is very interesting. A Thanksgiving menu, the usual departments, a page of photographs of the interior of studios of famous artists as suggestions for furnishing and decorating the home, and a variety of other subjects of equal interest to women help fill up the pages of the November issue, while the Xmas holidays are heralded by two timely and excellent articles—one on candy making, by Blanche Gillette, and the other on Christmas presents, in connection with which twelve original designs in embroidery are given.

SOME ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

The Meddler Tells of Many Interesting Functions in a Gossipy Letter.

The Wednesday Night Cotillion will be awfully swell this year. Just the right people are patronesses, and I am sure it will be no end of fun. There are only to be two parties, though I believe that they will be so jolly that we shall be able to arrange on a February date.

All the swellest party frocks are being saved for those two occasions. Reed's Hall, of course, is the place—it makes such a good background for the cutie effects. A pleasant informality will be given to these parties by the fact that dancing is to commence about half past eight and that only two or three cotillion figures will be danced each time. The rest of the evening will be an assembly.

The patronesses, all of whom are working to make these affairs a success, with a united spirit that is truly delightful, are Mrs. C. O. G. Miller, Mrs. Oscar F. Long, Mrs. W. A. Magee, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Orestes Pierce, Mrs. Seward McNear, Mrs. George W. McNear, Jr., Mrs. P. E. Bowles, Mrs. J. H. T. Watkinson, Mrs. Henshaw, Mrs. J. B. Mhoon, Mrs. Mark Requa, and Mrs. Harry Knowles.

The dates for the cotillions are December 14th and January 25th.

* * *

Two of the swellest possible teas are scheduled for early in November. The Hush tea, of which I have told you before, is for the 12th of November, and Mrs. P. E. Bowles will give one, not quite so large, on the 15th, which is the following Tuesday. I foresee that we shall be very gay.

* * *

Not nearly as large a house as I expected, and not nearly as large as there should have been, assembled to hear the Heinrichs on Thursday night. It was an enthusiastic and musically appreciative audience. I wonder what people are thinking of to allow such a musical treat as that to pass them by. Well, there's no accounting for tastes. The Heinrichs still have some concerts on for San Francisco, so there is another opportunity to hear them. Like the Henschels, their fame grows slowly. The first Heinrich recitals did not draw at all, and at the last ones it was "standing room only." People could not get enough of them, but then, alas, they were about to go away and could not prolong their stay. As for the comparative merits of the two—comparisons are odious, I know, and as the German said when asked to compare Goethe and Schiller, the German nation should be glad to have two such men, and not attempt to compare them. So it is with Henschel and Heinrich, but if there must be a comparison, I should give the palm for interpretation and artistic feeling to Heinrich, though I do not think his stage presence quite so fascinating. He has all of the other man's velvety richness of tone, and is not as explosive while quite as marvelous an accompanist.

* * *

Another notable musical event on Thursday evening kept people from the Heinrich recital, I have no doubt. "In a Persian Garden," by Liza Lehmann, was given by Mrs. Mariner Campbell at the home of Mrs. Robert Watt. It was delightfully given, of course, and there was a very large crowd present. The participants were Mr. Walter C. Campbell, reader; Miss Florence J. Doane, soprano; Miss Ellen Margery Marks, mezzo soprano; Miss Xena Roberts, contralto; Mr. Herbert Williams, tenor; Mr. Walter C. Campbell, basso; Miss Mollie Pratt, accompanist.

* * *

I daresay you have all heard "In a Persian Garden." If so, you know that an introductory paper comes first. This was read by Mr. Campbell. The musical numbers follow:

Quartette—"Wake for the Sun who scattered into flight."

Tenor—"Before the phantom of false morning died."

Bass—"Now the new year reviving old desires."

Tenor—"Iram indeed is gone with all his rose."

Quartette—"Come, fill the cup, and in the fire of Spring."

Bass—"Whether at Naishapur or Babylon."

Contralto—"Ah, not a drop that from our cups we throw."

Song—"I sometimes think that never blows so red."

Duet (soprano and tenor)—"A book of verses underneath a bough."

Bass—"Myself when young did eagerly frequent."

Recitative, bass—"Ah, make the most of what we yet may spend."

Contralto—"When you and I behind the veil are passed."

Soprano (recit.)—"But if the soul can fling the dust aside."

Soprano, song—"I sent my soul through the invisible."

Miss Ellen Margery Marks.

Tenor, song—"Alas, that spring should vanish with the rose."

Contralto—"The worldly hope men set their hearts upon."

Soprano—"Each morn a thousand roses brings you say."

Miss Florence Julia Doane.

Quartette—"They say that the lion and the lizard keep."

Tenor (recitative)—Ah, fill the cup! what boots it to repeat."

Song—"Moon of my delight that knows no wane."

Bass—"As then the tulip for her morning sup.

Quartette—"Alas! that spring should vanish with the rose."

Mrs. Watt's musicale was really very delightful. The flowers were exquisite, and there was a nice little supper. Mrs. Watt was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Miss Watt and Mrs. H. M. A. Miller. The crowd was very large.

* * *

On Wednesday Mrs. A. A. Moore entertained the Cosmos Club at luncheon at her East Oakland home. Everything was very daintily devised and attractively served, and the luncheon was a very charming affair indeed.

* * *

On Friday evening Mrs. Martin Kellogg gave a dinner at her home, and there were several successful teas during the week. Berkeley is quite mad over its tea drinkings—quite intoxicated, if one may apply the word to so mild a beverage.

* * *

The fair for the benefit of St. Paul's, which will make the old Kirkham home gay today, will be a very successful affair, I have no doubt. It will rival the one given last year at the Baker house, and will be graced by the same glorious moon—you remember the Baker moon, do you not? All sorts of preparations have been made to render this affair a success. All the prettiest young girls and brightest young matrons are interested in it, and almost all are going to assist, for you know the little church round the corner holds all that is swell in Oakland fashion—there's no denying that, whatever your creed. It is the fashionable church.

The Kirkham house is well suited to such an affair, though it was even better suited to it before the grounds were so cruelly bisected like Solomon's baby. We seldom have an opportunity to see the inside of the Kirkham abode, and many of us do not even remember what it is like—it is so seldom that its doors swing in old fashioned hospitality.

I hope the merriment and festivity of it all will in some measure disperse the ghosts that haunt it—poor old house.

* * *

On the following Saturday, November 5th, the annual cushion tea for the benefit of the Woman's Exchange will be held at the elegant home of Mrs. M. H. De Young in California street. The De Young house is a beauty—full of costly curios and exceedingly interesting pictures. Mrs. De Young is a charming hostess, and I have no doubt that the tea will make as much money as the one did last year at Mrs. Lilienthal's, also on California street.

This year the helpful hands and bright face of Mrs. Wetherbee will be missed. She is always such a host in herself, but this year she is scarcely well enough to take an active part in the work of the tea. An infinite variety of cushions will be on sale at the tea. Last year they were exceedingly beautiful and very cheap—cheaper than any one ever expects anything to be at a charity affair.

* * *

Mrs. Fred Merritt has returned from her Eastern trip looking so well it is hard to recognize in her the pale little Brownie who said good-bye to her friends last April. It goes to show how much better New York and Washington are with their attractions taken in large doses than all the medicine in Oakland. All who are falling off in either looks or health, try this remedy. Be assured you will come home beautiful, well and happy.

* * *

Mrs J. P. Dyer and Miss Minnie Dyer are at present in New York at the Fifth Avenue. They have been away several months and are now en route home.

* * *

The most fascinating couple in Oakland is Manie Kent and her soldier fiance. When I am fortunate enough to be on the same train with these handsome young people, I contrive to sit just where I can cast my eyes on their happy faces. His military cap lined with spotless white broadcloth and fine uniform all have a charm of their own, and this tall soldier boy wears his to perfection.

* * *

Across the bay they are making great preparations for the annual doll show that was such a mint last year. The doctor's daughters, as before, are managing it, and they hope to find it as much of a gold mine this year as last. Almost all of the best dressmakers are contributing, except some of those who are too much rushed to stop and putter with a doll and those who were not pleased with the way things went last year. Maple Hall will probably be the place again, and Mrs. and Miss Blair have delayed their trip to Europe until the doll show is off the hooks.

* * *

On Tuesday evening there will be a wedding at the Price home in Highland Park, East Oakland. The bride will be Miss De Ette Price—the groom's name I have not heard. It will be a very quiet affair in the evening, with only the relatives and intimate friends invited.

* * *

And by the way, did you know that Mamie Griffin was married? She was wedded some time ago in the East, and I understand has married a nice man with plenty of money and has really done extremely well. I am sure you will all be glad. Mamie Griffin had more than her share of trouble, and she and her mother were very much to be sympathized with at one time. It is all right now, happily.

* * *

Miss Bertha Crouch was visiting in Alameda last week, as the guest of her friend, Miss Melita Bennett. Miss Crouch and her mother came down from Chico and only remained a week. That was as long as Bertha could stand it in this humdrum burg. The Crouches have now gone to Los Angeles to spend the winter. For some time they have been visiting the married daughter, Mrs. Tainter, at Menomonie, Wisconsin. Miss Bertha Crouch denies her engagement to Mr. Van Camp of New York.

* * *

Miss Rachel Read of Alameda is visiting in Sonoma county.

* * *

It's rather a slim budget this week, but from now on it will be very gay without a dull moment. There will be free play for all the handsome gowns this winter, for there will be plenty to wear them to. Such pleasant anticipations are like the appetizing smell of the Christmas turkey. Can't you remember how it made young noses tingle? Next week comes Hallowe'en, and there are always some small and earlies on that night, which belongs peculiarly to the young people. One must have a certain amount of unspoiled faith and a belief in the fairies to really enjoy Hallowe'en.

Well, here's to the maiden of bashful fifteen! There's a girl who wishes she were among that gay and care-free company, and her name is

THE MEDDLER.

ANTICIPATING NUPTIALS.

A very enjoyable dinner party was given by Mrs. W. E. Sharon on Wednesday evening, at her home in Piedmont, in honor of Miss Jessie Newland of San Francisco and Mr. George Eldridge of Washington, D. C. The young people will be married at the home of the bride's mother in San Francisco on Monday.

The guests were all from San Francisco. The decorations were exquisite, and the affair was one of the most successful of the season.

WINTER COTILLION.

The meeting of the Winter Cotillion Club will be held in Reed Hall tonight. Arthur Kales and Miss Midge Moore will lead. The members of the club are on the tip-toe of expectation, as it is anticipated that several original figures will be given. Mr. Kales originated some very pretty figures last year. The evening promises to be an unusually enjoyable one.

Those taking part in the first set will be Midge Moore, Alice Conkling, Helen Chase, Bessie Reed, Ada Kenna, Ethel Crellin, Charlotte Hall, Dottie Everson, Gertrude Voorhies, Edith Beck, May Coogan, Edna Barry, Isabelle Kenna, and Ethel Sims; Messrs. Rudolph, Schilling, Burrell, Reed, Brown, Hall, Roth, Phelan, Hume, Pearce, White and Rosborough.

FISH-WHITE.

A wedding of interest to Endeavorers took place on Tuesday evening, October 25th in the Union street Presbyterian Church, when Miss Anna M. Fish and George W. White were married by the Rev. H. D. Brasefield, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Both young people are well and favorably known in Christian Endeavor circles and are members of the church in which they were married.

The bride has served for the past term as president of her Christian Endeavor Society, a position which she filled very acceptably as she is possessed of great executive ability. She is a very talented young lady.

The groom is employed as a bookkeeper for the Port Costa Lumber Company. He is a graduate of the Oakland High School, class of 1890, and is very popular.

The church in which the ceremony was performed was artistically and beautifully decorated. The front of the interior was banked with greens and flowers. Tall, slender sprays of bamboo gracefully touched the ceiling while festoons, garlands, and lovers-knots were dropped everywhere in an artistic style.

The ceremony was performed under an arch garlanded with smilax. From the center of this arch a chime of bells was suspended, the effect of which was very pretty. Bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated each pew.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock P. M. the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohingren's wedding chorus played by Prentiss Bee. Following the ushers, C. Carman, W. Hatfield, W. C. Harrison, and B. Rowley, came the little flower girl, Helena Goethe. The maid-of-honor, Miss Dora Fish, came next. She looked lovely in a dress of figured organdie over yellow silk.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, F. N. Fish. She looked charming in a gown of cream-colored lansdown trimmed with chiffon. She carried bride roses. She was met at the altar by the officiating clergyman, the groom and his best man, Albert White, who entered by a door at the left.

During the impressive ceremony, the organist played softly, changing to Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the bridal party left the church for the parlors where they received congratulations under a floral bower. A reception at the bride's home followed, to which only relatives and a few intimate friends were invited.

Mr. and Mrs. White were the recipients of many beautiful presents.

They departed for San Francisco amid a shower of rice and old shoes. They went to Pacific Grove Wednesday morning.

On their return they will reside in Oakland for a few months and then go to their home in Valona.

A MUSICAL RECEPTION.

One of the most agreeable entertainments of the week was the musical reception given in honor of Miss Anna Miller Wood of Berkeley, the contralto from Boston, which took place last Monday evening in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pierce, Scenic Park. The music room, hall and dining room were decorated with chrysanthemums, cosmos and gallardia—while the bay window and pictures were beautifully dressed with trailing red and white passion vine.

Miss Wood, in excellent tone, sang "O, Swallow, Swallow Flying South," "En Reve," and "Memnon." One of her encore songs, "I'm Wearing Awa' Jean, to the Land o' the Leal," was sung with the greatest of expression. Lewellyn Hughes rendered a difficult piece on the violin.

Mrs. Pierce and Miss Wood also sang a duet from the Catholic Church service, "Quae Te Christie." In response to most enthusiastic applause the selection was twice repeated.

Miss Olivia Edmunds, lately from Boston, a pupil of Arthur Foote, accompanied the songs in a very pleasing manner. Miss Edmunds also gave two solos, which were rendered with a delicacy of touch which afforded her auditors much genuine pleasure.

Miss Alice Butter, niece of the hostess, played two charming selections with great expression. Mrs. Pierce and Miss Wood then sang two Mendelssohn duets, their voices blending perfectly.

Frank Mitchell, tenor of St. Paul's Church, San Francisco, sang with great skill and expression Rubenstein's "Eine Traume," giving as an encore an old English sailor song which was well rendered.

The following young ladies assisted Mrs. Pierce: Misses Frances Lamme, Mary Hathaway, Elizabeth Church, Carrie Church, Abbie Knowlton, Mollie Pierce and Virginia Pierce.

COSMOS MEETS.

On Wednesday afternoon the members of the Cosmos Club met at the residence of Mrs. A. A. Moore in East Oakland.

A dainty luncheon was served and the members had a very delightful afternoon playing whist.

Among the members of the club are Mrs. Goodfellow, Miss Grace Sperry, Mrs. Sam Breck, Mrs. Pedar Sather, Mrs. Harry Leach, Mrs. Paul Lohse, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. Gorrill, Mrs. Meek, Mrs. J. L. Howard, Mrs. C. Cook, Mrs. Dayley and Mrs. Moore.

CASE-NORTON.

Rev. Alfred J. Case of Stockton and Miss Katherine Norton of Alameda were married Thursday at the home of the cousin of the bride, Mrs. J. Jamison, 2292 San Jose avenue. Rev. J. N. Beard of Grace Church, San Francisco, officiated at the ceremony. Miss Lida Bennett of Napa acted as bridesmaid and Rev. Robert Trevonow of Stockton was best man. The bride is a recent graduate of Stanford University. The groom is pastor of the Methodist Church in Stockton.

A PLEASANT RECEPTION.

The Political Equality Club of Alameda gave a pleasant reception from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the residence of Judge and Mrs. Waymire on Buena Vista avenue. The ladies unanimously decided to appeal to the next Legislature for the right of suffrage in school matters.

Many of the State officers and others were present, including Mrs. Swift, Mrs. Sperry, Mrs. Krebs, Mrs. Sorbier, Mrs. Murphy, Miss Dr. Beecher, Mrs. Ellen C. Sargent, Mrs. George Haight Greenman, Mrs. D. L. Randolph.

THE FORTNIGHTLY.

The second party of the Fortnightly Dancing Club took place last evening, and, as usual, was a very enjoyable affair. The cotillion was led by Philip Clay and Miss Ione Fore. Most of the members were present, and the number of spectators was large. The figures were original, and unusually pretty, and elicited much admiration from the onlookers.

JAPANESE TEA.

The Japanese tea given by the Dewey Whist Club at the residence of the president, Mrs. W. J. McClunie, 1079 Eighth street, was a very enjoyable and unique affair. It was given in honor of Mrs. Ida Osgood who will shortly leave for Los Angeles to spend the winter. Tea, rice, and cake were eaten in true Oriental style, causing a great deal of merriment among the guests. The club presented Mrs. Osgood with a handsome hand-painted plate as a token of love and esteem in which she is held by the members.

PINK LUNCHEON.

A very charming pink luncheon was given by Miss Evelyn Craig at her pretty home in Piedmont Thursday last. The affair was complimentary to Miss Elmore, who will reside at the Hotel Metropole during the winter.

The decorations were extremely effective, the color scheme of pink being well carried out in all the arrangements.

Covers were laid for twelve, and the young ladies who enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Craig were Miss Elmore, Miss Pope, the Misses Gage, Miss Merle Morrison, the Misses Randall, Miss McClymonds, Miss Newell, Miss Florence Hooper and Miss Margery Craig.

A SUPRISE PARTY.

Friday evening a number of the young friends of Arthur Sibley tendered him a surprise party at his home in Castro Valley. The evening was spent in games and dancing, and all returned home declaring they had had a most enjoyable time. Those present were: Mrs. Haight, Mrs. Sibley, Misses Haight, Flossie Sibley, Ivel Sibley, Lilius O'Neill, Julia Silva, Blanche Everett, Flossie Walker, Emma Ubhoff, Louise Bassett, Nellie Johnson; George Garcia, Charles Helms, Arthur Sibley, Roy Merwin, Jos. Soares, Clarence Simmons, Louis Randall, James Jessen, Albert Switzer, Lawrence Everett, Adolph Lee, George Lyons.

INTELLECTUAL AFTERNOON.

On Thursday afternoon there was a large gathering of friends at the home of Mrs. John W. Phillips in East Oakland. Mrs. Horace Wilson talked in a very interesting way on the subject (a) "Sir Thomas Lawrence and His Imitators"; (b) "Wilkie and the Old Genre Painters." A very pleasant afternoon was spent by the ladies.

BENEFIT MUSICALE.

A grand musicale will be given at the residence of Mrs. Paul Lohse, 1385 Webster street, on November 4th. The proceeds of the affair will be used in rebuilding the Sacred Heart Church, which was recently destroyed by fire. Rev. Lawrence Serda is pastor of the church, and is held in high esteem by the Catholic people of this city.

NEWELL-PATTERSON.

Miss Grace Patterson and George F. Newell, both of Alameda, were wedded Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Patterson, 1536 Santa Clara avenue. Rev. Dr. F. S. Brush officiated at the ceremony. Miss Maud Gerald acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. King of San Francisco as best man.

About forty friends witnessed the ceremony. Many handsome presents were given the happy couple. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell are spending their honeymoon in Monterey. When they return they will make their home in Alameda.

THE GERMAN LADIES.

The German Ladies Relief Society tenders its sincere thanks to all those who have donated so bountifully, and have been helpful in every way, to make its grand ball a success.

THE COMMITTEE.

ALAMEDA RECEPTION.

A pleasant event of the week in Alameda was the reception at the Clark home on San Antonio avenue, yesterday. Mrs. Clark, assisted by Mrs. Kate Clark and Mrs. Edward H. Clark received her friends from 2 until 5 o'clock.

LUNDBORG-CLIFT.

The engagement of Miss Abbie Clift to Irving Lundborg of San Francisco has been announced. The wedding will take place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Clift on December 5th.

Miss Clift has been one of the leaders of the Fortnightly Club and a great favorite in the younger set. Mr. Lundborg is popular in social and business circles. He occupies a good position in the San Francisco National Bank and enjoys the confidence of a large circle of friends.

Miss Jean Clift, sister of the bride-to-be, will be the maid-of-honor while Harriet Kittredge and Grace Gorrill will be the bridesmaids.

All intimate friends are to be invited and the wedding will of course be one of the events of the season.

A LIVERMORE WEDDING.

Miss Mathilda Mally of Livermore was married to Walter H. Biggs of Dawson City last Tuesday. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mally, Rev. Arthur Hicks officiating.

The bride is well and favorably known in social circles, having been the leader of her set.

The groom is an industrious young man who has overcome obstacles in the Klondike and now has a bright future.

The happy couple will make a tour of the State and in the spring they will go to Alaska.

MASK BALL.

The eighth annual prize masquerade ball of Oakland Lodge No. 2, Journeymen Butchers' Protective and Benevolent Association will be given at Germania Hall, Wednesday evening, November 2nd. Music will be furnished by the Second Artillery Band. These balls are always largely attended and afford a liberal amount of pleasure to all the participants.

THE BACHELOR'S CLUB.

Alameda's Bachelors' Club is prospering. At a recent meeting, it was decided to keep secret the business of the club. It was also agreed to continue the weekly meetings of the organization during the winter season. Officers were elected, after which the evening was spent in a game of whist.

Refreshments were then served in the form of a tomale supper, with lemonade and apples as desert. All voted Dr. Hughes an excellent host and expressed a desire to attend his next reception to the club.

BLANKART-FUNSTON.

The residence of Otto Blankart, 1319 Tenth street, was the scene of a very romantic wedding Wednesday evening, when his daughter Eda became the bride of Colonel Frederick Funston of the Twentieth Kansas Regiment.

The bride is very well known in musical circles on both sides of the bay, and is very popular with the young people.

The groom is the youngest commander in the armies of the United States. Since General King's departure he has been in charge of the Second Brigade of the Independent Division, and is commended by his superiors for his soldierly conduct on all occasions. He was recently recommended by General Miller for promotion to the Brigadier Generalship. He is a graduate of the Kansas University, a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and a writer and lecturer.

Professor Vernon Lyman Kellogg of Stanford University was best man. He is an old classmate and fraternity brother of Colonel Funston's.

Colonel Funston sailed for Manila Friday morning on the transport Indiana.

Mrs. Funston watched the departure of the ship which bore her husband away from the deck of the tug Liberty. She might have gone with him to the Philippines, but respect for her father restrained her. He is traveling in the East and has not yet been informed of her marriage. His daughter feared to pain him by exiling herself from America without his knowledge, and so bade farewell to her husband on the wharf just before the Indiana cast off her moorings. She will leave for Manila later on a regular line steamer.

ENTRE NOUS TONIGHT.

The first of the Eutre Nous dancing club meetings will be held this evening. There will be ten dances in the series. The members are in anticipation of a very enjoyable season.

LADIES OF ST. JOHN'S.

One of the approaching social events will be an entertainment to be given November 4th, by the ladies of St. John's Church, at the home of Dr. J. C. S. Akerly.

A QUIET WEDDING.

A very quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Dr. S. H. Melvin in East Oakland, Tuesday evening. The contracting parties were Miss Amanda Harvey of Newcastle, a niece of Mrs. Melvin, and Herman Pfeiffer, a young business man of Auburn.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. K. McLean. The wedding was private, the following relatives only being present: Mrs. S. H. Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Dowing and the Misses Amy and Getta Harvey.

CADET SOCIAL.

The last military social of Company N, League of the Cross Cadets of Father McSweeney's parish, which was held in Masonic Hall Thursday evening, was an unqualified success. It was a complimentary entertainment, the guests being admitted free, and only those who were in some manner related to the young sons of temperance were allowed to pass the portals. There had been a clamor for tickets, but this did not prevent a judicious distribution of the favors. This distribution was further carried out by the watchfulness of E. J. Hallahan, who stood at the doorway. There were fully 200 couples in attendance, and between social converse and the pleasures of the dance they enjoyed themselves until an early hour, when the festivity came to a close.

The hospitality extended was by the gallant young men of Company N, L. C. C. It is understood that the next feature will be gotten up by the young lady friends of the Cadets and that the affair will be not less novel and successful than was that of the young men who are pledged to the cause of temperance.

GOING BACK EAST.

Mrs. Williams and her daughter, Miss Williams, of Scranton, Pa., will leave for the East on November 3d. Their departure has been delayed on account of the illness of Mrs. Williams.

THE HUSH TEA.

The Misses Hush will give a reception and tea on November 12th to celebrate their entrance into society. The event is looked forward to with the greatest interest, and there is not the slightest doubt that a most enjoyable time will be experienced.

A WHIST CLUB.

A number of whist clubs have been organized for the winter season, and many pleasant gatherings of friends are sure to be held. One of these clubs has just been formed, and the first meeting will be held on November 7th at the home of Judge and Mrs. Clift.

Among the members are: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Allardt, Mr. and Mrs. M. Searles, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Marx, Miss Eva Lukens, Miss Elizabeth Clift, Messrs. Lee Burnham and Robert Fitzgerald.

COMING NUPTIALS.

The marriage of Clyde Davenport Cammen and Isabelle Louise Taylor will take place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Taylor, 1368 Webster street. The young people are both well known and very popular in this city, and the event is eagerly looked forward to by the many friends.

PRIZE MASQUERADE.

Tecumseh Tribe No. 62, I. O. R. M. is making grand preparations for the prize masquerade ball to be given on Saturday evening, November 5th at Germania Hall, Seventh and Webster streets. Valuable prizes will be given away.

GOOD FELLOWS.

The second party of the Jolly Good Fellows of the season of '98 and '99 was given in Pythian Castle last Tuesday evening. The pretty hall was filled with dancers and the large number of the ladies appeared in attractive, tasty and becoming costumes. The music was delightful and the spirit which inspired all the participants conduced to a most enjoyable evening. There were thirteen numbers on the program, besides a number of extras and the program, lengthy as it was, could have been extended and still not have prevented the dancers from asking for "more." The program in itself was a small sized pamphlet with red covers illuminated in gold bronze forming a very pretty souvenir. The affair was under the management of the club comprising the following: John Heaney, president; John Webb, vice-president; William Raffetto, secretary; William Dunlap, treasurer. S. Archer.

WOLF TONE NIGHT.

Last Saturday evening, one of the first fraternal balls of the season took place. It was that of the Wolf Tone Club of this city, which was held in Germania Hall. The night, so far as the elements were concerned, was unpropitious. Rain had fallen earlier in the evening, and it was not until some time after dusk that the clouds rolled away, the moon appeared and it became evident that the storm for the night had subsided.

Despite the early downpour, there was a fine attendance at the hop, and it was composed, too, of congenial spirits, who, while aiding in the patriotic object of the organization under which the ball was given, at the same time made up their minds to enjoy themselves regardless of the elemental disturbance without.

In this respect they succeeded most admirably. The music was artistic, the time perfect and the pleasure of the dance floor was unalloyed.

A choice programme, varied with waltz, polka, schottische and square dances, was carried out, and it was not until early hours in the morning that the festive gathering came to a close.

The management of the ball was in the hands of the following gentlemen:

Committee of Arrangements—P. Flynn, chairman; P. Meehan, M. Dineen, J. R. Kelly, M. Herlihy.

Reception Committee—P. J. Delehanty, chairman; Thos. Crowley, P. McBrien, John Forrest, P. Desmond.

Floor director, J. H. Cregan; assistant floor director, M. Ryan.

Floor Committee—P. N. Hanrahan, Tim Moriarity, M. Coakley, James Cox, Ed Fahey.

Among the ladies and gentlemen present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cregan, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. T. Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. T. Fennessy, Mr. and Mrs. Coakley, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Keller, Mr. and Mrs. McEnearney, Mr. and Mrs. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Mulholland, Misses Maggie and Jennie McBrien, James McBrien, Patrick McBrien, Patrick Flynn, P. N. Hanraban, James Cox, Michael Mehan, Daniel McCarthy, John Forest, P. J. Delehanty, Daniel Doyle, E. J. Fitzgerald, Thomas Crowley of San Francisco, Henry Boyer, Will H. Church, Captain Hackett, E. W. White, J. H. Dobsen, Joseph M. Kelley and Edward Mahey.

U. P. E. C. BALL.

The third annual ball of Oakland Council, No. 25 U. P. E. C., will take place next Thursday evening, November 3rd, in Pythian Hall. This is one of the strongest councils in the order and arrangements have been made to make the affair most entertaining in every way.

Now-a-days nearly every woman rides a bicycle. The majority of these who do not, have failed to compass its difficulties because of nervousness. Many women after taking innumerable lessons, and trying vainly to conquor the wheel for weeks, have finally given it up as a hopeless task for this one reason.

In nearly every instance severe nervousness in women may be traced to weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs distinctly feminine. No other class of disorders so torture a woman's nerves or break them down so quickly and effectually. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a sure, speedy and permanent cure for all troubles of this description. It acts directly on the sensitive organs concerned, making them strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain and tones and builds up the nerves. It stops exhausting drains. It banishes the indispositions that precede maternity and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It insures the little new-comer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. It transforms weak, nervous invalids into strong, healthy, nerve-steady women. Thousands have testified to its marvelous merits. An honest dealer will not offer a substitute.

"My wife was troubled with 'female weakness' for several years," writes James Caswell, Esq., of Ocheltree, Johnson Co., Kans., (P. O. Box 61). "She had bearing-down pains and pain in back. Her periods were irregular, she would have fainting spells, the best doctors did her no good. By the time my wife had taken four bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' she was completely cured. No more pain. Her monthly periods are regular, she is stout and strong. When she commenced taking your medicines she weighed about 125 pounds—now she weighs 160 pounds."

Send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser;—Cloth binding ten cents extra. A whole medical library is one 1000-page volume.

DID NOT WANT TO GIVE UP THE SAIL.

H. A. Hebard and Fred Fittock had some trouble over a yacht sail yesterday which ended in Fittock swearing out a warrant for the arrest of Hebard on the charge of disturbing the peace.

It seems that a sail belonging to Fittock had been left with Hebard at his shop, on the other side of the Webster street bridge yesterday Fittock went to the place and asked Hebard for it. Hebard refused to give up the possession of it. When Fittock insisted, Hebard became abusive in his language and raising his crutch threatened to lay Fittock out if he did not leave the place. Fittock then left but appeared later with Deputy Constable Roberts and a warrant and had Hebard arrested.

Hebard pleaded not guilty in Judge Clift's court. His trial was then set for November 7th. He was released on his own recognizance.

News and Notes of Single Tax.

EDITED BY EDGAR POMEROY.

Edited by Edgar Pomeroy.

WANTED:—Some one with time and patience to open a night school for the benefit of the editorial writers of the great San Francisco dailies. SUBJECTS OF STUDY:—The Single Tax, What It Is and What It Should Do; Logic; and Accuracy.

J. V. Webster claims that Henry George's single tax theory is founded on a false basis. Admitting for the sake of argument, that land is unnecessary, one is tempted to ask Mr. Webster where he found his wings.

Socialism is very pretty, but how do the Socialists propose to "get there." When one comes to think of it, it is cheaper to own the land than it is to own the man. He's got to use it, or die anyway and if you don't need him society does not accuse you if you move him off and the police "move" him "on."

Every political economist of any note is a fool. At least that is what we must infer from the speeches and writings which are now engaged in poking fun at the question of the "unearned increment."

Society, having allowed the Egyptians to purchase the right to appropriate the labor of the Israelites, in good faith, was, of course, bound in justice to compensate them for their loss when Moses struck and the big Israelite Labor Union moved out. The Egyptians got compensation—of a kind.

THE CAUSE OF THE IRISH FAMINE.

Ireland, of all European countries, furnishes the great stock example of over population. The extreme poverty of the peasantry and the low rate of wages there prevailing, the Irish famine and Irish emigration, are constantly alluded to as a demonstration of the Malthusian theory worked out under the eyes of the civilized world. I doubt if a more striking instance can be cited of the power of a preaccepted theory to blind men as to the true relation of facts. The truth is, and it lies on the surface, that Ireland has never yet had a population which the natural powers of the country, in the existing state of the productive arts, could not have maintained in ample comfort. At the period of her greatest population (1840-45) Ireland contained something over eight millions of people. But a very large proportion of them managed merely to exist—lodging in miserable cabins, clothed with miserable rags, and with but potatoes for their staple food. When the potato blight came, they died by thousands. But was it the inability of the soil to support so large a population that compelled so many to live in this miserable way, and exposed them to starvation on the failure of a single root crop? On the contrary, it was the same remorseless rapacity that robbed the Indian ryot of the fruits of his toil and left him to starve where Nature offered plenty. A merciless banditti of tax gatherers did not march through the land plundering and torturing, but the laborer was just as effectively stripped by as merciless a horde of landlords, among whom the soil had been divided as their absolute possession, regardless of any rights of those who lived upon it.

Consider the conditions of production under which this eight millions managed to live until the potato blight came. It was a condition to which the words used by Mr. Tennant in reference to India may as appropriately be applied—"the great spur to industry, that of security, was taken away." Cultivation was for the most part carried on by tenants at will, who, even if the rack-rents which they were forced to pay had permitted them, did not dare to make improvements which would have been but the signal for an increase of rent. Labor was thus applied in the most inefficient and wasteful manner and labor was dissipated in aimless idleness that, with and security for its fruits, would have been applied unremittingly. But even under these conditions, it is a matter of fact that Ireland did more than support eight millions. For when her population was at its highest, Ireland was a food exporting country. Even during the famine, grain and meat and butter and cheese were carried for exportation along roads lined with the starving and past trenches into which the dead were piled. For these exports of food, or at least for a great part of them, there was no return. So far as the people of Ireland were concerned, the food thus exported might as well have been burned up or thrown into the sea, or never produced. It went not as an exchange, but as a tribute—to pay the rent of absentee landlords; a levy wrung from producers by those who in no wise contributed to production.

Had this food been left those who raised it; had the cultivators of the soil been permitted to retain and use the capital their labor produced; had security stimulated industry and permitted the adoption of economical methods, there would have been enough to support in bounteous comfort the largest population Ireland ever had, and the potato blight might have come and gone without stinting a single human being of a full meal. For it was not the imprudence "of Irish peasants," as English economists coldly say, which induced them to make the potato the staple of their food. Irish emigrants, when they can get other things, do not live upon the potato, and certainly in the United States the prudence of the Irish character in endeavoring to lay by something for a rainy day is remarkable. They lived on the potato, because rack-rents stripped everything else from them. The truth is that the poverty and misery of Ireland have never been fairly attributable to over population.—Henry George in "Progress and Poverty."

With the Golf Players.

The members of the Oakland Golf Club are busy once more with the sticks and links. The weather has been especially propitious for the game of golf during the past week or two, and the members have taken advantage of it. Every day several players may be seen on the grounds at Adams' Point practicing the game. There is now an added incentive for the players to work hard and become proficient. Mr. and Mrs. Orestes Pierce have donated to the club a cup which will be contested for two weeks from today. To be eligible for this contest members must have made a certain record. It is to attain this required proficiency that the players are now working so hard.

Next Saturday there will be a general tournament to decide who will and who will not be eligible to the contest.

While these home tournaments are being planned, the executive committee is also arranging to have inter-club contests. A series of matches will be held with the other clubs about the bay. The first of this series will be played on December 10th between the Oakland Club and the San Francisco Club. The game will take place at the grounds of the home organization. The week following a return match will be played in San Francisco.

It is now definitely decided that the Burlingame and San Rafael clubs will participate in the series of matches to be held during the winter months. Both clubs have been able to secure adequate grounds for practice and thus obviate the difficulty under which they were laboring. A schedule chronicling the matches between the different clubs is being prepared. It will show the dates and places of the contests.

The social side of the Oakland Golf Club is not one of the least of its attractive features. Almost every day there is a pleasant little lunch party or a card party. There is generally some pleasant social affair in progress which makes the club life very enjoyable.

A Quick-Witted Premier.

At the recent general election in Sydney, N. S. W., flour was the favorite missile of the Sydney crowds, and Mr. Reid, the Premier, was the favorite target. He deftly turned the popular preference into a political argument for his side of the campaign. After three bags of flour had exploded on various parts of his body at a huge open-air meeting he exclaimed: "See how plentiful flour is under my regime. Any one can afford to throw it about. This is a new departure in politics here. Hitherto flour could not be spared for this particular purpose."

PROPERTY SOLD ON DELINQUENT ASSESSMENT.

Nine Pieces Disposed of by Superintendent Miller.

Tenth Avenue Tax Became Due on Thursday Evening.

The sale of property for delinquency in the tax for the opening of Fourteenth street was consummated by Superintendent of Streets Miller yesterday, after an extention of time of several days. The delay was caused by Mr. Miller, who wanted to allow the property owners the longest time possible to learn of the delinquency of the assessment and thus enable them to prevent thesale.

The office employes of the Street Superintendent have worked incessantly for the purpose of notifying property owners and also of striving to ascertain the whereabouts of the owners of property who could not be located in this city.

As a consequence, out of forty delinquents of a few days ago the property of only nine was sold. The names of the people whose property was sold and the amount of the assessment to which 25 cents additional must be added, are as follows:

Sarah Weill, $145.38; Chas. Files, $8.12; Jas. Hogarty, $3.36; Simon Goldberg, $6.71; E. Smith, $14.43; P. A. Brien, $2.03; Sarah A. Stone, $8.44; Rose Coffey, $3.46; Lucy C. Ormsby, $8.88; total, $201.71.

The money will be turned over to the commissioners tomorrow.

The assessment for the opening of Tenth avenue from East Twenty-second to East Twenty-fourth streets became delinquent Thursday night. It amounts to $215. There were twenty-five pieces. The total assessment amounted to $1,668.68.

SOME POINTS ABOUT WEARING GLASSES.

Editor Tribune—Every day I hear the question put to me by people: "Don't people wear glasses more here than in the East?" or "I never saw so many people wearing glasses as there are here," and various other questions. For the enlightenment of your readers and to put parents on their guard as to the welfare of the eyes of their children, I enclose the following clipping from an Eastern optical journal, which will give an idea of the number of children having defective vision, and cause a change of opinion that California is the only place where children and people are wearing glasses.

The fact of the matter is, the people are beginning to understand that if there is any trouble with their eyes they should have them attended to or put on glasses. Again, the advance in science has made it so that the former dread of having them improperly fitted or treated is almost entirely overcome.

CHAS. H. WOOD,
Optician.

"A paper read before the Medical Association, upon myopia, written by Dr. Dewling of Cincinnati, presents facts and suggestions of great and general importance. An examination of the eyes of one thousand children in the schools of Cincinnati, to determine the percentage of myopia and the chief cause of the same, showed the facts as follows: Of the one thousand children, more than three hundred were found to be more or less near-sighted. Scarcely any of these were under nine years of age, and the percentage of myopia increased regularly from grade to grade. In the art school, the average of near-sighted pupils was forty-two per cent. The highest percentage was found in classes where fine shading was done; the lowest where drawing and painting were from life. In the college of music the figures were higher still; 56 per cent of the scholars were myopic.

"The German schools were worst of all. In one school half the boys and three-fourths of the girls were near-sighted, and that at the early age of ten or twelve. The fatiguing character of the German letters is supposed to be the cause of this result.

"Dr. Dowling's suggestions, briefly stated, are:

"1. Bad light, bad ventilation, low sanitary conditions, low standard of general health.

"2. School books should be printed in large type.

"3. In reading and studying, the page should be held about one foot from the eyes.

"4. Young people predisposed to myopia should not study by artificial light.

"5. Shading and tinting should be discarded from the public schools."

LAST LECTURE HERE BY REV P. C. YORKE.

On Monday evening, October 31st, the Rev. Father Yorke will lecture in the Tabernacle on the subject "First Principles." Father Yorke will soon go abroad, and this will be his last appearance in this city for some time. The proceeds of the lecture will be given to the fair fund of Father King's parish.

His name is Williams. It was as conductor on the Denver cable line that I knew him. He was always complaining of some trouble or other with his stomach and bowels. He seemed to be either bilious or constipated all the time. In describing his condition he used the expression "out of whack." I remember it particularly because I had never heard it before but have often heard it since. Finally somebody recommended him to use Ripans Tabules and he told me that never in his life did anything do him so much good. Said he felt like a new man. He told me that his wife used them too; but what she took them for I don't remember.

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. One dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

HOW THE MAGUIRE MEN ARE FIGURING

Claims of Strength at Which the Republicans Smile.

Patton Very Liable to Defeat Phelan For Mayor of San Francisco---Plan to Re-Establish the Forestry Commission---Primary Legislation---The Code Commissioners---Politics and Gossip in General.

(Special to the Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 29.—The roar of battle is at its height, and it is hard to say which way the tide of conquest appears to be turning. On the face of it, in view of the Webster and Shanahan episodes of the past few days, it might be figured that Maguire and his forces were being worsted, but up at the Democratic State Central Committee headquarters, where the plan of action is handled, those in charge appear supremely confident and hint mysteriously at something that is to happen next week.

Just what this surprise is to be no one outside of their own immediate circle knows, but that they are hatching something up appears reasonably certain, in view of the rumors that are afloat regarding this pending avalanche. Even without it, though, they claim to be masters of the situation, for despite the figuring by the Republican managers that Gage will carry the State by from 10,000 to 25,000, the Democratic leaders insist that they have it by from 5,000 to 10,000. As far as both sides are concerned, it must be recognized, of course, that the information they receive is highly colored. It comes to them either from the chairmen of their respective County Committees or else from special canvassers who are touring the State and who are, therefore, optimistic to the highest degree.

Anything like conservative estimates cannot be obtained, for each side is so extravagant in its figuring that in many instances they are both claiming the same counties by from 300 to 400. An interesting feature of the calculations is that both the Democrats and the Republicans figure alike as regards Alameda county, the Maguire men being willing to concede it by 3,000. Los Angeles county, though, brings about a wide difference of opinion. The Republicans claim that in view of the fact that it is Gage's home county hundreds of Democrats will vote for him on purely personal grounds, in addition to which he will hold the Republicans practically solid. Then, again, since the last election the names of 6,620 new voters have been added to the Great Register there, and although it is impossible to exactly gauge their political affiliations, it is estimated that 65 per cent of them will prove Republican. On what they consider conservative figures, therefore, the Republicans claim that they will carry Los Angeles county by 3,500, some thinking that the total will run fully as high as 5,000.

The Democrats, however, will only concede Gage 1,000 majority in his home county. Their reason for this is that one of the biggest Silver Republican clubs in the State is in existence there, and they say their advices convince them that this factor alone will mean 4,500 votes for their cause. They further claim that the stand taken by the Los Angeles Times against the campaign committeemen from that section and the way that paper has been associating the railroad with the Republican fight will result in great gains for their side of the issue.

As for the other counties south of Tehachapi, they assert that, although Gage will obtain majorities nearly everywhere except San Diego county, he will not cross Tehachapi with more than 4,000 votes to his credit. Throughout the San Joaquin they say Maguire will pick up more than enough votes to wipe this out, for they figure heavy majorities in Fresno, Kern and Stanislaus counties. In the north, too, they claim Siskiyou and some of the smaller counties, and then with the majority of from 5,000 to 10,000 that they figure they will roll up in San Francisco, they say that the fight is as good as won, even without this mysterious "something" that is to be sprung next week.

* * *

From a Republican standpoint the State is assuming more and more of a Gage hue each day, and the party managers believe that many of the old-time Democratic counties will change their political complexion this year. The cry of single tax that has been raised has, in their opinion, been effective enough to lose Maguire thousands of votes, and then they figure that the declaration of Webster will mean at least 5,000 Populist votes for their cause.

Despite all this confidence the men who back up their opinions with money decline to offer better than even that Gage will be elected, and as the Maguire men want 10 to 8 or 10 to 9, there has been very little coin put up so far. In this regard, though, a great change has taken place in the Mayoralty fight. Two weeks ago the odds were 2½ to 1 in Phelan's favor. The rush of Patton men to put up their money at that figure soon forced the odds back, and during the week one bet was made at Gunst's cigar store of $1,000 to $750 in favor of Phelan. John D. Spreckels is said to have offered to take the Patton end of the wager off the bettor's hands, but he was so well satisfied with it that he would not let it go. The news of this big bet caused the odds in Phelan's favor to decline, and from 100 to 80 they went to 100 to 85, and then to 100 to 90, at which figure they are now with Phelan money scarce. Tony Cook, the horseman, has $500 he wants to bet on Phelan at even money, but he will not concede any fraction of a point in order to get his coin covered.

* * *

The municipal situation here is really in a very interesting condition. Before the Republican County Convention met, and even for a few days afterwards, the general opinion was that Phelan had a walk-over. It soon became apparent, though, that the vigorous fight Patton was making was a telling one, for the upbraiding of what was termed "plug hat" politics seemed to strike a popular spot. Then came the whispering that Phelan was suffering from an enlargement of the head, and there is no way in which votes can be taken away from a man faster than by getting the people to believe that such is the case.

The next volley was the report that Father Yorke was against Phelan this time, and although there were no absolute indications that such a change had taken place, still the rumor was a good one to spread, for it meant heavy losses to Phelan in the Catholic vote of the town. Following this was the attack by the Phelan press on Patton because that gentleman in the course of his campaign happened to go into a certain saloon on Market street in which Martin Kelly chanced to be at the time. It was expected that this would be a big card for Phelan, but it has proved a boomerang, for it has resulted in turning the saloon men against him as a unit, their point being that no candidate should be assailed simply because he drops into a saloon to have a drink. As there are 1,000 saloons in San Francisco, and as each averages three votes, allowing for the proprietor, one bartender and one extra man, this means 3,000 votes lined up for the Republican candidate.

Then came another bad error for the Democratic leader. When the Supreme Court handed down its decision in the Supervisors' case he assailed that tribunal, the result being that almost every lawyer in the metropolis has been turned against him. In addition to this it must be remembered that the Raineyites, Harveyites and Buckleyites are fighting him to a man, so with both the Democratic and Republican "push" directed against him in addition to the other elements set forth, some people think that he will be defeated by as many as 3,000 votes.

It is scarcely necessary to say that the defeat of Phelan would not be hailed with much sorrow by the other Democratic leaders of the State, for Phelan is heading too fast towards both the Governor's and Senator's chairs, and it would be just as well to have him given a set-back. Defeat at the polls this time would of course wipe him out effectually politically, for a man beaten in a local contest is rarely considered afterwards in State or national issues.

* * *

As regards the rest of the municipal ticket, a curious condition of affairs prevails, for politics appear to have been thrown to the winds and the candidates considered on purely personal grounds. The judgeship fight is perhaps the most interesting, owing to the uncertainty as to which one of the five leading candidates will be defeated. Many think that Murasky will lead the ticket with Seawell next, Borden third and Troutt fourth, with Wallace beaten off, while others insist that Wallace is sure to be one of the victorious quartette and that the man who will be dropped will be either Borden or Troutt. It looks like a pretty even fight, no matter from which point it is regarded.

Henry Martin is making a red-hot run against Bonnet for Sheriff and is putting out lots of money. This also looks like a very even proposition.

Ed Fitzgerald says that the attack on him by the Call has made votes for him instead of taking any away, and he is pursuing the even tenor of his way, confident that he will be elected. He expects to have the labor vote solid behind him.

Franklin Lane, formerly of Oakland, has got a hard fight on his hands for City and County Attorney, as the prestige of his opponent, Attorney General Fitzgerald, is a bad thing to buck against. However, Lane thinks he will win out all right.

Ex-Judge Murphy will beat Barclay Henley for District Attorney, according to present indications.

Justice Frank Kerrigan has practically a walk-over, for partisanship appears to have been laid aside in his case. He has all the wheelmen behind him, and his record on the bench has not left a loop-hole through which he can be attacked. He is one of the most popular young men in town and will poll a big vote.

* * *

And now as regards some important measures that will be presented to the next Legislature. The agitation over the necessity of preserving the forests has led to the framing of a bill to re-establish the Forestry Commission. This time, however, the board is to be conducted on an entirely different basis to the one that was legislated out of existence six years ago. The members of the old Forestry Commission received no pay and places upon it were simply sought for the purpose of controlling the patronage that went with it. The result was that the Commissioners did not feel like devoting too much of their time to the work, and the results were so poor that the Legislature finally abolished the Board altogether.

The Commission as now proposed will be an entirely different affair. The members of the Board are to be paid, and practical men are to be given charge of the work, which will include not only the preservation of the present timber, but the reforesting of the State. Trees are being cut down annually by the hundreds of thousands and none going up in their places, so unless something is soon done towards tree planting on a large scale the State will lose one of its most important features. A forest patrol is also one of the provisions of the proposed bill, the object being to check and limit in every way possible the disastrous fires that sweep the ranges every year.

Colonel John P. Irish is taking great interest in this proposed forestry legislation, and if the Commission is established it is thought that a strong effort will be made to have him appointed one of its members.

* * *

Senator Fred Stratton has an excellent project in view on the subject of the primary legislation. It will be remembered that a few months ago a committee was appointed here to prepare a primary law for the next Legislature. M. M. Estee and T. Carl Spelling took the lead in the matter, and considerable work was done, resulting in the preparation of what in many respects is a first-class bill.

Senator Stratton has, however, also prepared a measure to replace his former one, and is satisfied that he has now met all the objections raised by the Supreme Court to the one passed by the last Legislature. There are also believed to be a number of other primary laws in embryo, and Senator Stratton's plan is to call a public meeting at which primary legislation can be thoroughly discussed and the consensus of opinion woven into one bill. This can then be introduced at the next session of the Legislature as a committee measure, and put through in that form.

The Code Commissioners are willing to incorporate such a bill in the report they will submit to the Legislature, but Senator Stratton thinks it would be better to have it go in as a separate measure as the Commissioners' report is liable to be sidetracked until late in the session, and the primary bill, therefore, never get a chance to obtain a hearing.

The Code Commissioners, by the way, are wrestling with the problem of in what form they can get the Legislature to handle their work. They have gone over the Codes very thoroughly, and they have 1300 or 1400 amendments to offer that they think will straighten out the many tangles that now exist in our laws. The question is, though, must each amendment be presented as a separate measure? If so, it will mean such a huge amount of work for the Legislature to handle that it is feared the members will fight shy of it and postpone it in the interests of their own bills so long that the work of the Commissioners will be lost sight of altogether.

As against this is presented the question of the constitutionality of a measure that would read, "The Political Code of California is hereby amended as follows," all the amendments in that particular Code then being given in the one bill. Some think that it would be unconstitutional to group so many laws into one act, especially as it would be awkward to refer in the title, as is required, to the subject matter of every law handled. Others, though, are of opinion that this wholesale procedure would be perfectly valid, and as the Commissioners would like to have it that way, they are now engaged in looking up precedents that would warrant such a course. It is, of course, very vital that they thoroughly establish their right to make such a move, for otherwise the Codes might be at the mercy of whatever lawyer wanted to attack them, and the entire work of the Commission might ultimately go for naught.

* * *

Senator Perkins is in receipt of a wide variety of applications from those who want to be among the first batch of Federal officials appointed at Hawaii. The idea seems to prevail that because the islands are nearest to the Pacific Coast, that the California Senators will control a good deal of the patronage there, and figuring on that basis, Mr. Perkins is being besieged by requests from would-be collectors, marshals, and even governors.

The applicants will get nothing but disappointment as a result of their efforts, for, as a matter of fact, there is no real reason why Senator Perkins should control patronage in Hawaii any more than in Arizona. The President will handle everything there, regardless of appeals from any particular State, and as he has expressed the intention of appointing persons now resident in Hawaii to the places as far as possible, there will be very little to be given away, anyhow. The principal fight will wage over the Governorship, for the Commission is understood to have recommended that in view of the importance that will be attached to the office there, a salary of $6,000 per annum will not be too much. Harold M. Sewall, our present Minister to Hawaii, is out for it, and it is said that President Dole would also like the honor of being the first American Governor of the islands. If the place does not go to Dole, it is understood that he will be given a position on the Hawaiian Supreme Bench, as will also the present Chief Justice, Judd, who with Dole served as the Hawaiian members on the commission appointed by the President to frame a system of laws for the islands.

Leaving politics for awhile, there are a couple of local matters over here deserving of mention. It is said in theatrical circles that the Alhambra will not open again as a vaudeville house—not at least in connection with its former management. When it was projected, a syndicate with a capital of $400,000 was established, the members thereof being in the main wealthy Hebrews, who, seing the enormous profits being made by the Orpheum, thought that similar results would attend an opposition venture.

The Alhambra, though, was a losing game from the start, and the dollars were vanishing so fast that at last those interested became alarmed and closed it down. The trouble primarily was that owing to the Orpheum's strong circuit arrangements, it was impossible to obtain any good attractions, and secondarily, because the prestige and popularity of the Orpheum are so well established that it is impossible to wrest them away. Manager John Morrissey of the Orpheum, who is responsible for this condition of affairs, is one of the most capable and popular men in the theatrical business, and it is, in fact, due to him that the house has built up the enormous business it now enjoys.

As regards the future of the Alhambra, those who have sunk money in it are said to be preparing to sell their lease and appointments to the highest bidder. It is not likely to be in very big demand, as it is somewhat out of the amusement center.

There is a rumor around that the Pabst Palace, corner of Ellis and Powell streets, is to be reconstructed and converted into a vaudeville house. It has never been a profitable venture on its present lines, and as there is a large amount of capital invested in it, there will be a determined effort to get profit out of it in some way. It will be a very risky business, though, to buck the Orpheum, owing to the way the latter is able to tie up all the good vaudeville artists who come to the coast.

There has also been some talk of late of opening the theater that was constructed as part of the St. Nicholas Hotel, but which was never used, owing to the fire authorities declaring it unsafe. The present lessee of the hotel is said to be willing, though, to spend $30,000 putting it in shape, if some one will lease it for a term of years.

Jud Brusie of Sacramento, who has been stumping the State for the Republican ticket, has been speaking in and around town during the week, and has met with very flattering receptions. He is an eloquent speaker and has been doing good work.

Senator Langford of San Joaquin is in town.

Judge Conley of Madera is doing some campaigning around the metropolis. From the assurances he has been given throughout the State, he feels satisfied that after January 1st he will take a seat on the Supreme Bench.

Leon Dennery is making a hurricane fight for State Senator, and is now regarded as a sure winner. For a time it looked as if he would have his hands full to beat Porter Ashe, but everything seems to be coming his way now.

STORY ABOUT THE BORDEN SISTERS.

A recently returned visitor from the East tells of being delayed at Fall River. Dreading the two hours' wait, in the dusty train, a carriage was ordered and a drive taken about the pretty place. The coachman proved to be communicative. The Borden Sisters were his daily customers during the pleasant weather. The celebrated Lizzie is well and cheerful, but her sister has gradually lost her mind since the dreadful tragedy of several years ago, in which they were so deeply involved. Public opinion in her home town is against the woman, which is shown by this bit of poetry inspired at the time by the prevailing sentiment.

Lizzie Borden, with an ax,
Gave her mother forty whacks;
When she found what she had done,
She gave her father forty-one.

THANKS TO THE TRIBUNE, MERCHANTS AND FRIENDS

The ladies of West Oakland Red Cross Auxiliary have given up their rooms, 1460 Seventh street, and will meet at the members' homes in the future. They wish to thank the friends who have so generously helped them in their Red Cross work. They further desire to thank Mr. Kohler, who kindly gave them free use of the rooms; E. E. Lyon, who generously loaned them the furniture; Miss M. C. Smith of 1472 Seventh street, Mr. McIntyre of Chester and Seventh streets, and Mr. Jackson of the Chicago Clock Co., and the many merchants and friends who have made generous donations. It would be impossible to mention all, their name being "legion"; and last but not least, to the Tribune, which has always given them generous space in its valuable paper.

FIGHTING THE VEHICLE LICENSE.

The cases of G. W. Arper, John Davis, Fred Becker, James P. Taylor, T. Westphal, J. Fay, Fred Sinclair, George Taylor and C. W. Kinsey who are fighting against the license tax on vehicles, was continued in the Police Court until November 4th. In the meantime they will have been taken to the Superior Court on a writ of habeas corpus.

LONDONERS ALARMED BY INFLUENZA.

Labouchere's Pen Sears the "Nauseous Jockey Worship" With Tod Sloan as a Text.

Lord Kitchener Refuses to Make a Series of One Night Lecture Stands or Write a Book on His Nile Campaign.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Influenza has made its appearance here earlier this season. The number of cases this week is the highest since last winter. Fifteen deaths in London are officially attributed to influenza, and there are some apprehensions that it will assume epidemic form.

The racing at Newmarket was again the occasion for big society gatherings. There was a record attendance at the Cambridgeshire, where lots of money was dropped on the Prince of Wales' None Such, which was left at the post with Tod Sloan in the saddle. The racing fever of the last few weeks called forth protests from various quarters. Mr. Henry Labouchre in Truth, referring to Tod Sloan, denounces "the nauseous jockey worship which was such a discreditable and idiotic feature of the turf twenty years ago."

Lord Russell of Killowen, the Lord Chief Justice of England, in a speech, has also decried this mania, saying: "They worship this god to such an extent that if Tod Sloan, supposing his nationality did not stand in the way, were to become a candidate for Epsom, it is doubtful if the present member would have a chance."

KING OF GREECE TO ADDICATE.

According to advices received from the Court of Copenhagen, where King George of Greece is staying, after attending the funeral of the Queen of Denmark, it is believed there that he will abdicate next spring in favor of the Crown Prince Constantine, Duke of Sparta, and will return to Denmark and settle there permanently.

The birth of a son to Prince Emanuel, Duke of Aosta, oldest nephew of the King of Italy, was a very important event for the house of Savoy, as, unless a change of circumstances occurs, he will sit on the throne of Italy.

It has been asserted that the Crown Prince, Vittorio Emanuele, Prince of Naples, who was married October 24, 1896, to Princess Helena of Montenegro, may never have issue, and, as the Duke and Duchess of Aosta were married, relatively, a long time, without having children, the enemies of the house of Savoy, especially the clericals, diligently spread the idea that the absence of a direct heir after the Prince of Naples was the result of the curse of God for the usurpation of the Papal States. Anxiety was beginning to be felt in the royal family of Italy, and the Count of Turin, the second nephew of the King, was given to understand that he would have to marry. The project, however, has been stifled by the birth of a son to the Duke and Duchess of Aosta.

An interesting announcement in connection with Papal finance has been made by a well-informed newspaper of Rome, which says the Vatican authorities have decided to invest the Peters' pence fun in a large sugar manufactory, and, it is added, there are some misgivings in Catholic circles as to the wisdom of the Vatican again embarking in a speculative undertaking, seeing that the last venture resulted in the loss of several million lire.

SIRDAR'S SOCIAL SUCCESS.

General Lord Kitchener has been overwhelmed with social invitations since his return to England, but he is disposed to take a rest. He has been asked by two English publishing firms to write a book, and an American agent has been trying to get him to consent to a lecturing tour in the United States. But the commander of the Anglo-Egyptian forces has declined all these propositions.

The statement that General Kitchener served in the French army during the war of 1870-71 was confirmed this week by an interview with his stepmother at Dinan. She said he had just received his commission in the British army and went to France on a holiday visit to his father, who had settled at Dinan. Young Kitchener, in spite of the opposition of his father, who feared he would lose his British commission, joined the Dinan Mobiles, and set out against the Germans. At Laval he ascended in a balloon to reconnoiter the enemy's position and caught a severe attack of pleurisy, which compelled him to return to Dinan and cut short his career in the French army.

Lady Henry Somerset, who is living quietly at Eastnor Castle, is occupied in modeling a statuette of the late Miss Frances Willard.

MILITARY SCHOOL SCANDAL.

The talk of military circles, next to discussing the prospects of war with France, has been an extraordinary affair at the Hythe School of Musketry, resulting in the severe punishment of seventeen out of the eighty-six officers there. It appears that one of the officers incurred detestation by offensive boasting at the expense of a certain lady. A number of the other officers at first played a trick upon him as a warning, and he complained to the commandant, who reprimanded the culprits. The brother officers of the objectionable officer thereupon determined to give him severe chastisement. They went to his room, destroyed all his uniforms, and then, after having stripped him, inflicted corporal punishment. Several of the officers who took part in the affair have been dismissed from the school, and others have been punished in various manners.

The French papers declare that Emperor William made the following utterance during his visit to Constantinople: "The French are an extraordinary people. When you see them separately they are charming, but in a mass they are unbearable. They refuse to understand us. If we two were allies we should run the world. Never mind, I shall end by forcing my friendship on them."

CHRISTIAN SCIENTISTS.

The sad circumstance of the death of Harold Frederic, the London correspondent of the New York Times, has directed considerable attention upon the Christian Scientists and especially upon the kindred sect known as the "Peculiar People." The number of deaths of children among the latter has become unpleasantly large. This week a Coroner's jury found a member of this sect guilty of the manslaughter of his son eight months old.

A physician testified that the child's life could have been saved by an ordinary doctor, and it was shown that its parents had lost several others of their twelve children. Inquests were held on three of them.

At the theaters, during the past week, there have been no novelties, but there is great expectancy over coming productions. Henry Arthur Jones' "The Manoeuvers of Jane" will be presented at the Haymarket tonight with Winifred Emory, Cyril Maude, Frederick Harrison and Gertrude Kingston in the cast. Beerbohm Tree will produce "The Three Musketeers" on Thursday, and Charles Wyndham will give a new play by Louis Parker and Murray Carson at the Criterion a few days later, for which Kyrle Bellew joins the Criterion Company.

At Manchester, on Thursday last, George Alexander presented Walter Frith's new play, "The Man of Forty." It was enthusiastically received. Mr. Alexander, Julie Opp and H. B. Irving were especially successful.

Sir Henry Irving's illness is more serious than at first reported. He has already been confined to his bed at Glasgow for a fortnight.

ELECTION PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT. }

In accordance with law thereunto directing me, I hereby proclaim and give notice that a general election will be held throughout the State of California, on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER EIGHTH, A. D. 1898, at which election the following officers will be elected and the following proposed constitutional-amendments and other questions will be voted on:

GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

SECRETARY OF STATE.

CONTROLLER.

TREASURER.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

SURVEYOR GENERAL.

CLERK OF THE SUPREME COURT.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

SUPERINTENDENT OF STATE PRINTING.

Also, SEVEN REPRESENTATIVES TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES, being one Representative from each Congressional District in this State.

Also, THREE RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS, being one Railroad Commissioner from each Railroad District in this State.

Also, FOUR MEMBERS OF THE STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION, being one member from each of the four districts from which by law members of the Board of Equalization are to be elected.

Also, TWO ASSOCIATE JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

Also, FOUR JUDGES OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE CITY AND COUNTY OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTIES OF SANTA CLARA, TULARE AND GLENN.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF DEL NORTE, for the unexpired term of James E. Murphy, deceased, ending January, 1903; vice Fletcher A. Cutler, appointed.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA, for the unexpired term of W. B. Cope, resigned, ending January, 1903; vice W. S. Day, appointed.

Also, ONE JUDGE OF THE SUPERIOR COURT IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF KINGS, for the unexpired term of Justin Jacobs, deceased, ending January, 1901.

Also, TWENTY MEMBERS OF THE SENATE, being one Senator from each of the following Senatorial Districts, to-wit: Second, Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Tenth, Twelfth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Eighteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-eighth, Thirtieth, Thirty-second, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-eighth, Fortieth.

Also, EIGHTY MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY, being one member of the Assembly from each of the eighty Assembly Districts in this State.

Also, at said election, AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF CALIFORNIA, submitted by the Legislature of this State, at its last regular session, numbered and designated as hereinafter specified, will be voted upon by the electors of said State, namely:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section eighteen of article eleven of the Constitution, in relation to revenue and taxation, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 18. No county, city, town, township, board of education or school district shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for it for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before, or at the time of incurring such indebtedness, provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also provision to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same; provided, however, that the city and county of San Francisco may at any time pay the unpaid claims with interest thereon for materials furnished to and work done for said city and county during the forty-third and forty-fourth fiscal years, out of the income and revenue of any succeeding year or years; provided, that any and all claims for making, repairing, altering, or for any work done upon or for any material furnished for any street, lane, alley, court, place or sidewalk, or for the construction of any sewer or sewers in said city or county are hereby excepted from the provisions of this section; and in determining any claim permitted to be paid by this section, no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner; and provided further, that the city of Vallejo, in Solano county, may pay its existing indebtedness incurred in the construction of its water-works, whenever two-thirds of the electors thereof voting at an election held for that purpose, shall so decide. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision, with the exception hereinbefore recited, shall be void.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be known and designated as section seven and one-half, article eleven thereof, providing for the framing, by the inhabitants of counties, of local county government acts for their own government. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 7½. The inhabitants of any county may frame a county government act for their own government, relating to the matters hereinafter specified, and consistent with, and subject to, the Constitution and laws of this State, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who have been, for at least five years, qualified electors of such county, to be elected by the qualified electors of such county, at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose a county government act for such county, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such board, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy thereof to the Board of Supervisors or other legislative body of such county, and the other copy to be sent to the Recorder of deeds of the county. Such proposed county government act shall then be published in two papers of general circulation in such county, or if there be not two such papers, then in one only, for at least twenty days, and within not less than thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such county, at a general or special election, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon shall ratify the same, it shall thereafter be submitted to the Legislature for its rejection or approval, as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, and if approved by a majority of the members elected to each house it shall be the county government act of such county, and shall in such case become the organic law thereof and supersede any existing county government act, and all amendments thereof, and all special laws inconsistent with such county government act.

A copy of such county government act, certified by the President of the Board of Supervisors or other legislative body of such county, and authenticated by the seal of such county, setting forth the submission of such county government act to the electors and its ratification by them, shall be made in duplicate and deposited, one in the office of the Secretary of State, the other, after being recorded in the office of the Recorder of deeds in the county, among the archives of the county.

All courts shall take judicial notice thereof. The county government act so ratified may be amended, at intervals of not less than two years, by proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the county, to the qualified electors thereof, at a general or special election held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, and ratified by at least three-fifths of the qualified electors voting thereon, and approved by the Legislature as herein provided for the approval of the county government act. In submitting any such county government act, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

It shall be competent in all county government acts framed under the authority given by this section, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several township and county officers, other than Judges of the Superior Court, shall be elected and appointed; for their compensation; for the number of such officers, for the consolidation or segregation of offices, for the number of deputies that each officer shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies, for the manner in which, the times in which and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches; also, to prescribe the manner and method by which all elections by the people shall be conducted; and may in addition determine the tests and conditions upon which electors, political parties and organizations may participate in any primary election.

Whenever any county has, in the manner and method herein pointed out, adopted any county government act, and the same shall have been approved by the Legislature as aforesaid, the directions of sections four and five of this article providing for the uniformity of a system of county governments throughout the State, and likewise providing for the election and appointment of officers, and the regulation of their compensation, shall not apply. Said county government act shall, as to any of the matters hereinabove provided for and declared by such county government act, not be subject to any law or amendment enacted by the Legislature, except by amendment first submitted to the electors and ratified in the manner hereinabove set forth.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 44.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be known and designated as section five and one-half, article six, thereby providing for the organization of a court, to be known as the Court of Claims. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The Court of Claims shall consist of any three Judges of the Superior Court, who may be requested by the Governor to hold court at the regular terms thereof. The Court of Claims shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine all claims of every kind and character against the State, under such laws as may be passed by the Legislature, and its judgment thereon shall be final. The terms of the Court of Claims shall be held as follows:

In the city of Los Angeles, commencing on the second Monday of March;

In the city and county of San Francisco, commencing on the second Monday in July, and

In the city of Sacramento, commencing on the second Monday of November of each year.

The Judges holding such term of court shall receive no extra compensation therefor, but shall receive their actual expenses, to be paid out of the general fund of the State Treasury. The Legislature shall enact all laws necessary to organize such court, to provide the procedure thereof and to carry out the provisions of this section.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, amending article eleven, by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section number five and one-half, relating to consolidated city and county governments. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The provisions of section four and five of this article shall not, nor shall any legislation passed pursuant thereto, apply to any consolidated city and county government, now existing or hereafter formed, which shall have become, or shall become, organized under section seven, or secure a charter under section eight of this article.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 36.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment of section fifteen and section sixteen of article five of the Constitution of the State of California, by which it is proposed to amend said sections to read as follows:

Section 15. A Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the same time and place and in the same manner as the Governor, and his term of office and his qualifications shall be the same. He shall be President of the Senate, but shall only have a casting vote therein.

Section 16. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office, resignation or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. And should the Lieutenant Governor be impeached, displaced, resign, die or become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the State, the President pro tempore of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy in the office of Governor shall be filled at the next general election when members of the Legislature shall be chosen, or until such disability of the Lieutenant Governor shall cease. In case of a vacancy in the office of Governor for any of the reasons above named, and neither the Lieutenant Governor nor the President pro tempore of the Senate shall succeed to the powers and duties of Governor, then the powers and duties of such office shall devolve upon the Speaker of the Assembly, until the office of Governor shall be filled at such general election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section six, article nine of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to grammar schools, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 6. The public school system shall include primary and grammar schools, and such High schools, evening schools, Normal schools and technical schools as may be established by the Legislature or by municipal or district authority, but the entire revenue derived from the State school fund, and the State school tax, shall be applied exclusively to the support of primary and grammar schools. Grammar schools shall include schools organized in a school district, or union of school districts, having more than one thousand inhabitants, in which a course of study shall be taught which will prepare pupils to enter the agricultural, mining or scientific department of the University of California.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 24.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section two of article four of the Constitution, in relation to sessions of the Legislature, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall commence at twelve o'clock meridian on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election of its members, and shall be biennial unless the Governor shall in the interim convene the Legislature by proclamation. The Legislature shall then remain in session for twenty-five days, after which it must adjourn to some date not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the time of adjournment. If the two houses fail to agree upon a time at which they will resume their session, the Governor shall, by proclamation, fix a date for such reconvening, which shall be within the limits above prescribed. Upon re-assembling the Legislature shall complete its session. No pay shall be allowed to members for a longer period than seventy-five days, and no bill shall be introduced in either house, except at the first twenty-five days of the session, without the consent of three fourths of the members thereof.

Each of the said proposed amendments are to be separately voted upon in manner and form as follows:

Each ballot used at such election must contain written or printed thereon the following words, whereupon the voter may express his choice as provided by law:

| | |
|---|---|
| Amendment Number One, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41, (exempting certain claims against the city and county of San Francisco, and the existing indebtedness of the city of Vallejo for the construction of its water works from the provisions of the Constitution requiring such claims to be paid from the income and revenues of the year in which they were incurred.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Two, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10, (providing for framing local county government acts, by inhabitants of counties for their government.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Three, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 44, (providing for the creation of a Court of Claims to determine claims against the State, and to consist of three Superior Judges designated by the Governor to serve without extra compensation.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Four, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37, (exempting consolidated cities and counties, organized or to be organized, or holding a charter under the Constitution, from certain legislation, in relation to counties.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Five, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 36, (relating to office of Governor, providing for succession thereto in certain cases and removing disability of Lieutenant Governor from holding other office during term.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Six, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 38, (relating to and defining grammar schools.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Seven, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 34, (providing for adjournment of Legislature for not less than thirty nor more than sixty days during each session.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |

Also, at said election, the following question shall be voted on: The Legislature of this State at its thirty-second session adopted a resolution on the 22d day of March, 1897, known as Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4, recommending to the electors of this State, at the general election to be held November 8th, A. D. 1898, to vote for or against a Convention to revise the Constitution of the State. The proposed Convention is to consist of eighty delegates, one to be chosen from each Assembly District. Such delegates are to possess the same qualifications and shall be elected in the same manner as members of the Assembly; they shall receive as compensation the sum of $8 per day, with the same mileage as the members of the Assembly, and there shall be a reasonable number of clerks and other attaches whose compensation shall be fixed by the Convention. Accordingly at such general election the electors of this State will vote for or against a Convention to revise said Constitution. Each ballot used at such election shall contain printed thereon, in addition to other matter required by law, the words:

FOR THE CONVENTION TO REVISE THE CONSTITUTION.

AGAINST THE CONVENTION TO REVISE THE CONSTITUTION.

And I do hereby offer a reward of One Hundred Dollars for the arrest and conviction of any and every person violating any of the provisions of Title IV, Part I, of the Penal Code; such reward to be paid until the total amount hereafter expended for the purpose reaches the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed, at the City of Sacramento, this 28th day of September, A. D. 1898.

JAMES H. BUDD,
Governor.

(Seal)
Attest:
L. H. BROWN,
Secretary of State.

The foregoing is a true and correct copy of the proclamation of the Governor of the State of California, issued on the 28th day of September, 1898, calling a general election throughout the State of California, to be held the 8th day of November, 1898, for the purpose of electing the officers named in such proclamation and for such other purposes as are therein specified, and which said proclamation has been received by the Board of Supervisors of the said County of Alameda.

Dated October 20th, 1898.

J. R. TALCOTT,
Chairman of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, State of California.

(Seal)
FRANK C. JORDAN,
Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

By F. H. MASON, Deputy Clerk.

PROCLAMATION.

State of California,
Executive Department,
Sacramento, July 30, 1898.

Whereas, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-second session, beginning on the fourth day of January, A. D. 1897, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voting in favor thereof, proposed the following described amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section eighteen of article eleven of the Constitution, in relation to revenue and taxation, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 18. No county, city, town, township, board of education or school district shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for it for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before, or at the time of incurring such indebtedness, provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also provision to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same; provided, however, that the city and county of San Francisco may at any time pay the unpaid claims with interest thereon for materials furnished to and work done for said city and county during the forty-third and forty-fourth fiscal years, out of the income and revenue of any succeeding year or years; provided, that any and all claims for making, repairing, altering, or for any work done upon or for any material furnished for any street, lane, alley, court, place or sidewalk, or for the construction of any sewer or sewers in said city or county are hereby excepted from the provisions of this section; and in determining any claim permitted to be paid by this section, no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner; and provided further, that the city of Vallejo, in Solano county, may pay its existing indebtedness incurred in the construction of its water-works, whenever two-thirds of the electors thereof voting at an election held for that purpose, shall so decide. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision, with the exception hereinbefore recited, shall be void.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be known and designated as section seven and one-half, article eleven thereof, providing for the framing, by the inhabitants of counties, of local county government acts for their own government. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 7½. The inhabitants of any county may frame a county government act for their own government, relating to the matters hereinafter specified, and consistent with, and subject to, the Constitution and laws of this State, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who have been, for at least five years, qualified electors of such county, to be elected by the qualified electors of such county, at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose a county government act for such county, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such board, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy thereof to the Board of Supervisors or other legislative body of such county, and the other copy to be sent to the Recorder of deeds of the county. Such proposed county government act shall then be published in two papers of general circulation in such county, or if there be not two such papers, then in one only, for at least twenty days, and within not less than thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such county, at a general or special election, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon shall ratify the same, it shall thereafter be submitted to the Legislature for its rejection or approval, as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, and if approved by a majority of the members elected to each house it shall be the county government act of such county, and shall in such case become the organic law thereof and supersede any existing county government act, and all amendments thereof, and all special laws inconsistent with such county government act.

A copy of such county government act, certified by the President of the Board of Supervisors or other legislative body of such county, and authenticated by the seal of such county, setting forth the submission of such county government act to the electors and its ratification by them, shall be made in duplicate and deposited, one in the office of the Secretary of State, the other, after being recorded in the office of the Recorder of deeds in the county, among the archives of the county.

All courts shall take judicial notice thereof. The county government act so ratified may be amended at intervals of not less than two years, by proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the county, to the qualified electors thereof, at a general or special election held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, and ratified by at least three-fifths of the qualified electors voting thereon, and approved by the Legislature as herein provided for the approval of the county government act. In submitting any such county government act, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others.

It shall be competent in all county government acts framed under the authority given by this section, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several township and county officers, other than Judges of the Superior Court, shall be elected and appointed; for their compensation; for the number of such officers, for the consolidation or segregation of offices, for the number of deputies that each officer shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies, for the manner in which, the times in which and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches; also, to prescribe the manner and method by which all elections by the people shall be conducted; and may in addition determine the tests and conditions upon which electors, political parties and organizations may participate in any primary election.

Whenever any county has, in the manner and method herein pointed out, adopted any county government act, and the same shall have been approved by the Legislature as aforesaid, the directions of sections four and five of this article providing for the uniformity of a system of county governments throughout the State, and likewise providing for the election and appointment of officers, and the regulation of their compensation, shall not apply. Said county government act shall, as to any of the matters hereinabove provided for and declared by such county government act, not be subject to any law or amendment enacted by the Legislature, except by amendment first submitted to the electors and ratified in the manner hereinabove set forth.

AMENDMENT NUMBER THREE.

(Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 44.)

A resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, by adding a new section, to be known and designated as section five and one-half, article six, thereby providing for the organization of a court, to be known as the Court of Claims. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The Court of Claims shall consist of any three Judges of the Superior Court, who may be requested by the Governor to hold court at the regular terms thereof. The Court of Claims shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine all claims of every kind and character against the State, under such laws as may be passed by the Legislature, and its judgment thereon shall be final. The terms of the Court of Claims shall be held as follows:

In the city of Los Angeles, commencing on the second Monday of March;

In the city and county of San Francisco, commencing on the second Monday in July, and

In the city of Sacramento, commencing on the second Monday of November of each year.

The Judges holding such term of court shall receive no extra compensation therefor, but shall receive their actual expenses, to be paid out of the general fund of the State Treasury. The Legislature shall enact all laws necessary to organize such court, to provide the procedure thereof and to carry out the provisions of this section.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State, amending article eleven, by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section number five and one-half, relating to consolidated city and county governments. The said proposed new section to read as follows:

Section 5½. The provisions of section four and five of this article shall not, nor shall any legislation passed pursuant thereto, apply to any consolidated city and county government, now existing or hereafter formed, which shall have become, or shall become, organized under section seven, or secure a charter under section eight of this article.

AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 36.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment of section fifteen and section sixteen of article five of the Constitution of the State of California, by which it is proposed to amend said sections to read as follows:

Section 15. A Lieutenant Governor shall be elected at the same time and place and in the same manner as the Governor, and his term of office and his qualifications shall be the same. He shall be President of the Senate, but shall only have a casting vote therein.

Section 16. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office, resignation or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant Governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. And should the Lieutenant Governor be impeached, displaced, resign, die or become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the State, the President pro tempore of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy in the office of Governor shall be filled at the next general election when members of the Legislature shall be chosen, or until such disability of the Lieutenant Governor shall cease. In case of a vacancy in the office of Governor for any of the reasons above named, and neither the Lieutenant Governor nor the President pro tempore of the Senate shall succeed to the powers and duties of Governor, then the powers and duties of such office shall devolve upon the Speaker of the Assembly, until the office of Governor shall be filled at such general election.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section six, article nine of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to grammar schools, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 6. The public school system shall include primary and grammar schools, and such High schools, evening schools, Normal schools and technical schools as may be established by the Legislature or by municipal or district authority, but the entire revenue derived from the State school fund, and the State school tax, shall be applied exclusively to the support of primary and grammar schools. Grammar schools shall include schools organized in a school district, or union of school districts, having more than one thousand inhabitants, in which a course of study shall be taught which will prepare pupils to enter the agricultural, mining or scientific department of the University of California.

AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN.

(Being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 34.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section two of article four of the Constitution, in relation to sessions of the Legislature, by which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall commence at twelve o'clock meridian on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election of its members, and shall be biennial unless the Governor shall in the interim convene the Legislature by proclamation. The Legislature shall then remain in session for twenty-five days, after which it must adjourn to some date not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the time of adjournment. If the two houses fail to agree upon a time at which they will resume their session, the Governor shall, by proclamation, fix a date for such reconvening, which shall be within the limits above prescribed. Upon re-assembling, the Legislature shall complete its session. No pay shall be allowed to members for a longer period than seventy-five days, and no bill shall be introduced in either house, except at the first twenty-five days of the session, without the consent of three-fourths of the members thereof.

Now, therefore, pursuant to the provisions of the Constitution, and an act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An act to provide for the submission of proposed amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to the qualified electors for their approval," approved March 7, A. D. 1883, the above described amendments are hereby published and advertised to be voted upon, by ballot, by the qualified electors of the State, at the election to be held throughout this State on ## TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8. A. D. 1898.

The said proposed amendments are to be separately voted upon in manner and form as follows:

Each ballot used at such election must contain written or printed thereon the following words, whereupon the voter may express his choice as provided by law:

| | |
|---|---|
| Amendment Number One, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41, (exempting certain claims against the city and county of San Francisco, and the existing indebtedness of the city of Vallejo for the construction of its water works from the provisions of the Constitution requiring such claims to be paid from the income and revenues of the year in which they were incurred.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Two, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 10, (providing for framing local county government acts, by inhabitants of counties for their government.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Three, being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 44, (providing for the creation of a Court of Claims to determine claims against the State, and to consist of three Superior Judges designated by the Governor to serve without extra compensation.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Four, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37, (exempting consolidated cities and counties, organized or to be organized, or holding a charter under the Constitution, from certain legislation in relation to counties.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Five, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 36, (relating to office of Governor, providing for succession thereto in certain cases and removing disability of Lieutenant Governor from holding other office during term.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Six, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 33, (relating to and defining grammar schools.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |
| Amendment Number Seven, being Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 34, (providing for adjournment of Legislature for not less than thirty nor more than sixty days during each session.) For the Amendment? | Yes / No |

Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the State of California, the day and year herein first above written.

PART 2. # OAKLAND TRIBUNE.

VOL. XXXXV OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 29, 1898. NO. 164

Fun Will Reign at the Macdonough Next Monday.

"Lost in New York" Goes on the Boards at the Dewey.

"UNCLE TOM'S" SEASON CLOSES.

Some Strong Attractions on the Stages Across the Bay.

It takes a general to devise and plan for a successful campaign, and so it is with stage entertainments. Mathews and Bulger, who appear on Monday night at the Macdonough, can be likened to a pair of successful generals, so far as it applies to the amusement public. They not only conceive, plan and devise their entertainments, but come pretty near being the exclusive authors, as the ideas and suggestions furnished are almost entirely their own. When one contemplates such a task as putting together a new and novel peformance in these days, when almost every idea has been written to death, it will be admitted by all that nothing short of a successful general in stage offerings could accomplish such results. How well these real funny performers have succeeded, the fun-loving public will be able to see when their rag-time opera, "By the Sad Sea Waves," with its immense company, picturesque scenery, novel electric light effects and with all the resources of the comic opera stage, including an ever gay, dashing chorus, will be seen when presented.

Mathews and Bulger appear here only one night.

AT THE DEWEY.

The concluding performances of the famous old play, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which has been played at the Dewey the past week to large and appreciative audiences, will take place Saturday and tomorrow nights.

Commencing Monday evening and continuing through the week, with Saturday matinee, will be presented the sensational comedy drama, "Lost in New York."

The play is one which appeals to the heart of every lover of the drama, and the author has interwoven a strong vein of comedy both pleasing and elevating.

Several up-to-date specialties will be introduced, including a song entitled "Maggie Murphy," written by Frank W. Healy and dedicated to Miss Jessie Norton, who will sing it for the first time on any stage.

Special attention has been paid to the scenery, staging and cast, which includes W. J. Elleford, Bert Morrison, Wm. Gleason, Fred Fairbanks, J. J. Hyland, Miss Jessie Norton, Miss Mina Gleason, Miss Marie Baker, Miss Carmelita Yost and little Florence Emmery.

This selection of artists and the production under the personal provision of W. J. Elleford is sufficient guarantee that the play of the coming week will be worthy the liberal patronage the people of Oakland have extended to the Dewey Opera House, which is now a successfully established family theater.

THE ALCAZAR.

The Alcazar company is presenting a very pretty piece this week entitled "May Blossom" from the pen of David Belasco. The piece is not a new one, but has been found to be very popular, as the large audiences show. This piece had a long run at the Madisoin Square Theater, New York, and many other prominent theaters. Ernest Hastings and Miss Gretchen Lyons in the leading roles do very well. The remainder of the company, especially Howard Scott, Frank Denithorne, George Osbourne and Juliet Crosby, handle their characters in a most commendable manner, and the production is one of the best seen at the Alcazar for some time. Nat Goodwin's political comedy, "Ambition," will be next week's attraction.

THE COMEDY.

The management of the Comedy Theater has been very unlucky this week. Miss Clara Thropp disappeared in the early part of the week, and, as a consequence, the production of the comic opera, "The Little Hussar," had to be withdrawn. Marie Winson, a clever soubrette of the company, has taken Miss Thropp's place in "Where's Matilda?" and she has carried the piece quite as well during the week. This afternoon and to-morrow afternoon, souvenirs will be distributed to the ladies. Beginning next Monday, the Henderson Company, including Edward M. Bell, late of the Frawleys, and Frankie Raymond of "Ali Baba" fame, will appear in Sardou's comedy, "A Scrap of Paper," and will be succeeded on Thursday by "The Crust of Society." This engagement is limited to one week, and large audiences are expected.

THE CALIFORNIA.

The California Theater re-opened for the season this week with a grand production of Wm. Calder's famous play, "The Span of Life." There are many sensational scenes in the play, among them being the light-house on Coffin rocks, and the human bridge formed by three clever acrobats over which the heroine crosses a chasm. The company is very strong and keeps the audiences in wild enthusiasm. This week Gilmore and Leonard's Company will appear in "Hogan's Alley," introducing the yellow kid.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Maud Miller and James Brophy as "Badger" carry off the honors in "The Streets of New York" this week at Morosco's. The piece is played very creditably by the stock company and the scenic effects are very handsome. Next week Lewis Morrison's latest success "The Indian," will be presented.

THE ALHAMBRA.

The managers of the Alhambra are working very hard, securing good talent to offer the theater-goers. A production of Chas. Ulrich's Chinese drama "A Celestial Maiden" may possibly be given in the near future.

THE TIVOLI.

"Girofle-Girofla" is renewing its old-time popularity at the Tivoli this week. The opera is being presented in a complete manner, and the company does admirable work, as does also the orchestra, under the direction of Max Hirschfeld. "The Grand Duchess," with Anna Lichter in the leading role, will be the next opera.

THE ORPHEUM.

John C. Rice and Sally Cohn in "Our Honeymoon" have amused large audiences at the Orpheum this week. Their act is one of the best seen in San Francisco, and they make a big hit. The Rossow midgets also please, and Charlie Rossow's impersonation of Anna Held is a clever piece of acting. The Royles, Mary Norman, the biograph, and Barry and Cain complete a very fine bill. Carl Hertz, the famous magician, and several other new acts will be given next week.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

Willie Collier is writing a comedy in which he may star next season. It is entitled, "Mr. Smooth."

The condition of Madame Rhea, who is suffering from cancer, is said to be critical. She is at Montmorency, France.

George Edwards has renewed his lease of the Gaiety Theater, London, for twenty-one years.

Mrs. Kendal has written, "A Chapter of Autobiography" for that bright London journal, M. A. P.

W. Terriss and W. T. Terriss, sons of the late William Terriss, arrived last week in New York from Europe.

SAN LEANDRO PEOPLE PROUD OF THEIR WORK.

Contract For the Cannery Has Been Signed.

Splendid Report Is Made by Chairman B. C. Hawes.

CLOSE OF AN IMPORTANT DEAL.

Citizens Raised a Bonus to Encourage a New Enterprize.

The people of San Leandro have completed all arrangements to have a new cannery established in their town. The matter has been under consideration for a long time, but it was not until a few days ago that the deal was consummated.

The King-Morse Canning Company has entered into a contract to build a plant at San Leandro with a capacity for 50,000 cases annually. This means a great deal to the people of San Leandro. It means the expenditure of large sums of money annually for fruit and labor.

The citizens of the progressive country town are deserving of great credit for the work they have accomplished. Special credit is due to B. C. Hawes and the members of the executive committee. They have been untiring in their efforts to obtain for San Leandro the benefits to be secured from a big cannery.

Mr. Hawes, who is the Republican candidate for Public Administrator, is chairman of the executive committee. He has worked for months to bring about the deal just closed. Mr. Hawes attended to all the details of drawing up the contracts. He has given months of his time to accomplish something that his townsmen might be proud of. Mr. Hawes has shown himself to be a public-spirited and progressive citizen. The splendid report of his work as presented to his neighbors and colleagues at San Leandro, is as follows:

"SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 24, 1898.

"To the Chairman and Members of the San Leandro Improvement Association—Gentlemen:—In the report presented to you at the last meeting of this association, we had outlined a memorandum of contract which you voiced with unanimous approval. This memorandum has been substantially drawn into an agreement and entered into by your committee with the King Morse Canning Co. of San Francisco, California, the full terms of which will be given hereafter, as well as the indemnity bond which we had promised to procure.

"Several months have now passed since the aforesaid meeting was held by this association, all of which time, however, arduously spent with the task you enjoined upon us, and to-night we are pleased to report stands as an accomplished fact. In carrying out your wishes, though, we had to contend against many barriers that were met with at almost every step we had to take to achieve the successful result. And first with the collection of subscriptions.

"While in the main the committee is pleased to report that the majority of subscribers willingly redeemed their promise, there was a large minority that caused untold labor before they could be induced to pay their subscription. This, of course, has no reference to those whom misfortune has overtaken in the interim between signature on petition and call for payment, as the committee was sensible to that fact and always met them in a compromising way; but there was a large number who could pay, yet endeavored by many means to avoid it. To this class was due the fact the committee was compelled to ask several extensions to the time allotted.

"Our secretary, Mr. Frank, was instructed to use every honorable means to promote collections, and while his exertions were in a measure fruitful, the necessary or promised amount could not be gotten together. As a last resort, the committee issued an appeal to people who had not previously subscribed, and this had the desired effect, as not only the promised sum was aggregated, but also a sufficient amount was collected to defray all expenses. From the report of the secretary, I now give the following figures relating to the finances:

"The sum on the original subscription list aggregated a total of $5,113. Of this amount, $105 was lost in compromising with some of the subscribers as stated herein. About $30 was lost on subscribers who died in the interim or have removed from this section of the country. Besides this, there is a list of some thirty subscribers in the office of the secretary who promised to pay, but up to date have failed to redeem their promise.

"In lieu of the enumerated losses, the committee received in answer to our appeal as follows: From the Oakland, San Leandro and Haywards Electric Railway, $100; Thos. W. Mulford, $25; N. Henricksen, $20; Mrs. S. Graves, $15; Thos. J. Bettencourt, $10; J. H. Garcia, $10; M. Donoven, $10; Joe De Mont, Mrs. N. Sauger, Jno. Clelland, $5; Mrs. Strumer, F. E. Vargas, Quong Lee, J. F. Mendonca, A. J. Vierro, J. S. Cardoza, Mrs. M. E. Bartlett, W. K. Brown, I. J. Ross, M. S. Davilla, $5 each; A. Dias, F. E. Silver, A. Morris, J. Mathews, J. M. Deas, $2.50; F. S. Dickinson and A. M. Vierra, $2; W. P. Truesdell, A. Strumer, Mrs. Blackmag, Mrs. Marks and Prof. Leggatt, $1 each, bringing the grand total of collections to date at $5,234.

"The expenditures were as follows: For fees, interest and taxes, $139.40; collections, internal revenue, recording, $119.61; for postage and stationery, $19.22; printing and typewriting, $22.50; for block of land, $2,100; bonus to be paid to the King Morse Canning Co., $2,800; total, $5,200.74, leaving a balance of $33.26.

"After all expenses have been paid, it is the intention of the committee to turn over the balance to Mr. Frank, as recompense for his faithful service as clerk of our committee.

"In the matter of purchasing the site, the Committee was again beset with difficulties, not only in the selection of the site to suit the purpose in its manifold details, but to purchase it on reasonable terms.

"After negotiating with numerous parties, we finally purchased block 40, known as the Curtin block. The owner, however, is a resident of Montana, and a gentleman who in this deal exercised some peculiar notions. To dissipate these notions required a great deal of explanation, legal and other, but after three months of tarrying, the gentleman finally concluded to deliver the deed, which brought us another step nearer in the direction of getting the cannery.

"Having the site and bonus, we were at last ready to enter into the agreement with the King Morse Canning Co., and the final points were decided on September 26th. The following is a copy of said agreement:

THE AGREEMENT.

"Whereas, the sum of five thousand dollars was subscribed by the residents of the city of San Leandro and vicinity for the purpose that the committee purchase land for a site and give a deed thereof together with a bonus to a party or parties who will agree to erect and operate a canning factory in the said city of San Leandro for five years, and

"Whereas, The said subscribers in a meeting assembled for that purpose duly selected B. C. Hawes, L. C. Morehouse, Joseph Herrscher, J. B. Mendonca and A. B. Cary as the aforesaid committee, and invested them with the following powers, to-wit: To collect the moneys subscribed and pay them over to the treasurer, the Bank of San Leandro, a corporation; the deposits at the said bank to be to the account and subject to the withdrawal by the said committee, to-wit: B. C. Hawes, L. C. Morehouse, Joseph Herrscher, J. B. Mendonca and A. B. Cary, or a majority of this said committee; to purchase the land for a site and to execute and deliver a deed to the party or parties aforesaid; to pay the bonus on performance of conditions to be hereinafter named; to receive an indemnity bond in the penal sum of $5,000, payable on breach of conditions to be hereinafter mentioned to B. C. Hawes, L. C. Morehouse, Joseph Herrscher, J. B. Mendonca and A. B. Cary, and to enter into this agreement; and

"Whereas, The said sum of five thousand dollars has been paid over to the committee by the subscribers: and

"Whereas, The King-Morse Canning Co. (a corporation) of the city and county of San Francisco, for and in consideration of the said land and bonus, agree to perform the conditions to be named hereinafter. Now, therefore, this agreement, made this 26th day of September, A. D. 1898, between B. C. Hawes, L. C. Morehouse, Joseph Herrscher, J. B. Mendonca and A. B. Cary, all of the city of San Leandro, Alameda county, California, parties of the first part, and the King-Morse Canning Co., a corporation, of the city and county of San Francisco, same State, party of the second part,

"Witnesseth: That the parties of the first part, for and in consideration of the covenants and agreements on the part of the party of the second part to be hereinafter named, agree to execute and deliver a deed for a block of land situate and known and designated as block No. forty (40), as said block is so numbered, designated and delineated upon the original map of the town of San Leandro, which map was filed for record in the office of the County Recorder of Alameda county, California, February 27, 1855; said block is bounded north by Hepburn street, east by Estudillo street, south by Saunders street and west by Martinez street. Said deed to be held in escrow by the Bank of San Leandro (a corporation) until the building for the canning factory is completed or a good and sufficient bond is executed, delivered and accepted by the parties of the first part.

"And the parties of the first part further agree to pay the sum of twenty-eight hundred ($2,800) dollars in four equal parts and at such times as usually conditioned in contracts for the erection of buildings.

"And the party of the second part, for and in consideration of the covenants and agreements hereinbefore named, agree to erect building or buildings for a canning factory upon the aforesaid block, or such block as may be mutually agreed upon, in the said city of San Leandro, by the parties of this agreement.

"Said factory to begin operations within the canning season 1898 and run for five years. The years to run consecutively unless prevented by unavoidable calamity. Party of the second part further agrees to erect a building or buildings and equip the canning factory for a capacity of packing at least fifty thousand (50,000) cases of fruit and vegetables per year; and the party of the second part further agrees to execute and deliver an indemnity bond with good and satisfactory sureties for the performance of the aforesaid conditions, to-wit: the capacity and number of years to run the said canning factory in the said city of San Leandro.

"Witness our signature the day and year first above written.

"Witness. Signed

"E. C. HAWES.
"L. C. MOREHOUSE,
"JOS. HERRSCHER,
"J. B. MENDONCA,
"A. B. CARY.
"KING-MORSE CANNING CO.
"I. H. MORSE, Pres.
"E. GREENBAUM, Sec'y."

The following is also a copy of the promised indemnity bond:

"Whereas, The King-Morse Canning Co., a corporation, of the city and county of San Francisco, State of California, has entered into an agreement with B. C. Hawes, L. C. Morehouse, Jos. Herrscher, J. B. Mendonca and A. B. Cary, a committee representing the subscribers of San Leandro and vicinity, that they, the King-Morse Canning Co., will (in consideration of a bonus of the sum of five thousand dollars represented by a block of land in the city of San Leandro, and $2,800 in gold coin of the United States, said bonus being either delivered to the King-Morse Canning Co. or well secured) build on the said block of land, or such other block as may be mutually agreed upon by the parties to this agreement, a cannery with a capacity of 50,000 cases of fruit and vegetables per year, to begin operations in the canning season of 1899 and run for five years, to run consecutively, unless prevented by unavoidable calamity.

"Now therefore, know all men by these presents, that the King-Morse Canning Co., a corporation, as principal, and we, Emil Greenbaum and I. H. Morse, as sureties, are held and firmly bound unto the said B. C. Hawes, L. C. Morehouse, Jos. Herrscher, J. B. Mendonca and A. B. Cary, or either of them, in the sum of five thousand dollars in gold coin of the United States, for well and truly to be made, we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators and successors, jointly and severally and firmly by these presents. Sealed with our seals and dated the twenty-sixth day of September, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight.

"The condition of the above obligation is such that if the above bounden, King-Morse Canning Co., a corporation, will maintain and operate the said cannery according to the terms of the said agreement, then the above obligation to be void, otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

"Also conditioned upon said B. C. Hawes, L. C. Morehouse, Jos. Herrscher, J. B. Mendonca and A. B. Cary well and faithfully performing their said part of the agreement.

"The last is in reference to the payment of the money as a bonus, as the bond has been delivered before the conditions on the part of the committee have been fulfilled.

"This agreement forms the conclusive step in the present work of your committee. The bonus will be paid as per agreement, and the condition that the cannery be erected by next season and run for the number of years as agreed, will receive our continued attention.

"The committee further hopes that the people of San Leandro and vicinity will at all times exercise friendly consideration towards the people who are planting another industry in our beautiful city of San Leandro. Let us trust that this new enterprise will prove an object of as much pride as our two other manufactories, viz: the Daniel Best Agricultural Works and the Hay Press Manufactory of our colleague on this committee, Mr. L. C. Morehouse. Let us further hope that our industries will multiply in the future and our city double its population within the next five years.

"Before concluding my report of the executive committee, I desire to express my sincere appreciation of the constant courtesy extended to me by the individual members of the executive committee, and further beg to acknowledge that at all meetings the utmost harmony prevailed, and all deliberations were accompanied with ever present good feeling and an earnest desire to serve the best interest of this association, the business men of our city of San Leandro and the fruit growers of this section of Alameda county. Yours faithfully,

"B. C. HAWES,
"Chairman Executive Committee."

OF INTEREST TO MINING PEOPLE.

Vancouver, B. C., wants to establish a Mining Stock Board.

A cyanide plant is being put in at Yucaipe, San Bernardino county.

Over 2,800 electric lights will illuminate Dawson City beginning November 1st.

The net profits of La Fortuna mine at Yuma, Arizona, are said to be $50,000 a month.

The Old Dominion Copper M. & S. Co., at Globe, Arizona, employs over 300 men.

Los Angeles men propose building a copper smelter at San Diego of forty tons daily capacity.

Hidden in the city dump pile at Leadville, Colo., fifty sacks of ore were discovered last week that aggregated $110,000, stolen from the various mines.

The Tuolumne, Cal., Independent visits deserved censure on those who tend to injure the mining prospects of that county by dishonest schemes and dealings.

In the underground workings of the Copper Queen mine at Bisbee, Arizona, there are over sixty miles of car track.

Gov. Murphy writes that Arizona has now a population of 100,000. That territory should be granted Statehood.

The California State Mining Bureau will soon move from its present quarters to the San Francisco ferry depot.

The monthly pay roll last week of the Geyser-Marion mine at Mercur, Utah, to employes alone amounted to $17,000.

At the April Fool mine, DeLamar, Nevada, 60 per cent of the gold in the ore is extracted on the plates, the residue cyanided. It is expected that the $400,000 option on the property will be taken up by December 1st.

An electric railway from Colorado Springs, Colo., to [illegible] Creek, via Manitou, is to be built. The electric railway now in operation between Cripple Creek and Victor is believed to be the highest in the world.

The appearance of the ore vein at the deepest working on the Wedge mine (415 feet) Randsburg, Cal., encourages the belief that deep mining will prove as profitable there as in Central and Northern California.

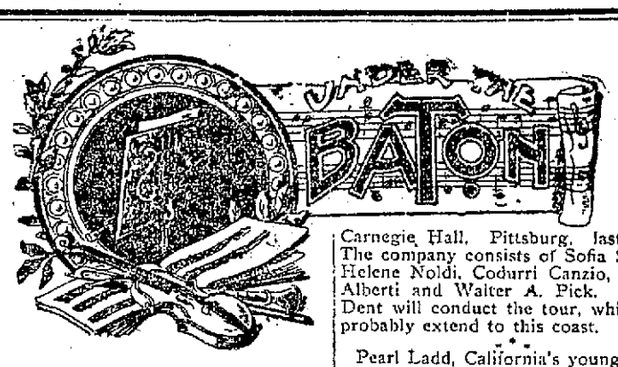

Marcus Daly wants the Washoe Company's new smelter built at or near Anaconda, Montana. J. B. Haggin wants it built as a starter for a new mining town on the Big Hole river at the junction of Camp creek.

The seventh annual convention of the California State Miners' Association will be held in San Francisco November 21st. So far but few county delegations have been named.

The electric power plant at the Homeward Bound shaft and pump of the Omaha mine at Grass Valley, Cal., was put in operation last Saturday and works successfully.

It will be forty years next January since gold was discovered in Colorado. Since then gold to the aggregate of three hundred million dollars has been mined. Since the gold discovery of '48 California's gold output aggregates thirteen hundred million dollars.

It is locally reported that the Allison Ranch mine, Grass Valley, Cal., will install electricity so soon as the power company has completed the two generators in process of being placed. This mine will then be equipped with electric, steam and water powers, so arranged that all can be used with a combined force, or any one independent of the others. It is maintained that this is the only plant of its kind in existence.

Gratifying Success of the Heinrichs Recital.

Another Performance to Be Given Wednesday Afternoon.

MRS. CUSHMAN TO SING AGAIN.

Close of the Present Series of the Enjoyable Hughes Concerts Tuesday.

A more delightful recital, than that given by Mr. and Mrs. Max Heinrich and their daughter, Miss Julia, it has not been my pleasure to hear in this city. The audience, though not so large as it should have been, was intensely enthusiastic and showed its appreciation of the work done by the artists. Mr. Heinrich is the greatest master of song and accompaniments I have ever listened to, not excepting Mr. Henschel, whom we were all delighted with last year. A certain charm pervades everything Mr. Heinrich does. He casts a spell over his audience that is irresistible. He looks, too, the master he is, and, in the delivery of his text, no matter in what language, he shows his intellectual grasp. His singing is full of moods. It may be that of the jolly, rollicking mood with which he sways his listeners, or it may be the solemn, religious mood of the sanctuary. His audience is one moment carried to the very verge of tears, but Mr. Heinrich does not let us have time to wipe them away he does it with his songs. Therein lies one of his great charms as an artist. He arranges his programs to suit and change the moods of his audience. It is in this respect he excels Mr. Henschel. As an interpreter of classical German songs, Mr. Heinrich cannot be surpassed. His accompaniments are models of good taste, and there is a delicacy and refinement about the whole performance which is indescribably charming. The contrast was noticeable in his playing of the "Erl King," by Schubert, which was masterful in its composition and rendition, and the humor of the accompaniment to the Chinese song.

The singing of the "Erl King" greatly appealed to me. His reading of this wonderful song is free from effort or exaggeration, but he succeeds in bringing the individual characters before the listener in a remarkable manner.

The "Erl King," the father and the child have their respective tone colors, and the entire song is in truth a triumph of vocal art. In response to an enthusiastic encore, Heinrich gave Schubert's "Two Grenadiers."

Mrs. Heinrich is a charming voculist, with a pure, sweet soprano voice. Technically her work is without a flaw, and she sings with perfect tate and expression.

Miss Heinrich has a voice of uncommon richness and purity and her work, Thursday evening, shows she has a great future.

William A. Fine who is managing the tour of the Heinrichs, has announced a recital for next Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock in the Unitarian Church and no one should miss the opportunity of being present.

Tonight Sherman, Clay & Co. will give a concert in their ware rooms, corner of Thirteenth street and Broadway, to the public. On this occasion Fachutar's mandolin and guitar orchestra will be heard in this city for the first time, and as this organization of artists has an established reputation, a great treat is in store for all who attend.

The public is most cordially invited to avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing such good music.

The Scalchi operatic tour began at Carnegie Hall, Pittsburg, last week. The company consists of Sofia Scalchi, Helene Noldi, Codurri Canzio, Achille Alberti and Walter A. Pick. G. C. Dent will conduct the tour, which will probably extend to this coast.

* * *

Pearl Ladd, California's youngest and most talented pianiste and dramatic reader, gave an entertainment Thursday evening at Sherman, Clay and Co.'s Hall, San Francisco. The little artist was well received and was warmly applauded. She was assisted by Senorita Matilda and the Lombardero String Quartette.

* * *

Mrs. Olive Reed-Cushman gave her San Francisco concert last Friday evening at the Century Club rooms. She was assisted by Mrs. Marie Gutterson, pianist; Lewellyn Hughes violinist; and Clarence Wendell, tenor. Mrs. Cushman will sing in Sacramento and Stockton soon and leave for New York November 1st.

The last concert of the present series of concerts by the Hughes Club was given in the Unitarian Church last Tuesday evening and was well attended. The soloists from the club were Miss Georgia Cope, Mrs. F. A. Wasley, Miss Nina Martin and Mrs. Carrie Brown Dexter. Arthur Weiss, the talented 'cellist, also appeared, rendering two numbers in a most pleasing manner. The question of another series of concerts is still under consideration.

* * *

Mrs. Alfred Abbey of San Francisco sang "Oh, Swallows Flying South" (Arthur Foote), "A Red, Red Rose" (Hastings) and "La Mort de Jeanne d'Arc" (Bembery) at the first concert of the third season of the Capital Concert Series in Sacramento last night. Her rich soprano voice was heard to great advantage in these selections, and she received much applause. Others who took part were Madame Marquardt, the distinguished harpist, Olive Reed Cushman, R. C. Newell and Andrew Bogart.

MR. AND MRS. MAX HEINRICH, AND JULIA HEINRICH.

The Joke That Failed.

"I suppose you know," said Brown, "that Smith is an inveterate joker. He never seems to be happy unless he is getting off some of his wretched jokes upon his friends. He has just passed through an experience that may subdue him, if, indeed, it does not break him entirely of the habit of joking.

"Last month Smith and Jones went up north on a combined hunting and fishing trip. Smith is a crank on fishing, but cares nothing for hunting, while on the other hand Jones goes in for hunting and fails to see where the fun comes in from holding a fishing rod all day long.

"Jones' sole ambition on the trip was to kill a bear. He said so much about it that Smith conceived one of his practical jokes and proceeded to put it into effect. Borrowing an old bear's skin and using a few pieces of rotten leg, he managed to shape an object that from a distance somewhat resembled a bear. Then he casually remarked to Jones that while fishing he had noticed some bear tracks.

"This excited Jones, who immediately insisted that Smith should point out the spot. Nothing loth, Smith led the way to the spot where he had prepared the dummy, and then gave way to Jones, who moved cautiously forward.

"Suddenly Jones threw his gun to his shoulder and fired, then dropped his gun and fled, yelling for Smith to do likewise.

"Smith roared with laughter at the success of his ruse, and might have been laughing yet had he not been startled by a heavy chasing in the underbrush near him. Then he gasped. It didn't matter what Jones had fired at, there was a sure enough bear coming, and it was headed directly for Smith.

"Smith managed to reach a tree, with only the loss of his coat tails, where he remained until rescued four hours later by Jones and an excited crowd of campers."—Detroit Free Press.

A Trying Experience.

At Honolulu recently the Princess Kaiulani gave the United States Commissioners a dinner, at which nearly two hundred Honolulu society people were present, as well as naval and army officers. All classes were represented—natives, whites and half-castes. The principal dish of the dinner was poi, a sort of mush made of taro root, served in bowls and eaten with the fingers. Senator Cullom and the Princess sat side by side, and a bowl of poi was served to them in common, as is customary. The Senator did not understand the arrangement, and asked:

"Princess, where is your poi?"

"There," said she, pointing to the bowl.

"But where is mine?" he continued.

"The same as mine," said the Princess, and they both began eating poi from the same bowl, dipping it with the first and second fingers of the right hand, as all the others were doing. It was a trying experience, but Mrs. Cullom sat on the opposite side of the table to see that it was passed without danger.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Wanted His Son to Marry for Money

"It is exceedingly simple," said Lord Mount Michael. "I have not the remotest idea of coercing you, as you call it. It would be far too fatiguing. I leave you perfectly free to do exactly as you like. Only if you run directly counter to my wishes, really you have no right to expect me to accede to yours."

"All that I ask is that you will continue my allowance," said Charles Radford, earnestly. "I have made a good beginning, as you know, at the bar, and the mere fact of deviling for Shuttleworth is an excellent thing for a young man. But at present the pay is in no proportion at all to the work. If you will continue my allowance until I make the same amount myself, then I can marry Lena and you would soon be quit of all expense for me."

"I am always frank," said his father, "It is always so much better to be so. Then there can be no mistake on either side. You are a younger son. A younger son ought to marry money; above all, if he marries young, he must marry money. Otherwise his descendants in the second generation will be clerks and governesses ad infinitum, not to mention the fact that he will lead a dog's life trying to maintain his position on a wholly inadequate income. Now, I gave you your allowance distinctly as a speculation, as it were. It was to help you to get comfortably settled. In return for this expenditure I calculated to land a fortune—vicariously. Well, now it seems that not only have you not caught the fortune—though it is there waiting for you—but you are actually insane enough to wish to marry a penniless girl. Do so if you like—I recognize your right there—but, on the other hand, I stop your allowance, whether you recognize my right or not."

"Father," said the young man in an appealing voice, "I love Lena. Have you never been in love yourself?"

"Oh, heavens!" said his father, testily. "What does it matter? Well, then, if you will have it—I was—I loved your dear mother—she had hardly a penny. I was told I ought to marry money, but I had just succeeded and was headstrong. Well, we were married. I loaded with my predecessor's incumbrances; she, with three hundred a year. How I loved her!" he rose and paced uneasily about the room—"and to think that in a few months after her death—Heaven forgive me!—it actually seemed to me a fortunate release, because then I could marry—my second wife—and with her money raise the family from the slough in which it had sunk. You know that we owe everything to her. It's clean ridiculous," said Lord Mount Michael, relapsing into a slight brogue—a habit of his when roused to emotion. "If I were to be idiot enough to give in, your stepmother would never consent, and how can I use her money contrary to her wishes?"

This was really an unanswerable argument, for Charles Radford knew that the only one of her husband's sons whom the second Lady Mount Michael had any real affection for was his elder brother, and he shrewdly suspected that the feeling in this case was centered more on the heir to the title than the individual personality?

"Will you let me speak to her?" he said, desperately.

"Speak to her by all means. Settle it with your stepmother, my boy, and let that be the final settlement," said Lord Mount Michael, quite recovering his good humor at the prospect of shifting the odium of delivering the coup de grace onto the shoulders of his partner, whom he did not care two straws about, though he held her in the highest respect for her fortune and the liberality with which she dealt with it.

Lady Mount Michael was a very decided woman. No doubt it was lucky for her that she was so.

"You are not my son," she said, "and I have no control over you. But I must tell you that I think what you propose is not merely foolish but is positively insane and wicked. You will have no countenance from me."

After this double defeat Charles Radford had a most miserable interview with little Lena Grey—a dear little girl with the prettiest nez retrousé, hair like threads of gold and a complexion that a duchess would give thousands to possess, but who, of course, was the daughter of a large-quivered ecclesiastic, and equally, of course, was without a penny or prospect. Charles had made her acquaintance at a garden party when staying with the Trevors. He had taken all the early obstacles in the course of true love at a gallop. The ecclesiastic would gladly have married his daughter to anyone who was able to provide the necessaries of life. To catch an "honorable" was unlooked-for luck. Proportionate, however, was the disappointment when Charles Radford, drinking to the dregs the cup of his humiliation, was obliged to report that his mission had ignominiously failed, and his own earnings for the past year amounted to thirty guineas.

The engagement must be broken off then and there, said the ecclesiastic, and was quite obdurate on the subject of writing and meeting it. It would never do for Lena to lose other chances while waiting for what might be a mare's nest. Marriage was her only possible provision in life.

"If you succeed in making a decent income I shall be happy to hear from you. In the meantime I regret that you were not more candid at the first."

And so, regardless of poor Lena's heartrending grief, Charles Radford was dismissed peremptorily.

"Since everybody is so sensible," thought Charles, bitterly. "I suppose the most sensible thing for me to do would be to blow out my brains." He did not commit this crowning folly, however.

Lady Mount Michael was a clever woman, and she soon guessed that the engagement was off. Charles' miserable face alone would have betrayed him, and the fact that he made no further reference to the subject was suspicious. It was also suggestive that he said no more about staying in London during August and September. "To work"—which, of course, would have meant going down to Lena's home for every week-end, and probably bicycling down to the same destination for the day at least once during the week. He threw out hints about going abroad, and finally, when it became evident that there was to be an exceptionally good grouse season, he decided to join his family at Haggishaw and revenge himself on the grouse for the knocks that fate had dealt him.

Lady Mount Michael said nothing about visitors of the fair sex. It was just to be a shooting party—one or two strange guns added to the men of the family. Of course it was natural that she should invite a lady or two as well for herself and her daughters, and if these additions to the circle did not happen to be all intimate friends, Charles would be none the wiser.

And so one day there was a fresh arrival in the shape of Mrs. Scarpont, the youthful widow of a very wealthy commercial person, who had amassed an enormous fortune out of old bones. Lady Mount Michael had made her acquaintance two months before and had cultivated her solely for the sake of Charles, but she received her as a dear and intimate friend.

"This is my stepson, Charles Radford," was her introduction. "You'll find him rather a bear. He does not care for the society of our sex."

Mrs. Scarpont was not a bit pretty. She was a plump little woman, with rather too much color and a pleasant, good humored expression. She looked "jolly," and she soon proved a great acquisition in the way of liveliness. She gave a hint of her capabilities by remarking, in reply to Lady Mount Michael, "Then he doesn't know when he has got a good thing," and took no further notice of the alleged misogynist, which in time piqued him—so curiously constituted is man.

Before Mrs. Scarpont had been in the house a couple of days, however, there happened one of those "unlucky accidents" that every clever woman can arrange if she gives her mind to it. The details don't matter. The point was that somebody must drive Mrs. Scarpont in her dog-cart, and it really seemed as if there was no one to do it but Charles.

"I am very sorry to be obliged to ask you," said Lady Mount Michael, "because I know you don't like her. But I can't arrange it any other way, and it would be rude to leave her behind."

"I don't dislike her. I don't know anything about her, except the very obvious fact that she can't bear me," said Charles with a touch of sullenness, "and that is scarcely calculated to make me adore her."

"Dear me, how silly people are!" laughed Lady Mount Michael. "Why, she really has a very high opinion of you—was saying the other day that she had heard of your cleverness at the bar—only as you never say a word to her, of course—. Not but what you have a perfect right to please yourself. But if you will be kind enough to do this you shan't be bothered again."

"I assure you I have no feeling on the subject. If she doesn't mind coming with me—"

"I am sure she will be delighted."

"Confound the woman!" was Charles' mental commentary.

"You are quite wrong," hinted Lady Mount Michael to Mrs. Scarpont. "It's only stupidity on his part. He thought you hated him."

Starting under these auspices both parties felt bound to make an effort, and as Mrs. Scarpont was really "jolly" it was only natural that the pair should arrive excellent friends.

After that they got on very well, and very soon Mrs. Scarpont found herself falling in love with Mr. Charles Radford. He was such a fine, manly young man, perhaps two years younger than herself—but she did not mind that at all—and likely to make a great name at the bar if properly pushed on by a clever woman. Moreover he would give her the rank and connection which she wanted.

As they grew confidential she began to advise him. By all means he should stick to Shuttleworth. No doubt it was hard doing so much work for no pay, but it was the best policy. One day she added, in a low voice and with a rather shamefaced expression:

"You should marry a rich woman—not too young, but a sensible one—who would help you and be devoted to you."

Now, Charles Radford was not in the least in love with her. He considered her a "jolly little woman," "a good fellow" and a lively companion. But, since he could not marry Lena—and the combination of both sets of parents rendered this absolutely impossible—perhaps on the whole it would be wisest to take her advice. It would make him independent of his stepmother, delight his father, help him on in his profession. And as a companion—apart from all considerations of love—he could think of none more satisfactory than the lady by his side.

His proposal was not romantically enthusiastic in language. If Mrs. Scarpont had been critical she might have objected that he did not profess enough. She was not, however. She had got what she wanted; she thought she could keep it, and she trusted to herself to turn his friendship into love after marriage.

Three months after their marriage there came a sudden telegram.

Charles Radford opened it and his face became ghastly. His wife, who was really devoted to him, cried out, and he passed the telegram. It said that Lord Mount Michael and his eldest son had both been drowned while yachting off the Irish coast.

"Then I am Lady Mount Michael," she said to herself with high glee, which, in decency, she strove to repress.

But the thought that flashed through the new peer's brain was:

"Tied to that woman for life—and if I had only waited a few months! Oh, heavens, Lena!"—London World.

Superabundance of Summer.

He watched the hastening honey bee;
He marked the song bird's flight;
He followed o'er the darkening lea
The flickering fireflies' light.

The wandering butterfly he chased
To shady nooks and cool,
Or gazed while water insects traced
Their paths across the pool.

But these pursuits grow dull at last;
The heart no longer clings
To fond allurements of the past;
It yearns for other things.

Now, heat oppressed, he longs to note
That sweet and frosty day
When he shall take his overcoat
And fright the moths away.

Notice to Contractors.

Office of the
Clerk of the Board of Supervisors,
Oakland, Cal., Oct. 3rd 1898.

Pursuant to an order of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county, California, notice is hereby given that the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors will, at his office in the Hall of Records in the city of Oakland, up to the hour of 10 A. M., on the 7th day of November, 1898, receive bids for the construction of a bridge crossing the Estuary of San Antonio on the line of Webster street, between Oakland and Alameda, in accordance with plans and specifications on file in said office, subject to the inspection of persons desiring to bid.

Each bid must include as a single proposal both the removal of the foundations and superstructure of the old bridge and the construction of the new bridge, with the foundations and superstructure.

Each bid must be accompanied by a check certified by some responsible bank in the State of California, for 10 per cent of the amount of the bid, made payable to Frank C. Jordan, Clerk of the Board; the check so deposited by the successful bidder to be forfeited as liquidated damages unless such bidder, within ten days after the award, enter into a contract in due form for the performance of the work within six months after the execution of said contract, and furnish a bond with sureties, satisfactory to the Board, conditioned for the faithful performance of such contract.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

(Seal) FRANK C. JORDAN,
Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Alameda county, State of California.

NOTICE TO PENSIONERS.

By reason of instructions recently received from the Commissioner of Pensions, it will be necessary hereafter, when appearing at this office to swear to pension vouchers, for all pensioners to exhibit their certificates and produce witnesses who are cognizant of the facts to which they testify.

In the future no county will be permitted to act as a witness.

FRANK C. JORDAN,
County Clerk Alameda County.

MARK TWAIN IN EARLY DAYS.

Old Man Hearst, the veteran prospector, who was Mark Twain's partner in the days of long ago, when the material of "Roughing It" was gathered, came into the broken silver camp of Kingston, N. M., recently. He was immediately and hastily preceded by Johnny Corkscrew, aged 30 years, the most dishonest burro that ever wore a pack saddle. Old Man Hearst is working a claim on the other side of the Black range, in the Carpenter district, where he says he has a fortune waiting for "some Eastern gent with a few thousands to open the richest proposition that was ever staked out with rock piles and recorded in a tomato can."

As usual, the old man announced his shame at having to mingle with "busted hold-ups and tin-horn gamblers," who now make up the chief part of this ruined camp, announcing profanely and boldly that an empty grub box was the sole justification he could plead for the presence of Johnny Corkscrew and himself. It is this prospector's habit to take up a brief residence in one of the deserted houses, start a dignified drunk, pack Johnny with bacon, flour, and baking powder, and depart at the end of one week to the exact hour, returning to the tunnel he is running, to display the glories of his vein to some "Eastern gent" with thousands.

Hearst marched into the Hole-in-the-Wall saloon and called for a drink, while the burro failed in his attempt to chew a sliver-mounted sombrero from the head of a sleeping Mexican and wandered to "the store" to see if he could pick up a stray bacon rind.

"Out of which bottle?" asked Bud Goings, the barkeeper, turning toward a row of bottles with well-known labels on them.

'Don't throw any such bluff at me, Bud," replied the old man, reproachfully. "It all comes from the same barrel of vitriol. Keep your labels for the greasers." He turned to survey the poker game that was going on as usual in the back part of the saloon. "Bud," he remarked, "I don't seem to savvy the gent who has just told Terrible Watson he will chew his heart out. It sounds all right, but that young man don't look like a citizen of this rotten camp."

"That's only his trying to talk fashionable," replied the barkep. "He's a newspaper man from back East, and he's got lungs."

Old Man Hearst began to smile and beam.

"Don't shout no such shouts at me, Bud," he whispered, hoarsely. "If he's a newspaper man it's drink that's the matter. I know, for the best partner I ever had was a newspaper man, and I've warmed to the breed ever since, though I've never seen Sam's like again."

He strode to the table, leaned over the strange young man, and said cordially.

"Don't never get discouraged, but put water in it and you'll get all right. I naturally loves you because years ago back in Nevada my side pardner was a newspaper man. Sam was his name, Sam L. Clemens. You in the East all call him Mark Twain, but when I saw him in 'Frisco four years ago he rared because I called him Mr. Twain.

"'Hell, George,' he says, quick, 'wha sort of a play do you call that to make on a man who has chewed your bacon and slept in your blankets? I'm Sam Clemens yet, though I wear a boiled shirt solely out of deference to an effete public opinion.'"

"Where did you know Mark Twain?" asked the newspaper man, deserting the game for what promised to be an interesting chat.

"It was years ago, when Sam and I were pardners in prospecting back in Virginia City, Nev. Sam also acted as correspondent for the old Sacramento Union and for a daily in San Francisco. I forget its name. He had drifted into Nevada, with the idea that some one might take him for the Almighty, but they didn't, so he divided his time between mines and writing for the papers. Mines were booming then, and the papers gave Nevada most as much attention as they now give to these mushy Klondike yarns. On paper we all were richer than rustlers, but we most generally owed for our grub. There were two other newspaper men in camp besides Sam Clemens—Petey Dickinson, now an editor in New York, and Dan de Quill, whose real name was Brown. The last yell I heard from Dan he was editor of a paper in Salt Lake City.

NO USE FOR COLD FACTS.

"They were grand liars, all of 'em, but Sam was head hoss. They used to get together and lay for returning prospectors in Billy Fair's saloon. Here they three would sort of assay up the tips the prospectors gave them and stake it out so that each paper could prove up by the others. It was beautiful to see how loyal they were to each other in distributing ideas. Facts might be few, but, as Sam would say, 'What of it?'

"'No, George,' Sam says to me when I reproached him about their lack of reverence for the majesty of truth, 'I may not wear the white flower of a blameless life, but I sure send down copy that makes my salary look piteously small and weak and emaciated beside the grandeur of my stories. Were it not that I have just bought what I can prove to be one of the richest gold mines in the world for $2 and a ham, I could not afford to let Billy Fair support me thus splendidly.'

TWAIN'S SALT DEER YARN.

"One day I came in from a long prospecting trip to find the boys laying for me at the 'Open Barrel.' I had made no strike and was warming up my brain to recollect something the boys might write about when I remembered how I had come upon a swamp down in a valley where the soil was pure salt and the deer had worn deep hollows by hundreds of years of licking and pawing. Sam said it was a cursed small recollect for five drinks, but he clinched his fingers to a pencil at once, having doubts as to his memory under existing circumstances. 'I don't want to lose one bare, stern fact of this marvelous story,' says he. 'You are sure you do not magnify the facts, George? I like to feel I can rely on the integrity of one man in this wicked camp.'

"Next week I got Sam's paper from 'Frisco and I saw the story. It told how the correspondent of the Union had been risking his life scouting in the mountains, that the Union might warn its readers if the Injuns were painting themselves. In his wanderings the correspondent had chanced upon a snow-white and glistening deer. The buck was standing in a group of does, who were licking the snowy coat with grunts of delight. The story went on to tell how Sam had shot the deer, discovering on closer inspection that the buck's hide was coated two inches thick with salt. Sam followed a deeply worn deer trail, till he came to the marsh of pure salt, shining in the sun like a field of snow. From wallows in the marsh he could see that buck of that region were in the habit of coating themselves with salt by rolling in the sticky substance, letting it become hard in the sun and offering themselves to the females as a dude offers a box of candy to the ladies he calls upon.

JUST A FEW EMBELLISHMENTS.

"That wasn't all of Sam's rigid adherence to the truth, for he galloped his pen along to tell how in prodding around he had found three human bodies that had been pickled in the brine for centuries. Sam wrote that they were bodies of members of some dod-rotted race who lived eighty centuries before the Indians jumped Nevada for thir own. 'Yet,' says Sam, 'so perfect had been the action of the salt that not one line on their noble faces had been effaced by the fingers of 10,000 years.' The bodies were of two young men and 'a girl of marvelous beauty.' Sam always made his girls pretty, being a little soft that way. Love had evidently brought about another of the tragedies that old time used so unsuccessfully as examples. The two young rivals had spears in their necks and glaring hate in their eyes, while the maid had plainly died of a broken heart, clinging to the manly form of the warrior with a wart on his chin. 'Thus does the God of Nature record the sins of past generations, making the simplicity of truth more impressive than the most skillful tale of fiction.'

"'Say, Sam,' says I, 'this is sure a startler. I thought your system was to play only facts this game.'

"'Well,' says Sam, 'those facts were so good that old Bowers gave me double space rates. The trouble with you is that you don't avoid monotony in your facts. You don't discriminate, George. The gray matter in your head is as coarse as a gravel bank. As a journalist, George, you wouldn't last any longer than a clean shirt in a fight. What you really need is to have me tell your stories for you. Then you'll have a brilliant reputation, old man. Then you'll be a narrator of note.'

HIS IMAGINATION WAS VIVID.

"Another time Sam and I discovered a little gold in a place called Lawson Flats. The fact was there was no wood there, not enough to make a riding switch. I told Sam to emphasize the lack of wood in his article, so as to scare prospectors away and leave Lawson Flats to us, but when I saw his paper I read as how the cottonwoods waved their great arms by the rippling brooks, and groves of pinons sighed on the hills about Lawson Flats. All the riff-raff of the camp made for such an attractive diggings. When I reproached Sam with perfidy, he says, airily:

"'Now, George, we both may be forced to admit that the Almighty slipped up now and then when he made scenery, having a good deal to make in a free-hand, sketchy sort of a way, but you can't say that Sam Clemens is backward when he is called upon to piece out a job or two that the Creator left unfinished. If there is anything I pride myself upon, it is being neat and thorough. Shame on you, George Hearst,' says he, reproachful a-plenty.

"Several times the newspaper outfit joined me in prospecting, but we never made any strikes. Yet Sam was a keen judge of ore, and could tell a heap from the general lay of the land. Sam used to say that the reason he did not strike it rich was because he tried to use his alleged brains instead of playing just simple fool luck, as a wise man snould do. Once Petey Dickinson, Brown, Sam and I were off with a wagon outfit. We made such a long trip of it that chuck got low, and we were on short rations when we drove up to a stone ranch-house kept by a Missouri family. When Sam savvied they was from Missouri nothing would do but that we foregather with them around the festal board.

THEY GOT "MISSOURI" PANCAKES.

"'It only demands six bits each,' says he, 'and what is six bits compared with the moral uplift of genteel Missouri society, not to mention the escape from the sorrow of the cooking of this George Hearst? Let's put up the dust and buy a reminiscence that will wear for years.'

"So we goes in, and Sam, finding two pretty daughters, gets gay and jovial like the corn-fed gent he was. It was a good supper; fried chickens and new eggs, by thunder! That family never saved no fortune out of our six bits that trip. Sam Clemens kept throwing bluffs about how he would recognize Missouri cooking if he should meet it at Delmonico's, until the girls snickered and brought in what they called Missouri batter cakes for Sam. Sam nearly cried with joy.

"'Gentlemen,' says he, 'dear old Missouri may not be the mother of Presidents, but she never has lost the proud title of mother of pancakes. I'm grieved, gentlemen, that the power of prophecy has been denied me, or I'd not have rented any of the floors of my stomach to mere chicken when I might have been dickering with Missouri pancakes.'

"He reached for a big, white cake and started in. We saw him pause, look sorrowful a-plenty and leave the table, while the girls nearly choked with giggles. Those cakes were cottonwood chips fried in batter. Sam tried to break even by writing up the ranch and describing the girls as cross-eyed, but the last time I saw him in 'Frisco he said he never really got over being hungry for what he thought he was going to get that day. Sam Clemens never forgets a friend, though. I haven't seen Dan or Petey since they pulled out from Nevada, but Sam has sent me his books, and was sure glad to see me four years ago in 'Frisco.

"So put water in it, and you'll come out all right," concluded the old man, as he went back to the bar to begin the business of the week.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

EQUAL AND EXACT JUSTICE FOR ALL.

John Hackett's Address to the Voters of Alameda County.

Captain John Hackett, candidate for County Assessor, has issued an address to citizens, outlining his position and declaring for "equal and exact justice to all." The statement is as follows:

"To the Electors of Alameda County, Gentlemen:—I address you as an Independent candidate for the office of Assessor. The position I seek at your hands is one of importance, dealing as it does directly with the individual interests of each and every owner of taxable property. Hence it is that in the selection of your County Assessor for the ensuing four years it becomes every man, before casting his vote, to calmly and impartially consider the merits and qualifications of the different candidates for that office.

"He who would faithfully and efficiently discharge the duties of an Assessor must bring to his task tireless energy and unfaltering conscientiousness combined with an unswerving purpose to turn neither to the right nor to the left; to know neither friend nor foe; to obey the law and to have but one law for all men. His maxim must be 'Equal justice for all; special privileges to none.' He must recognize, and his official acts must exemplify, an exact equality toward all with whom he comes in contact, as the sworn servant of the people. He must not add a straw's weight to one that he may favor another. There must be no discrimination for or against. He must feel that when each one bears his just proportion the load is yet heavy.

"These are my convictions as to the duties of an Assessor and the line of policy which I think he should pursue to fairly and equitably discharge those duties, and should I be chosen to the position I seek, my utmost endeavor will be to follow as closely as possible what I believe to be my duty under the law and to the people. In many counties the charge is made, with, perhaps, more or less foundation in fact, that, through political or other influences, the burden of taxation is unevenly distributed; that the many bear more than their just proportion. To what extent this wrong prevails, I am without reliable information. If it prevails in the slightest degree anywhere it is an evil that should nowhere be permitted. The mere shadow of discrimination in favor of or against the property owner in the matter of assessment is in violation of the intent and spirit of the law and a departure from those principles of justice which should govern the official acts of the man in whom his fellow citizens repose trust and confidence.

"The official who can apply to the duties of his office the rules by which he has successfully conducted his private business gives substantial assurance of the exercise of a degree of methodical action and economical management, for which he deserves, and, I believe, as a rule, receives the commendation of those whose interests he thereby protects. If the majority of the electors of this county believe I will apply these rules to the conducting of the office of Assessor, I shall, of course, be elected, and it will be my duty as well as my ambition to so perform my task that at the close of my stewardship no one will have cause to feel that his measure of expectation has not been realized.

"I am before you as an Independent candidate, untrammeled and unpledged. I have no promises to redeem and no pledges to swerve me from the line of my whole duty to the people. If my expectations are realized, I shall enter upon my official career with kindly feeling for all, with malice toward none. It shall be my aim and purpose to apply the rules of fairness and equality alike to all.

"Trusting and believing that you will give my application for your suffrage the candid consideration due from man to man, I remain,

"Very respectfully yours,

"JOHN HACKETT."

TRUSTEES' SALE.

In accordance with the terms and under the authority of a certain deed of trust, duly executed by John E. Landgren, Ellen E. Landgren, John L. Cooke and Eliza A. Cooke, the parties of the first part, to Ferdinand Reis Jr. and William S. Pardy, the parties of the second part, and the Pacific States Savings, Loan and Building Company, a corporation duly organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of California, the party of the third part, which said deed of trust is dated the 15th day of January, A. D., 1897, and was thereafter duly acknowledged so as to entitle it to be recorded, and the same was afterwards, to-wit, on the 28th day of January, A. D., 1897, at forty minutes past ten o'clock A. M., duly recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Alameda, State of California, in book 636 of Deeds, at page 18; and in pursuance of a resolution passed on the 27th day of September, A. D., 1898, by the Board of Directors of said Pacific States Savings, Loan and Building Company, a corporation, which said corporation is the owner and holder of that certain promissory note (No. 1271) executed and delivered to said Pacific States Savings, Loan and Building Company, a corporation, by said John E. Landgren, Ellen E. Landgren, John L. Cooke and Eliza A. Cooke, to secure the payment of which promissory note the aforesaid deed of trust was executed, which said resolution declared that default had been made in the payment of the principal sum and other sums due under said note and deed of trust, and that said default had continued for the space of more than six months, and requested and directed said Ferdinand Reis Jr. and William S. Pardy, trustees, to sell the real estate described therein to satisfy said indebtedness:—

We, Ferdinand Reis Jr. and William S. Pardy, do hereby give notice that on Monday, the 31st day of October, 1898, at 12 o'clock noon of said day, at the office of Robert J. Mercer, a duly authorized auctioneer, situate at No. 412 Pine street, in the city and county of San Francisco, State of California, we will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash in United States gold coin, all that certain piece or parcel of land situate in Brooklyn township, county of Alameda, State of California, described as follows, to-wit:

Commencing at a point on the southwestern line of Putnam street distant thereon one hundred (100) feet southeasterly from the southeastern line of Fruitvale avenue, and running thence southeasterly along the said line of Putnam street twenty-five (25) feet, thence at a right angle southwesterly seventy-three 5-10 (73 5-10) feet to the northeastern line of the strip traversed by the California Railway, thence northwesterly thereon twenty-five 36-100 (25 36-100) feet and thence northeasterly sixty-nine 2-10 (69 2-10) feet to the place of beginning; being lot No. 2 in block No. 751 as the same is shown and designated on the plat entitled "Map of Syndicate Investment Company's Subdivision of Blocks Nos. 751, 752, 753, 754, 769 and 770 of the Levy and Lane Tract, Fruitvale, Alameda County, California," filed 11th January, 1894, in the office of the County Recorder of said Alameda county, which said map and the record thereof are hereby referred to and made a part hereof.

And also all the estate and interest, homestead and other claim or demand, as well in law as in equity which the said parties of the second part now have, by virtue of said deed of trust, in and to the said premises, with the appurtenances.

Terms of sale—Cash in gold coin of United States; ten per cent payable to the undersigned on the fall of the hammer; balance on delivery of deed, and if not so paid, unless for want of title (ten days being allowed for search) the said ten per cent to be forfeited and the sale to be void.

Acts of sale at purchaser's expense.
